

Marlborough College Concert

On Monday evening there was a great gathering of the elite of the county, headed by the Marquis and Marchioness of Ailesbury and Lord Ernest Bruce, M.P., in the upper school of Marlborough College, on the occasion of the 25th annual evening concert.

The crowded attendance, the high standard of excellence to which the choir has reached, the solo singing of the Rev. R. Duckworth, and Masters Baily and Melville, the pianoforte playing of the conductor, Mr. Bambridge, and the talent engaged in the orchestra, stamped the concert as one of the best ever held.

Salisbury and Winchester Journal and General Advertiser, 21 December 1872