

Celebrations

Britford

Celebrations After the Defeat of Napoleon

The numerous poor of Britford, near this city, received a most liberal last thanksgiving-day from G. P. Jervoise, Esq. They were regaled on the lawn before his house with roast beef, plum pudding, and strong beer; and the pleasures of the entertainment were not a little added to by the presence of the highly respected donor.

Salisbury and Winchester Journal, Monday, 18 July 1814