

Land & Buildings Seend

1922

The 'Daily Chronicle' says that the new ironworks at Seend, in Wiltshire, which after taking three years to build, were opened a month ago, were destroyed by fire yesterday. They belonged to Messrs Merry and Cunninghame, Scottish ironmasters, and their equipment was of the most modern type. The damage is estimated at many thousands. Western Daily Press Saturday 3 June 1922

1928

At Seend Manor, Melksham, a cedar tree has been ruined by the gale. It was 15ft in girth 5ft from the ground, and 108ft high. Mr Reginald Morgan-Smith writes that he was surprised to find it was only 147 years old. Bath Chronicle and Weekly Gazette Saturday 1 December 1928