

Historical Map of Worton - 1773

In 1773 the village of Worton was a tithing of Potterne. As you can see from the map above the village almost consisted of one continuous row of buildings and the Mill is shown on what is now Mill Road which connects the village to neighbouring Marston. There is no church here at the time of the map being drawn up.