

ACCIDENTS

Hankerton 1800-1899

1861

During the past week, several accidents have occurred in this locality, arising from the dangerous state of the roads. At Norton, near the town, Mr. F. H. Baker of Foxley, fell sustained a broken leg, but we are happy to hear that he is now removed to his residence, and is progressing favourably. A labouring man named Beale of Hankerton, also met with a similar accident; and we have heard of other cases of broken limbs, but we are unable to furnish particulars. Wiltshire Independent, Thursday, 19 January 1861
