Oaksey

John Johnson

Lately died, at Cirencester, in Gloucestershire, Mr John Johnson, late of Oaksey, in this county, yeoman. Among his property were found 144 crown pieces, of the reign of Queen Anne, which appeared to have been but little circulated; 20 half crowns, a number of bank notes and guineas; besides several large and curious gold pieces of considerable value. Mr J, being a bachelor, his landed property, which was copyhold, descends to the Lord of the Manor of Oaksey.
