

In The News

Dinton

On Thursday afternoon a man named William Thorn and a lad named William Head, went to Dinton railway station with a wagon belonging to Mr W. Bennett, of Chilmark. On their return, a peal of thunder so frightened the horses that they started off, and knocked both man and boy down. The man fractured his left leg and the boy had his head injured. They were both conveyed to the Salisbury Infirmary.

(Devizes and Wiltshire Gazette - 25th February, 1869)