Church of St Swithin
Church Row
Little Hinton

DCMS Ref: 27/3
Grade: I GV
First listed: 26.01.55

Small Norman church recast in Perpendicular style. Three bay aisled nave with south porch. Small west tower. Two bay chancel. Rubble with stone tile roof, nave roof lead. Late C15 3 light square headed foiled windows to clerestory and aisles, labels with shaped stops. Two stage unbuttressed west tower with pyramidal tiled roof and no west door; Somerset tracery. Gabled south porch circa 1500, possible earlier, with moulded square headed surround and a 4 centred arch, with traceried spandrels. South doorway C12 with billet hood-mould. Small north door (C19, facing Vicarage). Priest's door to chancel. Interior: 2 bay round arched arcade with circa 1170s scallop caps and responds to south (squat earlier looking piers). North arcade C13. Interesting Norman font: tub on stem, upper band of triangular headed arcading, then a band of saltire crosses, next a band of pre-Urnes-type interlace and a scroll pattern with an animal; band of cable work; lower band of compass scratched intersecting circles. Roof: moulded ties with braces from corbels and moulded king posts, panelled. Victorian box pews. 1637 pulpit and reading desk. Chancel: pointed circa 1200 chancel arch with stiff leaf type crocket nook shafts and chamfered arches. Two light and quatrefoil chancel windows have rere-arches (but not in sanctuary). Three light reticulated (probably C19 restoration) East window. Memorial to Elizabeth Kete (died 1630), bracketted columns flanking tablet and supporting entablature.

Small graveyard contains a number of C18 and C19 headstones and tomb chests. There is a good mid-C18 example in the north-west angle of the church with scroll brackets in rebates, panels with carved drapery and oval panels with angels in the corners.

Hinton Manor

Parish Church of St Mary
Church Walk
Bishopstone

DCMS Ref: 28/6
Grade: I
First listed: 26.01.55

Heavily restored 1868 and 1883 (see rainwater heads). Mostly perpendicular in style with vestiges of Norman and Decorated periods.

West tower, 3 bay aisled nave with stepped buttresses, lower 2 bay chancel with stepped diagonal buttresses. Built of random rubble and ashlar on moulded plinth. Lead roofs. Two and three light square headed windows with labels and foiled heads. Two light clerestory (possibly rebuilt 1883) to south. Quatrefoil parapet to aisles (of St Michael's Highworth). To north: aisle windows have set back chamfer surrounds; north porch entrance appears circa 1200 and probably reset. In the chancel a very ornate reset small Norman doorway with horizontal chevron ornament. East window of south aisle has early C14 reticulated tracery. Crenellated west tower with diagonal buttresses and 3 set offs above plinth level: angled stair turret to south-east. Gargoyles to cornice. Two light and trefoil belfry windows. Clock to south. West door 1883 with usual Tudor arch trimmings and large 3 light perpendicular style window over. Interior: 3 bay 4 centred arcade, (one bay shorter to north for porch), undulating section to shafts. Organ over steep 4 centred chancel arch. C14 head stop reset to east of north arcade. Three C12 (probably) masks formerly on an order round a doorway reset above south door. Late Norman font with tongued scallops forming bowl on dog-tooth fillet; clustered shafts form the stem. The lectern, pulpit, parclose screens to east of aisles and to tower are good examples of Gothic (C19) carving. Marble tablet to Edith and Chris Willoughby (died 1673) with broken segmental pediment in chancel. Fragments of mediaeval stained glass. In the churchyard a number of C18 and early C19 headstones and a few early C19 chest tombs.
