

Soldiers and Pet Jackdaws

Several Men of the A.S.C., Reserve Park camp at Warminster, left the town on Sunday for Grantham, and there were a good many people at the station to see them off. The entraining of the horses and mules attracted considerable attention and not a little amusement. Among the equipment was a pair of jackdaws in a cage, doing their "C.B." during the journey.

At the Warminster camp they were allowed to wander about the Sergeants mess tent, and were quite friendly with the soldiers. They enlisted soon after they were hatched in the spring, and forsook the elm trees for the society of the men, hopping about on their shoulders and hands. For a long time the parent birds tried to induce them to return, but without avail.

The Times, September 1915.