

18th Century Georgian Bell from the Robert Wells Foundry

Advert for Robert Wells, Bell Founder

At the BELL-FOUNDRY at Aldbourne, Wilts., CHURCH BELLS are cast in a more elegant and as musical manner as in any part of the Kingdom, the Founder having made the Theory of Sounds, as well as the Nature of Metal, his chief Study; also hangs the fame, finding all Materials, is the most complete and concise Manner. And also, Hand-Bells, prepared strictly in Tune, in any Key; Hand-Bells, Clock and Room Bells, the neatest of their several Kinds: Likewise Mill Brasses cast, and sold at the lowest prices.

All orders will be professionally observed by

ROB. WELLS, Founder.

He gives Ready Money and the best prices for Bell Metal.

Marlborough Journal, 6 June 1772