Winterslow

WINTERSLOW is a parish, situated on the road from Stockbridge to Winchester, 7 miles north-east from Salisbury, 4 south-east from Porton station and 5½ north-west from West Dean station on the London and South Western railway, in the Southern division of the county, hundred and union of Alderbury, Salisbury and Amesbury petty sessional division, Salisbury county court, rural deanery of Amesbury Alderbury portion, and Salisbury archdeaconry and diocese. The church of All Saints is built of flint, with stone dressings, and was handsomely restored and enlarged in 1851: it is of mixed architecture, consisting of chancel, nave of five bays and aisles, with embattled tower and low spire, with 4 bells, and contains an organ: there are some interesting monuments of the Thistlethwaite family: there are 300 sittings. The register dates from the year 1598. The living is a rectory, tithes rent-charge £887 and 52 acres of glebe, net income £610, with house, in the gift of the President and Fellows of St. John's College, Oxford, and held since 1888 by the Rev. Robert Ewing M.A. formerly fellow and tutor of that college. St. John's chapel was erected on Winterslow Common, in 1860, in connection with the church: it was built by subscription, at a cost of £400, of flint with stone dressings: there are 130 sittings. The following charities are derived from 2¾ per cent. Consols left in 1871 by Mrs Sarah Curtis: £66 yearly, to be equally divided between 6 poor widows not under 60 years of age; £10 yearly to the National school, and the interest of £600 to be distributed to the deserving poor in kind. On October 20th, 1816, one of the horses of the Exeter mail coach was attacked at the Pheasant Inn, or Winterslow Hut, by a lioness, which had escaped from a caravan on its way to Salisbury fair. Roche Court, a stone-built mansion surrounded by a park and pleasure grounds of about 80 acres, the property of Earl Nelson, at present occupied by Lieut.-Col. George Glas Sandeman is at East Winterslow. Sir Thomas Fraser Grove bart. M.P., D.L., J.P. who is lord of the manor of West Winterslow, and Earl Nelson J.P., D.L. who owns that of East Winterslow, are principal landowners. The soil is chalk and clay; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 4,698 acres; rateable value, £4,090; the population in 1881 was 867.

SHRIPPLE, a tithing, is, under the Divided Parishes Act, transferred from Idmiston to this parish. By a Local Government Order, dated March 25, 1883, all that part of the parish of West Dean situated in Wiltshire was amalgamated with Winterslow, and the remainder, situated in Hampshire, added to West Tytherley, Hants.
