EDITORIAL

The summer holidays are almost over and may seem a distant memory. They are to me as if it was a few years ago! The weather in late July and much of August has been pretty damp having had such good weather in the early part of July. Nevertheless I hope all the children had a good time and that the parents are not too exhausted.

Various local events have come and gone, so I hope you had a chance to enjoy them. Please read about some of them in the Newsletter. Do tell us about your event if you have one.

World events have not been quite so tumultuous during the early part of the holiday compared with earlier in the summer. I wonder if that has anything to do with the fact that politicians are on their holidays too! Long may that continue.

If you have ever thought of writing an article, doing a book review or sending in a photograph to the editors, please do. We are always looking for new material to continue to make the Newsletter as interesting as possible. All we ask is that it is not more than 300 words or so. The editors do reserve the right to edit or decline a piece but we only do the latter very rarely!

If any of you are interested in doing some editing, compiling, joining the committee of the Newsletter or helping in any way, do be in touch. It is important that those of us who have been involved for over 4 years do not become either stale or out of touch!

All contributions must sent to editor@bremhill.com by the 13th of the month.

David Stevens

We have received a poem from an individual and are keen to track the owner/originator if you think this might be you please contact the editor.

SPECIAL NOTICES

BONFIRE NIGHT

Sunday 5th November

This year the Bremhill annual bonfire and fireworks display night will be on Sunday, 5 November.

If you have the time, do come along on a Sunday morning in October, starting on the 8th, to help build the bonfire - all part of the great community get together this event creates. Please contact Colin Pearson on 07770 925899 for more details. We are also looking for volunteers to help with the food & drinks stalls, raffle, etc, so please put your name in the hat to help.

FIGS

September's FIGS (Monday 11th) is at Chipping Sodbury Golf Course - £30 for Bacon Roll, Coffee and 18 Holes of golf. Meet at 9.30, play from 10.30.

RURAL ARTS TOURING "OPERA DUDES"

Bremhill Village Hall - Friday, 24th November, 2017 at 7.30 pm

Just read some of the reviews about the Opera Dudes:

"Wonderful singing and a laugh a minute"

"These guys should be on prescription"

"Wonderful voices and laughed until I had tears running down my face"

"I just have to let you know that my husband and I have NEVER enjoyed a night out as much. We laughed till we cried. You should carry a health warning!"

Put the date in your diary now

CHURCH BELLS

Bremhill church bells will be rung by visitors on Thursday, 5th October from 11.30 am - 12.15

Ken Webb 760682

THANK YOU

Thanks again from Nancy, Carole and Mark

Dear Friends, Thank you to everyone who has supported us over these last few weeks. It was amazing to see how many people were in the church and thank you so much for your generous donations. It was a great comfort to us to see you all and to hear so many special memories of Derek.

Thank you all again.

Nancy, Carole and Mark

PS The total collection at Derek's Memorial Service was £1120. It was shared between Kingston House and Bremhill Church.

COFFEE AND CAKE IN TYTHERTON VILLAGE HALL

Viv and I have really enjoyed holding this event in our hall from mid-May. We are thrilled by the support we have had and especially from the folk from Bremhill. We have raised about £350 profit for the village hall, mainly because all our baking is donated. It has made us realise how hard others work providing similar events at other locations during the year. Our little group of girls are looking forward to a well deserved break from September.

Sheila Laurence

TOWN HALL MOVIOLA

Summer is nearly over, autumn will soon be here and we are starting off a new year of films with 'Viceroy's House' (12a), starring Hugh Bonneville and Gillian Anderson. The final Governor of India, Lord Mountbatten, is tasked with overseeing the transition of British India to Independence, but meets with conflict as different sides clash in the face of monumental change. Perhaps our regulars can persuade some younger ones to come along and see a bit of important British history.

Showing in Calne Town Hall on Weds 20th Sept.at 7.30. Doors open at 7.00 pm. Refreshments available. Tickets £6.00 from the Info centre or on the door.

TYTHERTON W.I.

On September 20th, on a return visit to our W I, Dan Allen of the Victorian Military Society, gives a talk entitled "What Did You Do in the War, Granny?". We are sure this will prove as entertaining and interesting as his talk to us last year.

Before this, on Saturday 16th September. we are having our usual Cakes and Produce Stall at Foxham Horse show.

Our meetings are held on the 3rd Wednesday of every month, except August, at 7.30 pm in Tytherton Village Hall. If you would like to come for a 'taster' evening you are very welcome - we are a friendly bunch, with members from several of the local villages and Chippenham. Just come along or for further information ring our Secretary Rose on 07514 538551.

GARDEN NOTES FOR SEPTEMBER

Continue to dead head Dahlias and Cosmia, but leave a few heads to go to seed. Transplant or plant out seeding Foxgloves in flower position. Cut back perennials which are looking tatty; however these stems and seed heads do provide shelter for wildlife over the winter. This is a good time to divide Alchemilla to rejuvenate old clumps. Spring bulbs are now available to plant.

Autumn Raspberries are a real treat and usually at their best in September. Harvest runner beans regularly. Prop up pumpkins on a slate so they can ripen in the sun. When foliage on Asparagus starts to turn yellow, cut back to 2-3 cms. Put foliage on the compost, tickle the soil around the plants and add compost to the area. Some apples will be ripe so pick before they drop. Plant new strawberry runners for great fruit next year.

This is a good time to erect a bug house or wildlife stack for creatures to over-winter in. Take a look online for suggestions as to how to make one. Beware, Vine Weevils are very active over the next few months. Water in biological nematodes before the weather gets cold. The weevils prefer to live in pots so it is easier to use the nematodes on them.

CHARLES RODWELL

Painter in Charlcutt

For the last 25 years Charles has looked out of his hill-top studio at Charlcutt and felt compelled to paint views of the everchanging seasonal light on the pattern of fields in the valley below him. That said, his figurative painting and drawing style has also been shaped by his travels across the globe.

Having trained at The Slade, University College London, gaining a Diploma in Fine Art, he packed his art materials and a small tent in a rucksack to set off for a 20 month adventure into the creative unknown. The 'Mardi Gras' in New Orleans, tribal art in Tahiti, the vast open landscapes in Australia and the bustling 24 hr. street markets in Kowloon, Hong Kong were all catalysts to get him painting the vivid canvasses of life as it unfolded on his travels.

By complete contrast Charles put down some roots in Wiltshire by renting a tiny idyllic cottage in Savernake Forest. After 2 years he moved to bigger (and warmer!) premises in Marlborough High Street where he established a studio/gallery combining sales of his work to local clients with visits to Hong Kong and the West Coast of Scotland to promote his work through exhibitions.

Recording the landscapes and way of life in different areas of the world led him to a fascination with the colours, atmosphere and people of India and Sri Lanka. Subject matter which he still pursues to this day when he accompanies and mentors groups of artists to these exotic places.

His success as a painter has been celebrated through many one man shows in London Galleries and he has exhibited at the Royal Watercolour Society, the Royal Institute of Painters in Watercolour and the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition to name but a few. An established and time-honoured career path one might think, but this would set Charles nodding in agreement as he steeps himself in the traditional values and the real craft of painting and drawing. His watercolours are influenced by studying Turner and Cotman, his oils influenced by the works of Constable and Cezanne. Add into the mix his own heightened awareness of colour and love of 'plein air' painting and you'll understand why his works feature in so many private collections.

BREMHILL HOME PRODUCE AND GARDEN SHOW

Saturday 2nd September 2017

Bremhill show is nearly here, for the schedule, notes, entry form and recipes (for the cookery classes) can be found at www.bremhill.com/show. Please download what you need and give them to anyone who may not be able to download their own. Paper copies are also in the hall porch in a folder.

Take your entry form to June Hughes at 17a Bremhill, behind the area where plants are for sale in the centre of the village. Any problems call 01249 661369.

Derek's Cup

Big announcement, hot off the press. Nancy Kyte is going to give a new cup to Bremhill village show in memory of her husband Derek, who recently passed away. Derek was an amazing gardener who was especially good at growing vegetables. The quality and size of his onions were even praised at his memorial service! Find out about what this cup will be awarded for, and who will be the first winner when you come along to the Show.

The school holidays start at the end of the month and it is great when children get involved by entering the show. They do not need to enter just the children's classes, they can enter any class. Last year we had some brilliant art work and also show-stopping cakes.

Time of events during the day

- | | |
|----------------|---|
| 8 am to 10 am | Bring entries to the hall. Make sure you have enough time (especially if you have any late entries). |
| 10.00 am | Doors are closed and judging takes place. |
| 2.30 pm | Doors open to view the entries. Tea, coffee and cakes. Afternoon activities. |
| 4 pm - 4.30 pm | An announcement will be made to collect any entries to the show that entrants want to keep. |
| Apr. 4.30 pm | Presentation of cups and prizes. |
| Apr. 5.00 pm | Auction of vegetables , fruit, jams cakes etc. which were entered into the show. (Some great prize-winning items). Proceeds will go to Bremhill Village Hall. |

SWISS ROLL RECIPE

(For Bremhill Produce Show maybe?)

This recipe has been taken from my school exercise book - I wrote it for my homework in about 1966! It is very detailed, and makes quite amusing reading. You will have to change the weights and oven temperature into metric if you wish!

- 2 eggs
- 2 oz self-raising flour
- 3 oz caster sugar
- If chocolate flavoured, replace $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce flour with cocoa

Put the oven on at Mark 6 (425F). Grease a Swiss roll tin and put in greaseproof paper, slit the paper for about 1 inch in the corners, so that the Swiss roll will have square corners. Brush the greaseproof paper - sides, corners and bottom - with lard or cooking fat (for best results).

Break the eggs into a bowl and whisk slightly. Add the sugar (caster sugar is used because it is finer than granulated, so it mixes better). Whisk, standing the bowl over a saucepan of hot water - it introduces air and so makes the sponge light. Carry on mixing until it goes thick and paler in colour (fresh eggs are best because they whisk well because they have a lot of egg white). Take the hot water away and whisk until cool. The whisking is important because it makes the sponge light. Sift the flour and fold it in a little at a time with a metal spoon (do this gently so as not to let too much air out). If making chocolate Swiss roll, the flour and the cocoa should be sifted together several times previously to mix them and get rid of any streaks. When the flour has been folded in, the mixture should be a pourable consistency. Pour it into the tin, tilt the tin to let the mixture spread evenly. Put in the oven to cook for about 8 minutes. If it is cooked for too long, it goes crisp and won't roll properly. Have a piece of greaseproof paper ready, sprinkled with caster sugar, so the Swiss roll won't stick. If filling with jam and buttercream, spread the jam on now, then roll it up with another piece of greaseproof paper on the inside. To help start rolling the Swiss roll (which should be pliable) make a slight indentation about $\frac{3}{4}$ inch from the end. Roll from there. Make the butter icing and when quite cool, unroll the Swiss roll and spread it on.

Rosie

WELL-BEING FOR EVERY BODY

Though a healthy lifestyle should be a year-round thing, the pressure for looking fit and healthy is on high during the summer, as we spend more time in less clothing than in winter months. While getting into a healthy routine can be done simply enough at home, we're all on-the-go much more in the summer, considering the vacations and weekend getaways that inevitably happen. So I am sharing a few things to help you take advantage of summer months.

Eat more fruit and veg. Fresh seasonal fruits and vegetables are at their organic best in summer. Consume foods that are cooling and light in calories - fresh fruits, vegetable juices, raw vital salads will nourish your body for summertime activities. Also, fruit are more than 80 percent water, so grapes, watermelon, cantaloupe, and honeydew are a tasty way to replenish fluids and boost your energy.

Get outdoors. Our county is beautiful and exploring the great outdoors can be a helpful distraction to the chore of exercising. Even quick bursts of activity that we may not consider exercise can be fun ways to get outdoors, enjoy the sunshine and squeeze in some exercise-time in the process. And don't forget about vitamin D which our bodies can get from sunlight.

Stay hydrated. It is very important, especially in the summer months. No matter where you go or what you do, bring water with you. Our bodies can mis-read being de-hydrated for being hungry, leading to over consumption and weight gain. Also, when travelling on planes or to higher altitudes in general, the amount of oxygen in the air decreases, equating to dryer air and reduced body hydration. This can leave you with unhealthy food cravings, headaches and poor body awareness from fatigue.

Challenge of the month - enjoy the gifts of summer!

BOOK REVIEW

"Paris Spring" by James Naughtie

Jim Naughtie, pronounced Nocté, to you and me. He is the Journalist and Broadcaster who is one of the presenters of the Today programme on Radio 4.

This is a spy novel set in Paris in April 1968. It was a time of great political turmoil. Martin Luther King was assassinated. The streets of Paris are a smoke-filled battleground of student protests. Vietnam was at its height and there were challenges to the communist regimes in Eastern Europe. Many of us will recall that time. I was 17 and just waking up to politics.

Will Fleming is a secret service agent at the British Embassy. A few words from a stranger on the metro change his life. His family is threatened and he faces the spy's oldest fear: exposure. A bizarre murder draws him into a web of secrets and tests his loyalties. When secrets are at stake, no one is safe.

Le Carre-like in its story line, the novel keeps you reading at every twist and turn. A good read and highly recommended. David Stevens

PRIVATE HERBERT HENRY RUMMING
6th Battalion Wiltshire Regiment No 18391

Born at Wick, Hill, Bremhill in 1895, the son of Frederick William Ruming and Sarah Ann (née Gale).

Died Thursday 20th September 1917 aged 23 years at Hollebeke Chateau, Passchendaele, Belgium and is buried at Bedford House cemetery, pre-war Chateau Rosendal, plot number 25, Row c.

Early in 1917, the 6th (Service) Battalion of the Wiltshire regiment were in the line at Hebuterne, near Thiepval, moving to the Ypres salient in April. In June they took part in the successful attack on Messines Ridge, gaining all their objectives.

A period of trench warfare was followed by heavy fighting on the Passchendaele Ridge. On the 20th September they captured and held a position in front of Hollebeke Chateau. Casualties were heavy including Herbert Ruming and the battalion was reinforced by 25 officers and 350 other ranks of the Royal Wiltshire Yeomanry, who had been dismounted.

They became the 6th (Royal Wiltshire) Yeomanry) Battalion. This arrangement worked well as many of the men in both units came from the same towns and villages.

After leaving school Herbert was working as a Baker's assistant in the 1911 census still living at home at Wick Hill, where his father was described as a Cattleman. It appears that Herbert volunteered with the 6th Wiltshires in 1915 and had been in France and Belgium since the middle of 1915

THE MORNING AFTER THE SUMMER FETE....RATFORD RACES

We woke with a sense of gratitude. The weather had been kind. A few drops of threatening rain in the morning but nothing to dampen enthusiasm or commitment to coming, and then everyone had arrivedhelping set up stalls, organising tables, placing signs, preparing the car park, putting up gazebos and much else besides. The marquee in place, the toilets, the generator. Smoothly, efficiently the venue had been transformed and even the duck race course looked viable with some temporary damming upstream to provide some flow. (A previous race trial had needed the finish line placed before the start line due to the westerly wind!). Gratitude indeed to all those who had made it possible - so many helping in different ways, often quietly and unseen.

Yes, gratitude that people had come, that children had laughed and run and bought parasols and shouted for their duck, that the tug of war had happened at all - with more and more children pulling on one side to overwhelm the worthy but terrible technique of the adults - that the tombola had been non-stop, that the first aid was not needed, that the generator and WCs worked.....

And gratitude that the evening was so enjoyed, for its wonderful hog roast and ceilidh band, with every age and background joining in the dancing. As one lady farmer said next morning, while driving back her rather pasty looking friend 'to collect his car that he couldn't drive last night' - 'Fabulous'. A community event. And together we raised £3300 for the three charities. It is said 'the whole is more than the sum of the parts'..... this was a fine example.

Thanks to you all and a special mention to David and Philippa Stevens, the team of ladies - Jan, Paula, Vanessa, Clare, Rosie and Jennifer - and Jennie Shaw, all of whom put so much effort into planning the event in addition to their contributions on the day itself.

RURAL ARTS TOURING "OPERA DUDES"

Bremhill Village Hall - Friday, 24th November, 2017 at 7.30 pm

Just read some of the reviews about the Opera Dudes:

"Wonderful singing and a laugh a minute"

"These guys should be on prescription"

"Wonderful voices and laughed until I had tears running down my face"

"I just have to let you know that my husband and I have NEVER enjoyed a night out as much. We laughed till we cried. You should carry a health warning!"

ST MARTIN'S NOTICES

The work on improving the ventilation of the church has been carried out in August. The north part of the roof is being repaired imminently! The Church Wardens will be looking at a new sign and notice board for the church. Thank you so much to the fundraising ladies of Bremhill whose magnificent work has enabled us to do these tasks.

Cleaning Rota. The Church Cleaning and Flower Rotas are in the church. If you can find an hour or two to help clean the Church or polish the Brass, please put your name down as a volunteer. It will be much appreciated.

Afternoon tea china for hire. Very reasonable rates. Contact Philippa on 815337. If you have any items of local Church news for the next edition of the Newsletter, please send to editor@bremhill.com by 13th of each month. Thank you.
