“Tis liberty alone that gives the flower
Of fleeting life, its lustre and perfume:
And we are weeds without it. All constraint,
Except what wisdom lays on evil men,
Is evil; hurts the faculties; impedes
Their progress in the road of science; blinds

The eye-sight of discovery; and begets
In those that suffer it, a sordid mind,
Bestial, a meagre intellect, unfit
To be the tenant of man's noble form."

REPORT

In commencing their annual task, the Committee of the Ladies' Association, in aid of the cause of Negro Emancipation, regret that the little they have been able to effect, during the past year, furnishes them with but few materials upon which to ground a Report.

Although the Society has not actively engaged in adopting means for the promotion of its Great Cause, yet we hope, from the willingness with which the subscriptions have been paid, and from the regular distribution of the Monthly Reporters, (the demand for which is a little increased,) that the interest of our Members is yet undiminished. Many of them, we believe, have the subject deeply at heart, and would sincerely rejoice, should an opportunity present, of more warmly espousing the cause of the oppressed. Whether these are of the opinion, that at present little can be done, or whether they may desire the adoption of more decided measures, let them preserve in exerting the influence they may possess, amongst their families at home, and as occasion may offer, in a more public manner; remembering how important it is, to keep the subject in view, amongst those who are convinced of the wickedness of Slavery, and to enlighten the understandings of others, who are yet unacquainted with its evils.

By referring to the Treasurer's report, it will be seen, that during the past year, £25 have been presented to the London Antislavery Society, £15 to the Antigua Refuge Society, £15 to the Society for the relief of the deserted Negro Slaves in that island, and £5 to the Hibernian Negro Friend Society.

Some of the Committee have lately had an affecting picture, of the state of things in the West Indies, brought before them, by receiving from a recent eye-witness, a description of Negro Slavery, as it now exists, in one of the British Colonies. In this Island*<sup>1</sup> where the features of Slavery are comparatively mild, it appears, that, though the bodily wants of the slaves are tolerably well supplied, and though it may not be the lot of many to possess kind and humane masters, yet the state of moral and religious degradation into which they are sunk, is dreadful in the extreme, and as the narrator observes, "nearly reduces them to the level of brutes."

The proposals of reform, made in the Jamaica legislature, and negatived by a large majority, too clearly prove that no improvement is adopted there, and for further proofs of which we refer our readers to the affecting cases of Henry Williams, and George, in No. 65, page 356 and 357 of the Anti-slavery Reporter. shou

Whilst, therefore, the Committee feel unable to do much in a public manner, they would endeavour to impress upon the minds of every Member of their Society, that slavery still exists, and not, as we fear many suppose, in its ameliorated, but only concealed form, disguising under the mask of improvement, the horrors of a system, which the Christian Religion alone, should teach us to abhor and condemn!

At the Fifth Annual Meeting of this Society, held at Devizes, September 17, 1830, Mrs. Slade, and Mrs. Waylen, were appointed Secretaries in the place of Mrs. Townsend, who has resigned her office from indisposition.
