

Shooting Fatality in Wiltshire

A Brother Killed

At Lyneham Village, near Wootton Bassett, Wilts, last night, two brothers, Job and Jehu Franklin, who lived together, quarrelled, and the former, aged about 60, turned the latter out of the house. Jehu commenced to break the windows, and Job, to frighten him, loaded an old gun with powder, and twice fired. In the excitement of reloading he failed to withdraw the ramrod, and, firing for the third time, the ramrod pierced Jehu's breast, inflicting fatal injuries. Job is under arrest.

Derby Daily Telegraph, 2 August 1910