Whiteparish

WHITEPARISH, situated on the borders of Hampshire, and on the road to Southampton, 2½ miles south from West Dean station on the Salisbury branch of the South Western railway, and 7 south-east from Salisbury, is in the Southern division of the county, Frustfield hundred, Alderbury union, Salisbury county court district, Salisbury and Amesbury petty sessional division, rural deanery of Amesbury Alderbury portion, and Salisbury archdeaconry and diocese. The church of All Saints is an edifice of flint and stone, in mixed styles, consisting of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, north porch, with a small western wooden belfry, containing a clock and 3 bells: in it are several monuments to the Eyre and St. Barbe families: considerable improvements were made in the interior in 1869-70: it contains memorial windows to the Bristow family : there are 300 sittings. The register dates from the year 1559. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £ 190, with residence, in the gift of Mrs. Durie, and held since 1887 by the Rev. George Augustus Starkey M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge. Here is a place of worship for Wesleyans and Primitive Methodists. Charities to the amount of £6 10s yearly are distributed in clothing. Broxmore House, the residence of Mrs Durie, is an elegant and spacious building, and the grounds and scenery around the house are beautiful and picturesque. Brickworth House, the property of Earl Nelson, is now occupied by James Alexander Shirreff, esq. Cowesfield House, the seat of William Frederic Lawrence esq. M.P., J.P. stands on the southern slope of the Dean Hill, and commands extensive views over the country, including the New Forest and the Isle of Wight. Earl Nelson, who is lord of the manor, Mrs. Durie and Lieut.-Col. Sir Frederick Bathurst, of Clarendon Park, Salisbury, are the principal landowners. The soil is chalk, sand and gravel; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley and turnips. The area is 6,421 acres, including the EARLDOMS, 3 miles south, formerly extra-parochial, but now a parish with 37 inhabitants ; rateable value of Whiteparish, £6,017; in 1881 the population was 1,100; area of Earldoms, 768 acres ; rateable value, £416.

MELCHET PARK was formerly extra-parochial, but is now a parish in Romsey union and Alderbury hundred. Melchet Park, the seat of Louisa Lady Ashburton, is a noble mansion of the Composite order and built of red brick, relieved with freestone, surrounded with lawns and shrubberies, situate in a park of 539 acres, commanding an extensive view of the surrounding scenery. The area is 830 acres; rateable value, £643; the population in 1881 was 53.

COWESFIELD, 2 miles east, COWESFIELD LOVERIES, ALDERTON (or Alderston), half-a-mile north, WHELPLEY, 1 mile west-by-north, and COWESFIELD ESTURMY are tithings.
