

ACCIDENTS

Wanborough 1700-1899

1795

Accidental death. Wednesday as Thomas Richins, of Wanborough, Wilts, a labouring man, was digging stones in a pit, a great quantity of earth fell upon him and killed him instantly; he has left a wife and a large family Bath Chronicle and Weekly Gazette 15 January 1795

OPC Note:- William Clare, Coroner carried out an inquest on the body on the 10th January 1795. Travelling 24 miles and raising an attendance bill of £1 18s.