

In The News

Compton Chamberlayne

PENRUDDOCKE ESTATE FOREMAN – OUT OF WORK

At Compton Chamberlayne, the Wilts seat of the Penruddockes, whose name was prominently before the public a little while ago in connection with Mrs Penruddocke's cruel treatment of her daughter Connie, a little tragedy in humble life is being slowly played.

Reginald Sansome, a young man of 22, who is the only support of his widowed mother and a little sister, succeeded his father as foreman on the Penruddocke estate at Compton Park.

A little while ago he was dismissed from this post, and still more recently he and his family were ordered to quit their cottage on the estate on Christmas Day.

The full legal term of notice not having been served, the Sansomes did not give up possession, but they are expecting every day to be ejected.

Reginald Sansome is stated to be a good worker, and bears an excellent character.

(The Evening Post - Saturday 3 January, 1903)