

Just not Cricket

A Mere correspondent requests us to state that his townsmen attribute their defeat in the recent match of cricket to the circumstance of their opponents, the Knoyle party, having, unknown to them, availed themselves of the services of a crack Hampshire player. He adds, that it is intended to refer the matter to some high cricketing authority, with the view of ascertaining whether the Knoyle eleven have not thus forfeited the game.

Salisbury & Winchester Journal, Saturday, 12 October 1844