Wishford - Sunday School Entertainment

On Friday the Sunday school children had their annual entertainment. Assembling at the school at 4.30 they were regaled with tea, and, after some singing, the prizes for merit and good attendance were distributed. Nineteen scholars received books, and picture cards were given to the rest. Mary Simper attained the first prize for unbroken attendance, closely followed by Herbert Newton, Evelyn Burt, Stanley Gray, and Olga Newton, who had each only been absent once during the year.

A magic-lantern display of illustrations of old nursery rhymes followed, the Rector giving the readings, and Mr. Lever manipulating the lantern. The next part of the entertainment consisted of an admirable concert given by a gramophone conducted by Mr. B. Davis, of South Newton, which afforded great pleasure to the audience, the songs being especially appreciated.

The distribution of buns and oranges followed, and a pleasant evening was brought to a close by the national anthem and cheers for the Rector and Mrs. Macdonald, Miss Mundy, and the Sunday school teachers.
