NETTLETON

'Come, Thou fount of every blessing'

(published by John Wyeth 1813)

(NB There is some evidence to suggest that this tune may have been English and unnamed but then named after Asahel Nettleton, the US east coast evangelist, who included it in his 'village hymns for social worship' collection in 1827.

Other sources call it NEW MONMOUTH.)

Yet more sources put this tune to words

'Whither goest thou pilgrim stranger'

with alternative names

FEMALE PILGRIM, MULLINS, GOOD SHEPHERD & HALLELUJAH
