Milestone

Location - About 150 metres east of the Lodge to Compton Park on Shaftesbury Road, A30

Grade II - Listed 17th December, 1986

The milestone is a limestone triangular-section pillar with lettering on two faces of the milestone – To Sarum VIII (on left face) & To Shaston XII (on right face). The milestone was erected in the 18th Century. In March, 1986, at the time of the survey undertaken by British Listed Buildings, the milestone was described as “Badly sunk”.

The listed milestone marker would be similar to the one in the photo below – which is one mile closer to Sarum.
