Royal Scots Fusiliers during World War I

Since 1815 the balance of power in Europe had been maintained by a series of treaties. In 1888 Wilhelm II was crowned 'German Emperor and King of Prussia' and moved from a policy of maintaining the status quo to a more aggressive position. He did not renew a treaty with Russia, aligned Germany with the declining Austro-Hungarian Empire and started to build a Navy rivalling that of Britain. These actions greatly concerned Germany's neighbours, who quickly forged new treaties and alliances in the event of war. On 28th June 1914 Franz Ferdinand the heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne was assassinated by the Bosnian-Serb nationalist group Young Bosnia who wanted pan-Serbian independence. Franz Joseph's the Austro-Hungarian Emperor (with the backing of Germany) responded aggressively, presenting Serbia with an intentionally unacceptable ultimatum, to provoke Serbia into war. Serbia agreed to 8 of the 10 terms and on the 28th July 1914 the Austro-Hungarian Empire declared war on Serbia, producing a cascade effect across Europe. Russia bound by treaty to Serbia declared war with Austro-Hungary, Germany declared war with Russia and France declared war with Germany. Germany's army crossed into neutral Belgium in order to reach Paris, forcing Britain to declare war with Germany (due to the Treaty of London (1839) whereby Britain agreed to defend Belgium in the event of invasion). By the 4th August 1914 Britain and much of Europe were pulled into a war which would last 1,566 days, cost 8,528,831 lives and 28,938,073 casualties or missing on both sides.

The Regiment raised 19 Battalions; it was awarded 58 Battle Honours and 4 Victoria Crosses losing 5,600 men during the course of the war.

SOFIA WAR CEMETERY

SOFIA War Cemetery is 2 kilometres North-East of the railway station, on the far side of the Town Cemetery. It contains German and Serbian War Plots, and between them is the British plot, containing the graves of 160 soldiers and airmen from the United Kingdom (three of whom are unidentified) and one demobilised British soldier. The plot is enclosed by a low stone wall.

Sixty six of these graves (mainly those of prisoners) were brought from DUBNITZA CEMETERY, RADOMIR CEMETERY and MILITARY CEMETERY, SOFIA TOWN CEMETERY and VARNA (or STALIN) PROTESTANT CEMETERY.

In 1960 a new plot 3 was formed to contain 83 burials concentrated from RUSE (formerly RUSCHUK) British Cemetery and one burial from RUSE (formerly RUSCHUK) JEWISH CEMETERY.

The Register records particulars of 157 War Graves.

There are also 38 War Dead from the 1939-1945 War.
