INTRODUCTION.

THE present volume contains the Inquisitiones post mortem from the time they commenced to be taken, about 27 Henry III, to the end of Edward II, viz. A.D. 1242 to 1326. The abstracts are given in full, and were translated by the late Miss Emma Walford, who finished the reign of Edward II only a very short time previous to her death.

The Introduction to the last volume of Inquisitions gave full particulars of what those documents consisted and their value to genealogists, historians, and others. In these earlier ones there is greater diversity of customs, tenures, and services, and amongst the last may be noted (page 60) the holding of certain lands by the service of being doorkeepers of the King in his hall; (page 92) the manor of Inglesham was held by the serjeanty of keeping one hoe (hostorium) — or it may have been an instrument used for levelling a measure of corn. On page 93 is mentioned that the rent of a certain manse was a garland of roses, to be delivered on the feast of St. John the Baptist.

We get glimpses of the actual state of repair in which certain houses were; that of the manor house of Clarendon (page 89), for instance, was in a most ruinous condition.

There are also many extents of manors, and several perambulations and proofs of age, all which are very interesting as showing the conditions under which our ancestors were accustomed to live.

With the next instalment of Inquisitions will commence the long reign of Edward III.

The Indices Locorum and Nominum have been the work of Mr. Edward Kite and Mr. E. A. Fry respectively, the former having been at considerable pains in identifying the various manors and places mentioned.

It is, perhaps, desirable to mention that the whole of the Inquisitiones post mortem are under revision by the Public Record Office authorities, and the old references used herein have been completely changed. In the Calendar printed by the P.R.O. in 1904 is a Table giving both the Old and the New references.

CORRECTIONS.

The Oxford Inquisition states that Henry, son and heir of Henry Tracy, is the nearest heir to Gunnora de la Mare, by reason that Henry Tracy was uncle of the said Gunnora, and was aged 13 at Pentecost, 4th June, 35 Henry III, 1251.

ABSTRACTS

OF THE

Inquisitiones Post Mortem

RELATING TO WILTSHIRE,

Returned into the High Court of Chancery from the Reign of King Henry III.

Wenthian, wife of Robert Boteler.

Inquisition made by Richard de Cova, Walter de Bluntesdum, Reginald de Kinggareheye, Simon Tracy, Richard Wodeward, William Strugnill, Walter Oilebur, Alexander de Etun, Walter Runel, Hugh Estrel, William Goldsmith [Aurifabrum], and Robert de Meisy, who say that

The land of Pultun was not the land of the Normans, and they say that Robert de Buthlers held the said land, and was English, and after his decease the same descended to Baldwin, his younger brother, who married Wenteliana, and they say that the court is worth yearly one mark, and in demesne there are 3 carucates of land, worth 15 marks per annum, and in villeinage there are 20 virgates of land, each virgate of which is worth per annum 6s. And there are in 4 work-days [precarie] in Autumn 4d. In work-days of the ploughs per annum 1d., and in work-days of the harrows ½d. And they say that Walter Frankelanus holds one virgate of land and pays per annum 5s. Sum, £17 7s. 6d.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 27 Henry III, No. 27.

Hugh de Vivon.

Extent of the manor of Westkington, which was of Hugh de Vivona, made by command of the King in the presence of the sheriff and escheator of the county of Wilts, by the oath of Adam Ive, Roger the Clerk, Roger Scot, Simon the baker [pistoris], Geoffry son of Richard, Elias de Aldrington, Stephen son of Stephen, Stephen de Budeston, John de Schorston, Thomas son of Peter, Roger de Pedeworth, John le Blund, William le Oiselur, and Walerand de Wrokeshall, who say that

At Westkington there are £11 6s. 2d. of rent of assize. Also the toll of the carts upon the hill amounts to one mark. And the pannage of the pigs amounts to 12d. Also there are there 4½ quarters and 3 bushels of wheat of Chiresetto, which amount to 15s. 6d., the price of each quarter 4s. And there are there 42 cocks and hens of Chiresetto, which amount to 2s. 7½d., price of 4 hens 3d. Also there are there 275 acres to be cultivated each year, which amount to £4 11s. 8d., price of an acre 4d. And there are there 15 acres of meadow, which amount to 20s., price of an acre 16d. Also there is pasture for 16 oxen and 4 cows, which is worth per annum 6s. 8d., price of the pasture for one ox 4d. And there is there pasture for 350 sheep, which is worth 14s. 7d., price of the pasture of one sheep ½d. Also the herbage of the beasts amounts to 3s. per annum. And the garden extends to 2s. Sum, £19 16s. 6½d.

Whereof there is paid for tithe per annum 15s. 11½d. of the £7 19s. 6d. of the rent of assize aforescribed. And so the sum of the whole extent of the said manor is per annum clear, the said tithe being deducted, £19 os. 7d. Whereof there is assigned by command of the said King to Petronilla, who was the wife of Hugh de Vivona, for her dower the third part of the said manor with the appurtenances, which is worth per annum £7 6s. 10½d. And so there remains to the lord the King two parts of the said manor with the appurtenances, which are worth per annum £12 13s. 8¾d.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 28 Henry III, No. 22.

Roger de Lokington.

Ralph de Foxcote, William de Chossham, Walter Drive, Walter the Clerk of Langele, Miles de Langelye, Richard le Waleis, William Plusbel (?), William de la Hida, Henry de la Boxa, John Brokeneby, William de Corston, and John Esturun, jurors, who say that

Roger de Lokinton ought to have common in the meadow which is called the More in Shoreston, as belonging to his free tenement in Lokington, when the field of Lokinton, which extends towards the said meadow, lies open and not sown. And that Matthew de Bezill cannot possess the said park wholly, but that the aforesaid Roger may have his common when the said field of Lokington lies open and not sown, as is aforesaid.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 29 Henry III, No. 36.

Mathew Wake.

Inquisition made of the land which was of Sir Mathew Wake, of Hebelesburnel, in co. Wilts, by the oath of Sir Richard de Durneford, John Aleng, Henry Toley, Gilbert Asse, Henry de Durneford, Roger Dogeing, William Wefruc, Robert Makerol, William Alex, John de Durneford, John de Gerarddeston, John Waufre, who say that

The said Mathew held the manor of Hebelesburnel of the King in chief by one knight's fee. And there are there 2 carucates of land in demesne, worth per annum 60s. The court with the curtilage is worth per annum 4s. Of rent of assize £3 3s. 11½d. Also the meadow is worth per annum 40s. The pasture for cows is worth 20s., and the pasture for sheep 40s. Also one windmill is worth per annum one mark. Also the issues of the wood and the perquisites of the said manor are worth per annum 20s. Also the customs of villeins from the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula up to the feast of St. Michael are worth 20s. 5d. Also the customs of villeins from the feast of St. Michael (?) up to the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula are worth 23s. 4d. Also the tallage in common years is worth 7s. Sum, £15 12s. 0½d.

And they say that Cristiana, Joan, and Ellen, daughters of the said Mathew, are his next heirs, and are of mature age, and are married.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 32 Henry III, No. 1.

Gunnora de la Mare.

Writ dated 10th January, 33 Henry III [1249].

Inquisition taken before Sir J. de Vernun, escheator in co. Wilts, 35 Henry III [1250-1], of the land, rent, and other issues of the land which was of Gunnora de la Mare, in the manor of Wynterburne, in co. Wilts, by the oath of Reginald Chelkere, Henry le Dun, John de Nevill, John Swoting, John Miller, Peter Arnold, Richard Palmer, Walter Oede, John le Sauvage, Robert Churstein, Walter Tropenel, and Hugh le Frankeleyn, who say that Gunnora de la Mare held of the King in chief in Wynterburne one carucate of land in demesne worth per annum 37s. 9d., and a meadow worth per annum 3s. She held the same of the King by the service of being doorkeeper of the King's Hall. Four free men pay per annum 10s. 8d. rent and 1 lb. of pepper. The rent of the villeins is worth per annum £4 1s. 8½d. The pasture is worth per annum 16s. 11½d.

The customs of villeins are worth per annum 68s. 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. Tallage . . . Perquisites yearly 2s. Sum, £11 15s. 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ d.

. . . Giffard, son of the said Elias, is his next heir, and is aged 16 years. [Part of this Inquisition is torn away.]

Chan. Inq. p.m., 33 Henry III, No. 53.

Nicholas de Haversham.

The names of those by whom the extent of the lands of Sir Nicholas de Haversham, in co. Wilts, was made, to wit, John le Blund de Cumpton, Henry Hamund, of Merton, Roger Peytevyn, . . . Bor, Symon Giffard, Geoffrey Cof, Robert Cof, Roger de Leons, John de Cynnos, Robert Alisandre, Walter Harevel, and Nicholas Burdeyn de Hugesford, who say that

He held nothing of the King in chief in co. Wilts, but that he held in the vill of Cumpton half a knight's fee of John . . . stede, the moiety of the said vill by the service of scutage. There are there of rent of assize £12 7s. 2d. per annum; also 2 carucates of land, containing . . . "acres and 43," and are worth £6 1s. 6d. The meadow is worth 26s. 8d., the pasture 25d., the mill 26s. 8d., the garden, with the easement of the court and with the curtilage and mill, 26s. 8d. The profit of the wood is worth per annum 6s. 8d. The customs of the villeins and other customs, with perquisites, are worth per annum 2s. Tallage per annum 10s. The advowson of the Church of Bereford, worth 20 marks, belongs to the said manor.

Also in the vill of Bereford of Sir William Avenel 3 virgates of land for which he paid yearly 20s., and they are worth 20s.

The sum of the said lands, except the advowson of the said Church, is £24 19s. 5d.

Nicholas de Haversham is his son and next heir, and is of full age.
Chan. Inq. p.m., 33 Henry III, No. 69.

James Husey.

Roger de Croivale, Simon de Parco, Philip Marmion, Warin de Opton, Thomas de Hynetune, John de Foro, Thomas le Wodeward, Thomas Vicar, Herbert Styward, Walter Swoting, John Michel, and John Savery say that

The wood of Norrige, which Henry Huse says belongs to his manor of Stapelford, was taken into the hands of the King for this reason: because James Huse, deceased, died seised of the said wood of Norrige, who held of the said King in chief £7 of rent in Chippeham, and a certain assart in Norrige, for which he paid to the King every year 16d., whereupon Sir John de Vernon, escheator, took the said wood, with his other lands and tenements, into the King's hands, after the death of the said James Huse.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 34 Henry III, No. 2.

Christiana Wake.

John Alayn, Henry Tullit, John de Durneford, Henry de Durneford, Gilbert de Ese, John de Gerardeston, Richard Peres, Martin de Molendina, Richard son of John, Robert de Legha, John Heyrun, and Adam Wake, who say that

Christiana Wake ought to hold of the King in chief in Eblesburne half a knight's fee by the service of half a knight's fee, which is worth per annum in homage, services, rents, and all other issues of the land £10, whereof there is now in seisin £5.

The said Christiana is the next heir of Matthew Wake, and is aged 28 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 34 Henry III, No. 15.

John de Colingeburn, Walter Cheffing, Ralph le Pareille, William Malewein, Herbert de Escote, Robert le Blund, Geoffrey Hoppegras, Robert Prangenel, John de Escote, Gilbert de Ferstogbur, Geoffrey Vareman, and Robert Curteis, who say that

Richard de Harden held of the demesne of the King in co. Wilts, in the town of Harden, 2½ acres of land, by the service of keeping the woods of Bedewinde, which are called the Bruz de Bedewinde, and are worth per annum 2s. He also held in the same town 6 bovates of land of Robert de Punchardun and Letewaria of Estandeburn, by the service of finding one man with one horse of the price of half a mark with one sumptuary saddle, and one sack of grain to the aforesaid R. and L. [sic] at Wales for the King's army when the King shall have an army there: they are worth per annum in rents and other issues 35s.

Richard de Harden is the son and next heir of the said Richard, and is aged 25 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 34 Henry III, No. 16.

Walter Goderbill.

Richard Hennot, Henry Coluns (Colmis), William Morin, Peter de Grangea, Robert son of Ralph, Gilbert de Aula, Luke Gulle, . . . son of the Clerk [filius clerici], Symon de Chyverel, Nicholas de la Hele, Thomas le Blund, and William Gole say that Walter de Goderwill held in the town of Chyverel in co. Wilts of Sir John de Balun 2 carucates of land by the service of one knight's fee, and they are worth per annum, clear, £ 11 12s. 0¾d.

Joan and Margery are the daughters and next heirs of the said Walter; the said Joan is aged 15 years and the said Margery 6 years.

The said Walter did not hold any other land in the said county except the land of Chuppeham, which he held of the King in chief.

John de Eston, Walter Dreu, Thomas Bubbe, Ralph de Foxcote, Elyas de Caillewor, Richard de Hertham, William de Aiswöll, Walter son of the parson [fit pson], Roger de Lek . . . , senior, Richard Horn, James the reeve, and John le Wyte say that Walter de Goderwill held of the King in chief 2 carucates of land in the manor of Chuppeham by the service of the fourth part of a knight's fee; they are worth per annum, clear, . . . s. 1*d.* He also held of the King in the said manor one virgate of land by the service of one bow of "auburn," worth per annum 7 . . . of the land of purpresture in the said manor, for which he ought to pay yearly 2 marks, and it is not worth anything more per annum.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 34 Henry III, No. 20.

William de Cantelupe.

William Buneclive.

Inquisition made on Sunday next before Pentecost, 36 Henry III [1252], before the verderors and foresters of the bailiwick of Savernake, by the oaths of William de Hywis, Ralph le Blund of Clatford, Richard de Suthcot, Picot de Flexbur, John Novun de Ore, Richard Quinton, William de Macy, Thomas de Macy, Roger Doignel, Geoffrey Oppegas, Nicholas Emmelot, and John Chantwin, who say that the bailiwick which William Buneclive held in chief of the King in the forest of Savernake is worth per annum 12s. 8½d.

He also held of the King in chief one virgate of land, worth per annum one mark; also of the fee of the Abbot de la Bataille ½ virgate of land, worth per annum 7s. And from these tenements there are going out 2 dowers.

The said William de Buneclive had three sisters, whereof the eldest was called Margery, and she had one son named William, who is dead; he had in matrimony two daughters, who now survive, of whom the eldest is called Juliana and is aged 20 years, and the second is called Isabella, who is aged 17 years. The said Margery is dead.

The second sister was called Agnes, and is now dead; she has one son called William, who is now living, and is of the age of 25 years.

The third sister was called Joan, and is now dead; she had one son named William, who is now living, and is of the age of 21 years.

Robert de Blakeford.

Writ dated at Windsor 26th February, 37 Henry III [1253].

Matthew de Bunerton, Henry le Dun, Robert de Camera, Peter Krey, Robert Shyreman, Richard le proite, John de Molendino, William le

Frankelain, Thomas le Ride, William de ponte, Luke de Fisserton, and John de Len say that Robert de Blakeford held no tenement in co. Wilts in chief of the King, but he held of Lord Geoffry the Chamberlain by purchase 65s. 4d. rent per annum, paying to the said Geoffrey yearly 12d. and 1 lb. of cummin.

The said Robert held no tenement of the inheritance of Avice, his wife, nor of his own. John is his son and next heir, but they do not know his age, because he never came into the county of Wilts and was not brought up there.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 37 Henry III, No. 8.

Thomas de Marisco.

Inquisition taken by command of the King at Deverel Lungpunt on the day of St. Katherine, 37 Henry III [1252], by the oath of Henry de Hulle, Geoffrey Hoese, Thomas de Hyneton, William de Wyleclive, Vincent de Asgore, Edward Fulbe, Walter Ruscel, Thomas Pinfray, Henry Juste, John de Wili, Richard le Poter, and Walter de Eadenhurst, who say that

A certain Norman named Ernisius bought the land which Thomas de Marisco holds in Lungpunt Deverel of Walter de Esterette, paying therefore yearly to the said Walter and his heirs 10s., and to the convent of Glastonbury 5s., saving only suit twice a year at the hundred of the said Abbot of Glastonbury. The said Ernisius died seised of the said land as of fee, and had two daughters his heirs, but they went into Normandy when their father died, and are still there, and have never entered into the said land, but Annora, sister of the said Ernisius, after his death entered into the same and held it all her life; and after her, Thomas, her son, who now holds it. The said land is worth per annum 40s., and contains only 1½ virgate of land. And for this reason they say that it is the escheat of the King of his lands of Normandy.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 37 Henry III, No. 29.

William de Cardinbell.

Inquisition taken at Sarum in co. Wilts on Tuesday next after the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, 38 Henry III [1254], before James Fresel, of the lands which were of William de Kardunvill, to wit, for the hundred of Forde by

Laurence Agnel, William le Bray, Reginald le Engles; and for the hundred of Thorngate by William Kas, Robert Austin, Richard de Flodiham, Walter Wyton, Nicholas de Mucheltun, Walter Dol, Richard Fuydelor, John de la Welle, Richard le Cuynter, John de Kyngbrig, John de Helmele, Richard de Purifet, John de la Forde, who say that

The said William de Cardinwell held in Cederlig of the King in chief 2 carucates of land, worth per annum in demesnes and other issues of land 8 marks; also in la Hale one carucate of land, which is extended together with the appurtenances of Rakeburn to 100s.; in Merthwude 6 tüpt' [sic] of salt, worth per annum 6s. The said William also held of the fee of Sir John Maunsel in Feynsemor 7 acres of land, worth per annum 3s.; also of Nicholas de Haveresham one carucate of land, worth per annum 40s.

The said William married at the door of the Church a woman named Alice, lived with her 16 years, and had several sons and daughters, of whom one son named Richard, aged 4 years, is living.

Then a woman called Joan came to the court and said that a long time ago she had had a son called Richard by the said William who she said was her husband, and the court ordered him to be divorced from the said Alice, and the said William and Joan lived together for a year and more.

Now the jurors doubt whether, as the said Joan was never solemnly married at the church door, her son, aged 24 years, is the next heir, or Richard, son of the said Alice, who is aged 4 years, or whether either of them is the heir. They say that Robert de Cardinwill, brother of the said William, is his heir, and that the said land is in the hand of the King.

Reginald de Pavely, knight, is the son and heir of the said Walter, and is of full age.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 40 Henry III, No. 41.

The King.

Writ dated at Worcester 5th August, 40 Henry III [1256].

Inquisition taken to ascertain whether the messuage in Marleborough which Richard Clericus formerly held of the grant of Robert de Muscegros, by the oath of Thomas Martyn, Sampson de Bewik, Thomas de la Grene, Thomas Wad', Gilbert Tripp, Stephen Vigerus, John Aurifaber, Robert de Sar, William Gervays, William Heved, Richard Clericus, and John Herzy, who say that the said messuage is the escheat of the King and of the escheat of the Normans.

The said Robert de Muscegros gave the said messuage by charter to the said Richard Clericus for 12d. yearly, but before the said grant only 8d. was paid yearly to the King. The said messuage is worth per annum 5s., with the said 12d., and is now held by Stephen Fromund, the King's bailiff at Marleborough, after the itinerary of the justices at Wilton, 40 Henry III.; before that time it was held by the said Richard Clericus.

The jurors consider that the King can grant the said manor, being his escheat, at his will and pleasure.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 40 Henry III, No. 42.

The King.

Writ dated at Westminster 10th September, 40 Henry III [1256].

Inquisition taken by Sampson de Berewik, Thomas de la Grene, William Heved, Robert de la More, Peter Parmentar, William takepain, William Tresor, Sampson Gorard, John Ysaac, John Hervi, Richard Clericus, and Richard de Winton, as to the escheats of the King in the borough of Marleborough, who say that

That plot of land in the parish of St. Mary which Adam Pistor holds is the escheat of the King by the purchase of Thomas le Lod, who died without heir; it is worth per annum 6d. beyond the King's rent of 2d. The plot which Adam Bricun now holds is the King's escheat by the like cause, and is worth per annum 6d. The half burgage in the said vill which is next to the land of Richard, son of Adam Pistor, which was formerly of Walter Uggel, is the King's escheat by the like cause; Adam de Rokel holds it, and it is worth per annum 12d. The half burgage which is in the west part of the said land is the King's escheat by the like cause; Isabell Pel holds it now, and it is worth per annum 12d. The half burgage in the said vill which Stephen le Gras now holds is the King's escheat by the like cause, and is worth per annum 8d. The house in the said vill which was of Robert Taburel is the King's escheat, because the said Robert is now a fugitive for trespass, and is now in the hands of the King's bailiffs; it is worth per annum 12d. The house in the said vill which was of Nicholas Baron and Eustace his brother is the escheat of the King, because they are fugitives for trespass; Matilda, daughter of Alan Morgan, now holds it, and it is worth per annum 12d.

The King may give away the same, saving only the right of the farmer of Marleborough, because Robert de Mussegros, farmer, gave those escheats in his time.

Robert de Lucy.

Writ dated at Westminster 11th March, 47 Henry III [1263].

Inquisition made before the sheriff of Wiltshire and Sir William de Calne, sub-escheator of the said county, by the oath of Walter de Esegrave, Thomas Attchulle, Simon de Esegrave, Richard de Lucy, Michael de Rossemer, Geoffrey de Trowe, Robert Ruddue, Reginald de Eston, William Johan, Peter son of Richard, Andrew de Berewyk, and Richard de Ferie, who say that Robert de Lucy held the moiety of the manor of Tollard in chief of Richard, formerly Earl of Gloucester, and the said moiety is worth per annum, clear, £8.

The custody of all that moiety after the death of Herbert, father of the said Robert, then being under age, by reason of the custody of the lands of the said Earl then being under age, and in the wardship of the King, was wholly in the King's hands for about three years, until that wardship was sold to Sir Geoffrey le Chamberlein.

William Lungespeye used to take of the said Robert the fourth part of the service of one knight for scutage, but they do not know what it was taken of the manor of Tollard or of any other.

Concerning the Repairs of the Bridge of Sarum.

Writ dated at Clarendon 21st December, 52 Henry III [1267].

The King commanded his justices in eyre at Wilton diligently to enquire whether the Abbess of Schafton ought to repair and was wont to repair a certain bridge and gate within the castle of Sarum.

Inquisition made by the oath of John de Bathampton, William le Droys, Sampson de la Boxe, Ralph de Pauleshunte, Warand de Bluntesdon, Stephen de Britmereston, John Aucher, Jordan de Lauerkestok, Geoffrey House, William le Boteler, William Aufrey of old Sarum, Peter de Kingesmelne, William de Putteton, and Henry le Dun, who say that

William Long espeye Earl of Sarum in the time of the war, to wit, in the time of King John, father of the King that now is, who then held the Castle of Sarum, then for the first time distrained Mary, then Abbess of Schafton, once, viz., to repair the said bridge. They also say that Nicholas de Lustreshull, during the time that he was sheriff of Wilts, distrained once in the time of the vacancy of the said abbey to repair the said bridge, and took by that dstraint from the said house of Schafton 100s. And the jurors being asked whether the said Abbess or her church of Schafton has any land, rent, or tenements by reason that they are held to repair the said bridge or gate, say No.

Patricius de Cadurcis or Walterus de Albiniaco.

Writ dated at Westminster 14th January, 52 Henry III [1268].

Inquisition made before the justices in eyre at Wilton, in co. Wilts, by the oath of William son of Walter, Geoffrey le Chamberleng, John de Langford, John de Babinton, Robert le

Chamberleng, William Gerard, Adam de la Onolle, Robert Colle, Robert Gerard de Bereford, John de Wyli, Nicholas de Boneleston, Nicholas Burdein, Robert Schyremman, Peter Orey, John le Hoy, Ralph Long of COUNELESTON, Nicholas Frankelani of COUNELESTON, and Robert de Lustehulle, who say that

King Henry, grandfather of the King that now is, gave the manor of Wicheford to a certain Patricius de Cadurcis, with sok and sak, toll and team, and infangethes, and all customs as the King held that manor in his demesne. And the said Patricius held the said manor with all the liberties for a long time until he gave the same to Henry de Albiniaco with all the said liberties, which said Henry held the said manor all his time without contradiction of any. After the death of the said Henry, Robert, his son and heir, held the said manor at his right and inheritance quite peaceably until he gave the same to Nigel de Albiniaco, his younger brother, who was in full and peaceable seisin thereof for all his time, and held the said manor and the liberties and customs thereof without the sheriff of Wiltshire or any bailiff or minister of the King having ingress into the same. After the death of the said Nigel, William de Albiniaco, brother and heir of the said Nigel, held the said manor as his right and inheritance for his whole life without any disturbance, as freely, quietly, and peaceably as the said Nigel, his father, held the same. After the death of the said William, Henry de Albiniaco, son and heir of the said William, held the said manor as his right and inheritance with all the said liberties and free customs, without any suit to be made by him or his heirs of the said manor at the county or at any hundred, and without the sheriff or any bailiff of the King having ingress therein, as freely and peaceably as his said predecessors freely held the same, up to the death of William Lungesp', then Earl of Sarum, and until Robert de Hales, then sheriff and farmer of the county of Wilts, without just cause by his power entered the said manor of Wicheford, and in the same where before in the time of the said ancestors of Albiniaco there used to be only one sole tything as well of the fee of Albiniaco as of the fee of Fanecurt, which tything did not make any suit elsewhere, except at the court of those of Albiniaco in the said manor. The said Robert de Hales, then sheriff of Wiltshire, caused 2 tythings to be made there, and distrained them with the men of the said manor to make suit at the hundred of Sir R. de Brenchebery (or the hundred of the lord the King of Brencheberg) [ad Hundr̄ dñi r. de Brencheberg] then for the first time, and he took of the men of the said manor amends of his power of bread and ale to be sold contrary to the assize, effusion of blood and hue raised, and certain other trespasses, all which amends altogether belonged before to the said predecessors of Albiniaco from time immemorial. And they say that the sheriffs of Wiltshire, after the intrusion made by the said Robert de Hales in the said manor as is aforesaid, now take 6s. by the year of that tything which is of Fanecurt, taking nothing of the tything of Albiniaco, except only the said amends and the said suit as is aforesaid.

And they say that Walter de Albiniaco, son and heir of the said Henry de Albiniaco, now holds the said manor by right of inheritance, and does no suit at the county or at any hundred. And he has his gallows and stake in the said manor.

Robert Gurnay.

Extent made of the lands and tenements of Roger de Gurnay in co. Wilts, on Sunday next after the feast of St. Augustine at Sermecote, 53 Henry III [1269], before Sir Elias Kotel, subescheator of the said county, by Thomas de la Postern, Roger de Molendin', Philip de Molendin', Thomas de Sconerston, Henry le Walays, Hamond(?) de Leygrave, Robert de Aula, John de Leytreton, John Barbofte, William de Suthsynton, Roger de la Putte, and William de la Putte, who say that Robert de Gurnay held of the Earl of Gloucester in chief the manor of Sermekote for half a knight's fee.

And they say concerning the extent of Sermekote that the site of the court with the garden, curtilage, and herbage, is worth by the year 6s. 8d. And the dovecote 2s.

There are there in the demesne of arable land 120 acres, each acre whereof is worth by the year 5d. Sum, 50s. There are there in the demesne 16 acres of meadow, each acre whereof is worth by the year 9d. Sum, 12s. The several pasture is worth by the year 4s. There are there in villeinage 7 virgates of land, each virgate whereof pays by the year 5s. Sum, 35s. Each virgate of land gives to the larder 20d. Sum, 11s. 8d. The works of the same are worth in money 17½d. There are there 2 cottars, who pay by the year 12d. There are there of the rent of assize of the free tenants 6s. 2d. The pleas and perquisites are worth by the year 4s. Sum of the extent of this manor, £6 13s. 11½d.

The advowson of the church belongs to the heir of Roger de Gurnay, and the church is worth 26s. 8d.

Ancellus de Gurnay is the son and next heir of Robert de Gurnay, and is of full age.

William le Taverner.

Writ dated at Windsor 28th May, 53 Henry III [1269], directed to John le Moyne, sub-escheator in co. Wilts, commanding him to ascertain whether the houses in Marlebergh which were of William le Taverner, who was lately drowned as it is said, are the escheat of the King by the death of the said William, etc.

Inquisition made on Saturday next after the feast of St. Barnabas the Apostle, 53 Henry III [1269], before Sir Elias Cotell, escheator, by the oath of Richard de Hospring, Peter Parmentar, William Delboe, William Heved, Robert Sarr, Thomas Pistoris, John Truttuc, Gilbert Tripp, William Harenest, Roger Barun, Thomas Wade, and Robert Bachelor, who say that Juliana, daughter of Walter de Bristoll, was in the wardship of Master Roger de la Grene, and the same Roger had conversation with William Tavernar, who is now deceased, that the said William should marry the said Juliana, which said William then became affianced to the said Juliana, and after they had plighted their troth the said Juliana delivered all her tenements to Thomas de la Grene by a charter, by the compulsion of her friends, but the said Thomas had no seisin thereof and received no advantage from the same at any time, and when the said William married the said Juliana the said Thomas de la Grene came and gave to the said William with the said Juliana all his right which he had in free marriage at the door of the church, of all the tenements which happened to the said Juliana in heritage by Walter de Bristoll her father; wherefore they say that the King cannot have that escheat.

Matthew de Bessill.

Inquisition made on Saturday next after the feast of St. Lucy, 53 Henry III [1268], at Wodhull, before Elias Cotele, sub-escheator in co. Wilts, by the oath of Walter Mandriut, Henry de Beinton, Everard de Lytlecote, William Paris, William Quentin, William Quentin [sic], Reginald de Lavinton, Robert le Jay, Ralph de Stokes, Richard Grandin, Richard de Clive, and Peter le Humme, who say that Matthew de Bessill was seised in his demesne as of fee of the manor of Woedhull on the day that he died, and there are in the same manor 250 acres of arable land in the demesne, and each acre by itself is worth 8*d.* by the year. Sum, £8 6*s.* 8*d.* There are there 30 acres of meadow, and each acre is worth by the year 16*d.* Sum, 40*s.* And there is pasture for 2 plough horses, and it is worth 16*d.* And there is there pasture for 16 oxen and 8 cows. Sum, 13*s.* 4*d.* Of the profit of the houses, gardens, dove-cotes, herbage, and "Suaſ," 26*s.* 8*d.* There is there a pasture for 100 sheep at one time, and it is worth 2*s.* Concerning the free tenants, they say that Richard Grandin holds 2 virgates of land for the which he pays by the year 1 lb. of pepper, and it is worth 6*d.* Ralph de Stokes holds 1 virgate and a half of land, and pays for the virgate 1*d.*, and for the half-virgate $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of pepper, and it is worth 3*d.* Of the other free tenants, viz., of 3 cottars, 5*s.*, of the Prior of Ambresbery for tithes, 5*s.* Robert Carpenter pays for a certain mansion and croft 5*s.*

There are 9 tenants there, each of whom holds 5 acres of land, and the service of each of them is worth by the year 4*s.* Sum, 36*s.*

William Spraggy holds one house, for the which he pays one last (lestian) and 2 collars (colers), and they are worth 2*d.*

The said Matthew held the said manor of Woedhull in chief of the King, paying to the Exchequer of the King at Easter in each year 4 barbed arrows.

John Besill, son of the said Matthew, is his next heir, and will be of the age of 23 years at the feast of St. Peter in Cathedra next coming.

The said 9 tenants pay by the year 42 hens, and they are worth 4*s.* 6*d.* by the year.

Sum-total, £15 4*s.* 2*d.*

Alice, some time the wife of William de Englechenile, holds the third part of the said manor by reason of her dower.

The King took the homage of John de Bezilles, son and heir of Matthew de Bezill, lately deceased, of all the lands and tenements which the said Matthew his father held of the King in chief on the day that he died, and gave to him those lands and tenements. And therefore it is commanded to John le Moyne, escheator on this side the Trent, that having accepted security from the said John for his reasonable relief to be paid to the Exchequer of the King, he cause full seisin to be made to the said John, without delay, of all the said lands and tenements whereof the said Matthew was seised in his demesne as of fee in his bailiwick, and which by reason of his death are taken into the hands of the King.

Witness the King at Winchester, 25th December, 53 Henry III [1268].

The King, by the fine of £100 which Peter Malore made with the executors of Alianora, formerly Queen of England, consort of the King, whereof he should pay one moiety to the Exchequer at Easter next coming and the other moiety at Michaelmas, granted to the said Peter the wardship of the lands and tenements which were of John de Bezilles, deceased, who held of the King in chief, to hold with the knight's fees, advowsons of churches, dowers when they shall happen, wards, reliefs, etc., until the lawful age of the heir of the said John, together with the marriage of the said heir.

Witness the King at Westminster, 6th February, 20 Edward I [1292].

John de Chyrebury.

Inquisition made at Sende on Thursday in the vigil of St. Nicholas, 54 Henry III [1269], before Sir E. Cotele, then escheator, by the oath of Robert de Aubervill, John de Caunbo, Nicholas Waz, Peter Benet, Hugh de Baudeham, Richard Purchaz, Roger de Lilleshull, Walter de la Rude, Roger le Gras, Hugh de Wofuemere, Robert de Lupegat, and Nicholas Gernet, who say that John de Chyrebury held of the King 15 librates of land in Sende on the day of his death by the fourth part of a knight's fee, and the said land is worth so much by the year on account of the increment which the said John has put on the said land.

Wyganus, son of the said John, is his next heir and is of full age.

The said John held one coppice of the King in Sende for 12d. in serjeanty.

The said John held £7 12s. 1d. of land in Winterburn of the Earl of Hereford for one knight's fee. And he also had the advowson of the Church of the said vill on the day of his death, and the said Church is worth by the year 60s.

Walter de Dunstanvill.

Inquisition made at Castelumbe on Saturday next after the Purification of the Blessed Mary, 54 Henry III [1270], before Sir Elias Cotele, escheator in co. Wilts, by Robert Caynel, Henry Herberd, William de Eswelle, William Water, William Henri, Roger de Caynes, Adam le Jevene, Henry le Blunt, Robert Dru, William Selewine, Osbert de Capitewilla (?), John le Buriman, viz., when Sir Walter de Dunstanvilla died, and how much land he held, etc., who say that

The said Walter died on Tuesday next after the feast of St. Hilary in the said year, and that he was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day that he died of the manor of Cumbe, which is worth per annum, clear, £20 3s. 2½d., and of the manor of Cullerne, which is worth £15 12s. 7d., and the manor of Sterle, which is worth £22 15s., and the manor of Hurdecote, which is worth £15 14s. 10d., and the manor of Hegtredeburi, which is worth £52 10s.

Petronilla, daughter of the said William de Dunstanvilla, is his next heir, and will be aged 22 years on the day of St. Peter in Cathedra in the said year.

Robert de Montefort married the said Petronilla. He [sic] owed to the King for the said land the service of 3 knights. He did not hold in co. Wilts any land except of the King. All the free tenants and others who owed to pay rent to the said Walter were wont to pay the rent at 4 terms of the year, viz., Easter, the feast of the Nativity of St. John, the feast of St. Michael, and the feast of St. Thomas the Apostle.

He had the advowson of the Church of Cumbe, and the Church is worth per annum 5 marks. He also had the advowson of the Church of Collerna, and it is worth per annum 20 marks.

Albreda de Boterell.

Inquisition made on Friday next before the feast of St. Margaret, 54 Henry III [1270], before Elias Cotele, then escheator in co. Wilts, of the lands and tenements which Albreda de Boterell held in her demesne as of fee on the day that she died in the said county, by the oath of Richard de Pureshutt, Philip de Lullehull, Walter Huscard, John Savage, Stephen le Tot, John Fabri, Roger le Frund, Richard Turgis, Thomas Compernage, Nicholas Dodde, Walter Hude, Walter de Hayhe, who say that

The said Albreda held of the King in chief on the day that she died in the vill of Estgremsted and Westdune 2 carucates of land by the service of one knight to be made to the King, and they are worth per annum, clear, £10.

And the said Albreda held of the Bishop of Winchester, at Haupteworthe, 100 solidates of land, making to the said Bishop of scutage as much as belongs to one knight's fee.

Oliver de Ingeham is her next heir, and is aged 40 years and more.

John Tregoz.

Writ dated at Merleberge 3rd December, 54 Henry III [1269].

Inquisition taken at Wilton before Roger de Clifford, justice of the forest on this side the Trent, by Robert de Raynes, chief forester of Braden and other his foresters, and by James de Grundewell, Thomas Maureward, Richard de la Leye, and John de Hanekynton, virderers, Thomas de Dodeford, William Spileman, Walter Manduyt, Peter de Mordun, William Bailemund, Anketill de Lydierd, Richard de Wydyhull, Richard Costard, Thomas Neel, Richard le Archer, Thomas de la Hyde, and Robert Esturmy, regards of the said forest, and by other honest and lawful men of those parts, whether it would be to the damage of the King, or to the hurt of his said forest, if he should grant to John Tregoz that he may enclose his wood of Shortegrave, which is within the said forest, with ditch and hedge, and make a park of it at his will, etc., who say that it would not be to the damage of the King nor to the hurt of his said forest if he should grant to the said John that he may enclose his said wood with ditch and hedge and make a park thereof at his will. And that that wood shall be distant from the great cover of the said forest by half a league, and that it shall contain in itself 20 acres by the perch of the King of the forest. And that that is not the place where the beasts of the lord repair and access.

Prior of St. Margaret de Merleberge.

Inquisition taken at Merleberge on Saturday next after the feast of St. Michael, 54 Henry III [1270], by the foresters, virderers, regards, and all the other ministers of the forest of Savernak, and by other honest and lawful men joined with them, viz., Philip Fraunceys, Walter de Berewyk, William Crespin, Geoffrey Barbast, Thomas de Mapeleton, Thomas de Kenete, Adam Syward, Walter le Pyk, Picot de Flexbury, John de Bosco, William le Toppere, and John de Evesbury, whether it would be to the damage of the King or to the hurt of his forest of Savernak, or to the damage or hurt of others, if he should grant to the Prior of St. Margaret de Merleberge that he may have in his said forest 16 oxen and 4 cows every day in the pasture of the said forest for ever or not, who say that it is not to the damage of the King, nor to the hurt of his said forest, nor to the hurt or damage of others, if he should grant to the said Prior that he may have 16 oxen and 4 cows every day in the pasture of the said forest for ever, without the lands (landas) of the said forest. The pasture for all the oxen and cows might be worth by the year 40*d.* It would be less to the damage of the King if he should grant to the said Prior the said liberty throughout the whole of the said forest rather than in some parts, because then the forest would be less charged in parts, nevertheless this to be without the said lands as is aforesaid.

Prior of Okeburn.

Inquisition taken before Henry de Monte Forti at Marleberge on Thursday next after the feast of St. James the Apostle, 54 Henry III [1270], by the command of the King, by the oath of Thomas de la Grene, Thomas Wade, William Heved, Henry de Ospring, John le Greye, John Heruy, Henry de la Gilhalle, Sampson Juvenis, Robert Hervest, Thomas Cramer, Richard (?) de Wynton, and Richard de Aulton, of the vill of Merleberge, Richard de la Barre, Elias Freteoxe, John de Wolfhal, and Nicholas Emelot, of the hundred of Kynewardeston, Walter de Berewyk, Geoffrey Barebast, Robert de Kingeburn, Adam Siward, Ernaldus Francis, Walter le Pyk, Thomas Jop, and Pycot de Flexeberge, of the hundred of Selkel, Thomas de Cardenill, Nicholas Stigant, Roger le Grant, John le Fugheler, Robert de Wockes, Peter Elys, John Lovelot, Richard le Grant, Philip Burgeys, William Gerard, Nicholas Payn, of the hundred of Thornhull, that whereas the Prior of Okeburn and his predecessors from time immemorial have had and held a certain mill outside Merleberge, in the parish of Mildehall, whether up to this time they have been wont to have a cart itinerating in the said vill, seeking the corn of those of the said vill who wished to grind the same at the said mill, as it is said, and if the constable of the castle of Marleborough prevents the said Prior from having such a cart as he ought to have, and hitherto has been wont to have, and took the distresses of the said Prior for this reason, and still detains them to the great damage of the said Prior, etc., etc.

And Roger de Chesne, constable of the castle of Marleborough, came and acknowledged that he distrained the said Prior, and justly because, whereas the King committed to him the castle of Marleborough to keep, he commanded him by his writ to cause the lands and tenements belonging to the said castle to be extended, so by the inquisition thereof made he found that the said Prior never had the said cart so itinerating except by the licence of the constables of the said castle and for their giving.

And the jurors say that the said Prior and his ancestors were wont to have seisin of the said cart for 60 years and more, and that the constables for the time being took that cart of the said Prior and his ancestors, but how it was delivered they know not, but it was delivered without the command of the King each turn, whereupon they say that they know well that the said Prior and his predecessors were accustomed to have that cart so itinerating, and for the long seisin which they have had thereof up to this time they know that the said Prior and his successors ought to have the same.

And they say that the King has damage to the value of 1 mark by the year.

Matthew de Columbarius.

Inquisition made at Hardene on Monday next after the feast of St Mark the Evangelist, 54 Henry III [1270], by Henry Esturmy, forester, and Walter de Lillebon, Herbert de Stokke, Richard de Suthcote, and William Malewayn, verderers, by John le Pestur, Bartholomew le Marchaunt, Thomas Gerveys, William Michel, John Veisin, Elias Fretoxe, William de Werewelle, Geoffrey Leverer, Peter Bacun, William del Marays, John de Heywell, Adam Attemere, and Henry de Stoppeham, whether it be to the damage of the King or to the hurt of his forest of Savernake if he should grant to Matthew de Columbarius that he should not expeditate his dogs and those of his men of his manor of Chessebury, and that they should be quit of the expedition of their dogs or not, etc., etc., who say that the said Matthew is, and ought to be quit, and that he and his ancestors have always up to the present time been quit of the expedition of their own dogs in his said manor, but their men there had and were wont to have their dogs expeditated by the assize of the forest, and if any dog was found not expeditated when view or inquisition was made of the dogs not expeditated in the forest, viz., every third year, he gave for it 3s. in the name of mercy, according to the tenour of the charter of the liberties of the forest, but very rarely was any dog found there not expeditated, whereby the jurors do not know how to estimate the value of the said expedition by the year, and that it would not be to the damage of the King except by the loss of the said mercy, which most rarely happens, if the King granted to the said Matthew that his men may be quit for ever of the expedition of their dogs in his said manor.

The said manor is within the meets of the regard, but so far distant from the cover of the said forest where the beasts of the King repair that no damage will ever happen to him concerning the said beasts by reason of the said dogs there not being expeditated.

George de Cantilupe.

WITNESSES brought to prove the age of George de Cantilupe, before the Council of the King at Westminster, on Sunday from the day of Easter in 3 weeks, viz., in the vigil of the Apostles Philip and James, 1 Edward I [1273].

Brother Peter, Prior of Honiton or the order of the Carthusians, says that the said G. [sic] was born at Bergeveny on Good Friday, in the 35th or 36th year of the reign of King Henry, father of the King that now is [1251 or 1252], and this he knows because he was at one time chaplain to William de Cantilupe, grandfather of the said G., and at the time the said G. was born he was attending to the execution of the will of the said William de Cantilupe in the place of William de Cantilupe, Bishop of Worcester, and William de Cantilupe, father of the said G., executors of the said will. The said William, grandfather of the said G., died in the year of the birth of the said G. or in the preceding year. The report of the country is that the said G. was aged 21 years on Good Friday last past.

Brother John, Master of the Hospital of St. Mark of Billeswyk, outside Bristol, says that he knows for certain, according to the report of the country and by the relation of trustworthy people, that the said G. was aged 21 years on Good Friday last past, and this he knows because he was ordained priest 25 years ago, and the father of the said G. died at Calneston now 18 years ago, and the said G. was born at Bergeveny 3 years before his death. And this appears clear to him because he was a native of the parts of Calneston where the said William died and had land.

Alan de Wanton, knight, agrees with the priors as to the age and birth of the said G., and says that he was aged 22 years last Good Friday, and this he knows by the common report of the county and by knights and other trustworthy people who told him in good faith.

Peter de Bruges knows that the said G. was born 21 years ago, because he was then at Bruges Walteri with the constable of the castle, who in the morrow of Low Sunday next following the said Good Friday held the hundred of Bruges, where report reached them of the birth of the said G. at Bergeveny. About one or two years after the birth of the said G., King Henry, father of the King that now is, crossed over into Gascony.

Robert de Trillek agrees with the above, and adds that he knows it by inspection of the chronicles in the Priory of Bergeveny, and he heard the men of Bergeveny disputing among themselves as to the age of the said G., and in the end they agreed that he was 21 years old in that year.

Thomas Creyk agrees with the above, and he knows it because Anastasia, his wife, was first married to Richard Wason, who had by her a son who is now canon at Briweton, and who was born in the same year as the said G., to wit, in the feast of All Saints now 21 years ago, and the said G. was born at Bergeveny on Good Friday next following.

Robert Blundel well knows that the said G. is aged 21 because he was sent as a messenger to Bergeveny by Sir Thomas Corbet to William, father of the said G., to seek for the land of the said Thomas, his lord of Lydeham, who on Wednesday, in the week of Easter, came to Bergeveny, where he found the wife of the said William in childbed with the said G.

John de Baskervill knows the same by the account of knights and other trustworthy people of the country of Bergeveny.

Henry Murdak says as above.

John Faukes, of Dertemuth, knows the age of the said G. by inspection of the chronicles in the Priory of Totnes (Totton), in co. Devon.

William de Merle knows the age of the said G. by the oath of Sir Adam de Gurdun and other trustworthy people who were of the household of William de Cantilupe, father of the said G.

John de Pycheford agrees with the said William de Merle, and adds that he married a kinswoman of the said G., viz. the daughter of William de Ebroiris. And he diligently enquired as to the age of the said G. of Sir Adam de Gurdun and Sir Robert (?) de Tregoz and others who were of the household of the said William de Cantilupe, father of the said G.

Robert, son of Nicholas.

At the end of an inquisition taken at Bolemer on Monday next after the Conception of the Blessed Mary, 2 Edward I [1273], occurs the following note:—

Be it known that the said Robert, son of Nicholas, had in co. Dorset a certain manor which is called Cynnok, of the which he did not die seised because Sir Ralph de Bakeput held and still holds the same of the gift of King Henry by the dictum of Kenely-worth as it is said.

Also Sir Robert Waliraunt held a certain manor in co. Wilts which is called Herham in like manner, which was of the said Robert, and of which he did not die seised; therefore may it please the Lord Chancellor to give me to understand what was to be done concerning the said manors.

Walter de Aubeny.

Inquisition made at Wichford on Friday next before the feast of St. Martin, 1 Edward I [1273], of the manor of Wichford, which was of Walter de Aubeny, before Walter Lovel, sub-escheator in co. Wilts, by John de Langeford, Peter Gray, Robert Sireman, Herebert de Childhamtone, William Weliband, Alan de Langeford, John Richir, Roger de la Sale, Simon le Fraunceys, Geoffrey Warin, William Bartelot, and Walter le Frye, who say that

There are there 4 carucates of land containing in themselves 500 acres of land, price of the acre 4*d.* Sum, £8 6*s.* 8*d.*

There are there 32½ acres 1 rood of meadow, price of the acre 18*d.* Sum, 49*s.* 1½*d.*

There is there a pasture indivisible for 32 beasts, and it is worth per annum 10*s.* 8*d.*, viz., 4*d.* per head.

There is there a pasture for 400 sheep, and it is worth by the year 8*s.* 4*d.*, because the pasture is poor.

Of the rent of assize by the year £9 16*s.* 9¾*d.* at the 4 terms of the year by equal portions, viz., of 18 customars holding virgates of land.

Of the rent of chersetum at the feast of St. Martin, 158 cocks and hens, price per head 1*d.* Sum, 13*s.* 2*d.*

There is there a certain mill, and the issue is worth per annum 20*s.* The easements of the court, with the garden and curtilage, are worth per annum 13*s.* 4*d.*

There is there a certain dovecote, and the issue is worth per annum 6*s.* 8*d.*

The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth per annum 13*s.* 4*d.*

There is there a certain chapel belonging to the said manor, and it is worth 40*s.*

Walter de Aubeny held the said manor of the heirs of Robert de Aubeny by the service of half a knight's fee in chief.

The said Walter, on the day that he died, held nothing of the King in chief in co. Wilts or elsewhere.

Henry de Aubeny, brother of the said Walter, is his next heir, and is of full age.

Sum of the sums, £26 18s. 2d.

Nicholas Burdun.

Inquisition taken at Paulesholte on Monday next, in the vigil of the Decollation of St. John the Baptist, 1 Edward I [1273], before Walter Luvel, sub-escheator in co. Wilts, by the oath of Wygan de Chereburg, Richard Purchas, William Sturdi, John Kambo, William Self, Reginald de la Nywetone, Stephen Daniel, Nicholas Siward, John de Chereburg, Hugh de Baldeham, Walter de la Forde, and Gilbert le Vel, who say that Sir Nicholas Burdun had 3 carucates of land in the vill of Paulesholte, which contain in themselves 240 acres of land, price of the acre 3*d.*; also 33 acres of meadow, price of the acre 18*d.*, and the dove-cote is extended at 12*d.* The profit of the garden and the easement of the court are worth per annum 10*s.* 6*d.* The profit of the wood within the manor is worth per annum 3*s.* The profit of the wood within the forest is extended at 2*s.*, and contains in itself 14 acres of land which is distant from the manor by 5 leagues, and nothing can be taken without the licence of the forester. The pasture for 40 oxen and 25 beasts at ease is extended at 32*s.* 6*d.*, viz., 6*d.* a head. The pasture for 200 sheep is extended at 3*s.* because it is poor and unwholesome. The pannage of the pigs, according to more or less, is extended at 18*d.* The profit of the mill, saving the cost, is extended at 10*s.* Of the aid of villeins, 10*s.* by the year. Of the rent of the free tenants by the year, 36*s.*, to be paid at the 4 terms of the year by equal portions. Also the rent of customars and cottars by the year, £4 10*s.* 6*d.*, to be paid at the 4 terms of the year. The rent of hens and cocks, viz. 60, is extended at 5*s.* 4*d.* The pleas and perquisites and casualties extend to 20*s.*

Robert Burdun is the son and heir of Sir Nicholas Burdun, and completed his 27th year on the vigil of SS. Simon and Jude last past.

Matilda Walerand.

Writ dated 25th October, 1 Edward I.

The King to the Sheriff of Wilts, commanding that an extent and appraisement be made of the third part of the manors of Langeford, Whadden, and Harnham, with the advowson of the Church of Whadden, which Matilda, who was the wife of Robert Walerand, claims as her dower against Alan de Plogenet, whereupon the said Alan calls to warranty the King, who had the custody of the body and lands of Robert, son of William Walerand, grandson [nepot.] and heir of Robert Walerand, against her.

Extent and appraisement made of the third part of the manors of Langeford, Wadden, and Harnham, by William le Buteler, Peter de Molendino, Walter Thomas, Ralphe le Franke, Thomas le Rus, John Martin, Richard le Showvere, Philip Buterstyp, John le Jeofne, Richard le Jeofne, Walter ad Pontem, Robert Ode, and Richard Turgys, who say that

In the manor of Langeford there are in the demesne 150 acres of arable land, price of each acre 6*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 25*s.* There are there 16 acres of meadow, price of each acre 2*s.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 10*s.* 8*d.* There are there 8 acres of pasture appraised at 10*s.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 40*d.* The garden is appraised at 26*s.* 7½*d.*, whereof the third part is 8*s.* 10½*d.* The dovecote is appraised per annum at 5*s.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 20*d.* In the rent of the free tenants 25*s.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 8*s.* 4*d.* Also 3 capons, price 9*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 3*d.* Of the rent of the customars 35*s.* 7½*d.* with chersetum, whereof the third part is 11*s.* 10½*d.*

In the manor of Wadden there are in the demesne 200 acres of arable land, price of each acre 5*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 27*s.* 9*d.* and the third part of a penny. There are there 16 acres of meadow, price of each acre 18*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 8*s.* The pasture of the oxen, cows, and sheep is appraised at 14*s.* 4*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 4*s.* 9*d.* and the third part of a penny. The garden is appraised at one mark, whereof the sum of the third part is 4*s.* 5*d.* and the third part of a penny. The rabbit warren is appraised at 3*s.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 12*d.* The rent of freemen and villeins is 72*s.* and 1 lb. of pepper, price 12*d.*, whereof the sum of the third part is 24s. 4d. Also for the works of 13 villeins, if they are sold, 26s., whereof the sum of the third part is 8s. 8d. Also for chersetum 17d., whereof the sum of the third part is 5½d. and the third part of a halfpenny. Also in ploughing, 4s., whereof the sum of the third part is 16d. The Church of Wadden is worth per annum 7 marks. Sum of the said third parts, except the advowson of the Church, £4 os. 9½d. and the third part of a halfpenny.

At Estharnham there are in all things 100s., whereof the sum of the third part is 33s. 4d.

The King.

View of the state of the manor of Clarendon and of the forest of Clarendon with their appurtenances made on the day of St. Michael, 1 Edward I [1273], by Walter de Stircheslegh, then sheriff of Wilts, and by Sir Hugh le Engleis, John de Grimstede, John de Monemue, and Walter de Dernford, knights, by command of the King, who say that

By the view which they made the hall of the King requires a roof of shingles and to be mended. Also the buttery without the wall of the same hall on the north part. The pantry and butlery are in good condition, with the exception that 2 windows are wanting in the butlery. In the buckhouse [hircario] 3 windows are wanting. The kitchen of the King needs a roof. The servants' kitchen is in good condition. The scullery needs the mending of a certain gutter. The cloister between the hall and the said kitchen needs a roof and the mending of the gutters. The chamber and chapel of the King are in good condition. The gallery between the hall and the King's chamber needs a roof. The wheel of the well needs repairing. The joists of the inner chamber of the Queen were burnt when the King was last at Clarendon, and it greatly needs repairing and mending. The gutters of the Queen's chapel with the ceiling and painting of the same require repairing and mending. The gallery between the King's chamber and the Queen's chamber needs roofing and repair of the gutters. The room with the fireplace beyond the great cellar is in ruins and almost unroofed, wherefore it greatly needs repairing. And the other room beyond the said cellar needs a roof. The combing [cumblum] of Nevile's chamber is rotten in one part, and the other part needs roofing. The steps to the postern are broken and need repairing. The battlement gutters [alure] of the same postern are entirely unleaded, but they were never before leaded. And the gutters of the said postern need repairing. The room of the Queen's wardrobe needs to be roofed and mended in the gutters. The saltery, chaundlery, and wardrobe of the King need roofing. The wardrobe of Maunsel's chamber needs roofing. The almonry needs roofing, and the chimney of the same is in ruins, and the wall of the said almonry needs to be repaired in parts. The stable of the said almonry needs roofing. In the common (?) foreign chamber there is wanting a door, 5 windows, and planks, whereof there is great need of repair. Two rooms for the King's children need roofing, and there are wanting there 5 windows and one door. The room of John le Fauknur and the house of the barber require roofing and repair of the walls. The King's stable and the stable of the bailiff need rafters, and manger [manjuris], and roofings. And it is fitting that the small gate there be made anew.

And so it is seen that Stephen de Baddeworth (?) gave up the said manor in a poor state, and John Russel received it in the same state.

And they say of the forest that many oaks are blown down to the ground at Clarendon, and very many branches there have been cut off as well in times past as recently, but the underwood there is well kept. As to the venison, they say that there are not many old deer there, but it is reasonably well filled with deer and young beasts.

The park of Clarendon is badly enclosed. And the demesne wood of the King at Milcet is well kept as well as regards the vert as the venison.

The wood of the King at Gravelings is badly kept as regards vert. There are there many wild goats, but few other beasts.

William Mauduit.

Inquisition made by Nicholas de Lusteshall, James de Grundeswell, William de Lusteshull, Simon de Mordon, Henry de Grundeswell, Robert de Wydihull, Elias Underhull, Henry le Waleys, William son of John, William de Walecote, John Aylmer, and Henry le Osilyur, who say that William Mauduyt was indicted at Yvecestre before William Everard, Alan de Wanton, and their fellows, justices of the King for the gaol delivery of Yvecestre in co. Somerset, for the theft of 2 horses which were taken out of the cart of a strange carter, and was hanged at the suit of the said carter, and also because he broke out of the gaol of Gloucester and escaped thence.

He held at Westwydihull in co. Wilts half a knight's fee of John Mauduyt, whereof the year and the waste belong to the King, by reason of the felony aforesaid which he perpetrated, but the land lies uncultivated. The meadow and pasture of the said uncultivated land is worth by the year 20s., and the rent of assize is worth by the year 32s., and the waste of the houses is worth half a mark. And after the said William was hanged John Aylmer, bailiff of the Countess of Albemarle in the hundred of Worthe, took the said tenement into the hands of the King out of the hands of Sir Peter de Chavent, to whom the King now 3 years ago gave the same, and the said John ought to answer for the same.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 1 Edward I, No. 59.

William Mauduit.

Inquisition made on Tuesday next before the feast of St. Margaret, 1 Edward I [1273], by Nicholas Stigant, William Witsond, Symon de Mordon, Thomas de Wikham, John son of Gregory, Nicholas de Insula, John de Hardinton, Roger de Camera, Nicholas Payen, Anketil de . . ., Robert de Leye, and John de Clive, clerk, who say that

The land which was of William Maudute in West Widihull was not in the hand of the King except from Thursday before the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary up to the Tuesday aforesaid, and he held the said land of Sir John Treygoz, paying therefor yearly for the ward of the castle of Ewias half a mark; and John Ayelmer, bailiff of the hundred of Worth, took all the issues of the said land during the said time, and shall answer to the King for one whole year and a day unless the King shall make another keeper. And it is worth by the year in rent of assize 32s., in meadow one mark, in pasture 10s., because the land is cultivated, and the house upon the messuage to be sold 10s.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 1 Edward I, No. 59.

Hawisia de London.

Extent made at Havedom manor formerly of Hawisia de London, in co. Wilts, before Sir Stephen de Drues, subescheator in the said county, on Friday next after the feast of St. Michael, 2 Edward I [1274], by Thomas le Nuny, John Page, Henry Nigr', Richard le Mayster, James de Grondwell, Roger de la Burgie, Thomas Alburn, Walter Byscope, John Nouum, Henry Cutee (?), Walter Keynes, and Peter Bedell, who say that

There are there 200 acres of arable land, and each acre is worth by itself 6d. And 100 acres of meadow, and each acre is worth by itself 12d. Also pasture for 60 beasts, and the pasture of each beast is worth by itself 8d. Also one dovecote, which is worth per annum 2s. 8d. The easements of the court and garden are worth per annum 3s. There is there one vivary which is worth 12d. The rent of assize is worth per annum £9. The Autumn works are worth 21s. 8d. The pleas and perquisites by the year are worth 6s. 8d. The water-mill is worth per annum 20s. Also chersetum per annum 2s. 11d. The yearly tallage in the said manor is 66s. 8d.

Also the extent made by the same of the manor of Inglesham on the same day and year. They say that there are there 60 acres of arable land, and each acre is worth by itself 6d. Also 25 acres of meadow, and each acre is worth by itself 12d. There is no pasture except by purchase. The rent of assize per annum is 14s. The works per annum are worth 17½d. The easements of the court and garden per annum amount to 16d.

The said manor of Havedon is held of the King in chief by the service of half a fee, and the manor of Inglesham is held of the King in chief by the serjeanty of keeping one hoe [hostorium].

The said Hawisia was thereof seised in her demesne as of fee on the day that she died; and Sir Pagan de Cadurciis is her son and next heir, and is of full age.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 2 Edward I, No. 7.

Nicholas de Haberesham.

Inquisition and extent made at Comptun of the lands and tenements which were of Nicholas de Haveresham, deceased, on Saturday next after the feast of St. Gregory, 2 Edward I [1274], before Walter Lovel, sub-escheator in co. Philip Marmyon.

Inquisition made at Bremelrigge before Sir Hyldebrand, sheriff and escheator of Wilts, on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 4 Edward I [1276], of the lands and tenements which were of Philip Marmyon, by the oath of Humphrey de Brudelig, Walter Sewale, Laurence de Bosco, William le Moynnyr, Simon Horkedale, John de Holeweye, Arnulphus de Hewode, William Grunny, William Drunin, Nicholas de Haverigge (?), Saverick de Penlig', William Colsweyn, William Blanchard, Hugh de Kuderigge, Thomas de Kuderigge, Roger de Fonte, Roger le Sansyr, Ralph le Veyn, and Roger Hurdy, who say that

Richard Dansy held in Bracton and Dulton certain lands and tenements of the serjeanty of the King for the which he kept the King's larder, and the said serjeanty was arrented in part at the time of his death to the said William. To him succeeded Richard Dansy, his son and heir, who changed his service without warrant for another, viz., to find for the King one (?) servant [serviens] on horseback . . . in his army for . . . days at his own cost. For this change the said Richard made his fine for himself and his tenants for the said tenements before Sir Robert Passelewe with their consent, viz., 10 marks per annum. The said tenants answered the said Richard for the third part of his tenement per annum, and the said Richard paid the residue of the said fine for the part which he held because he changed his service without warrant, and he shall do the service of half a knight's fee by the year. The said Philip Marmiun held thereof one virgate of land which was arrented at 2s., to be paid to the King by the hand of the said Richard, and nevertheless he shall make to the lord of that fee by agreement between [the said Richard and the said Philip] the services therefor first due and accustomed, and which virgate of land Peter son of Warin claims to have of the gift of the said Philip. The said Richard Dansy the son was in the wardship of the King until he came to his lawful age, and then he took his lands and tenements and was a pauper and unable to pay the said rent at certain terms as his father had been wont to pay it. Then the sheriff of Wilts commanded the bailiff of the hundred of Westbury to distrain him and all his tenants to pay the said rent, and so by distraint the said tenants paid the said rent by the hands of the same to the said sheriff. The said Philip held nothing in any other way of the King.

He held of Sir Reginald de Pavely 6 virgates of land in the manor of Westbury in chief, which contain 120 acres of arable land in the demesne, and each acre is worth by itself 6*d.*: sum £3. He held of the fee of Sir Thomas Maudul in the same manor 6 virgates of land, which contain 120 acres of land, and each acre is worth by itself 6*d.*: sum £3; making therefor knight's service for the third part of one knight's fee to the said 2 lords when scutage shall happen to be levied. He held there 20 acres of meadow of the same, and each acre is worth by itself 2*s.*: sum 40*s.* There is there pasture for 12 oxen and the pasture of each is worth 6*d.*, and pasture for 12 cows and the pasture of each is worth by itself 4*d.*, and pasture for 12 beasts at ease and the pasture of each is worth by itself 3*d.*: sum 13*s.* There was there of assize per annum 57*s.* 6*d.* The services and customs of certain tenants in villeinage are worth per annum 9*s.* 3*d.* The chersetum of the same is worth per annum 2*s.* 0½*d.* Sum, 68*s.* 9½*d.* The pleas and perquisites there are worth per annum 6*s.* 8*d.* The easements of the court, together with the profit of the garden and dovecote, are worth per annum 6*s.* 8*d.* Sum-total, £12 16*s.* 1½*d.*

The said Philip had 2 sons, the one called Philip and the other William; and the said Philip the firstborn, who died before his father, kept a certain woman for his wife as long as he lived, and by her had a son called Roger, but they do not know for certain whether he married her. The said William, the younger son, married and had a son. The said Philip the father had 2 daughters, who are of full age, viz. Eva and Ysolde.

Roger Oliver.

Extent and inquisition made of the lands and tenements which were of Roger Oliver in the vill of Swaleclyve, before Sir Hyldebrond de Lond', sheriff and escheator of Wilts, on Saturday in the Morrow of St. Valentine, 4 Edward I [1276], by Richard de Haveneber', Robert de Swaleclyve, William Peyk, Geoffrey Wysdom, Richard Lussh, William de Bewyk, William Mathy of Nippedred, William Borhogg, Robert le Tayllur, Stephen Lugg, John Quarter, and William Spone, who say that

Roger Oliver held his court in that vill of John de Maundevely in chief, and that court is worth with the garden 4*s.* per annum. The said Roger also held a curtilage wherein is situated a messuage, and it is worth per annum 3s. He also held of the said John 3 virgates of land in the demesne in the said vill, which contain 71 acres, and are worth per annum 35s. 6d., price of each acre 6d. Also of the said John in the said vill a certain little meadow, which is worth per annum 12d. The chase belonging to the said tenement is worth per annum 6s. The said Roger might have every year one plough horse and 8 beasts (?) in a certain pasture, and that pasture is worth per annum 12d.

William Persune held one messuage with a curtilage and 2 acres of land for the whole life of the said William and Matilda, his first wife, and gives per annum 3s. 3d., and digs for flax (?) [ad Liñ] for one day, and that service is worth $\frac{1}{2}$ d. because he eats altogether with the lord. He will help to make heap [mulloñ], and that service is worth $\frac{1}{2}$ d. And he will help to carry the meadows for half a day, and that service is worth $\frac{1}{2}$ d.

Henry Scorevell holds a messuage and curtilage and 2 acres of land at the will of the lord, and gives per annum 3s., and does the services like William above.

Thomas West holds one piece of land of the fee of the said Roger, and gives per annum 1d. Sum, 51s. 7d.

For which said tenement there are paid every year at the court of Sutton which was of John de Maundevely 19s., out of which there ought to be paid to Sir John de Perham 2s. 6d. by the hand of the chief lord of Sutton or by the hands of his assigns.

And the said John de Maundevely and his heirs or whoever may be the chief lords of Sutton are bound to acquit the said tenement which was of Roger Oliver of all services by the said rent.

John Oliver, son of the said Roger, is his next heir, and was 6 years ago on the feast of St. Michael, 3 Edward I [1275].

Roger Oliver.

Inquisition made by command of the King on Friday next before the vigil of Pentecost, 4 Edward I [1276], before the sheriff and escheator of Wilts, by the oath of James Lucy, William Mahu of Lynlye, William son of John Mahu of Nippard, Richard de Havevenber, Roger le Tayllur, Robert le Tayllur, Richard le Lus, Walter Gilberd, Robert Davy, Robert Tulle, Richard de la Dene, and John Atteforde, who say that Roger Oliver, deceased, held by homage in the vill of Swaluweclive half a hide of land of John de Mandevile which belongs to the manor which was of the said John de Sulton, paying therefor yearly 6*d.*, and making suit at the court of the said John de Sulton every 3 weeks for all services to the said John belonging, and making suit in like manner at the hundred of the King of Boneworth every 3 weeks.

The said Roger held by homage one virgate of land in the said vill of Swaluweclive of the said John de Mandevile, which said virgate is of the fee of Thomas Cosyn, paying to the said John and his heirs 2*s.* 6*d.*, and to the sheriff of Wilts to the use of the King for the aid of the sheriff 5½*d.* for all services to the said land belonging.

The said Roger when his father died was within age, and the next of kin on his mother's side had the wardship of him, and not the ancestors of the said John de Mandevile. The said Roger and his ancestors were wont to do all the said services from the time that they were first enfeoffed of the said lands and tenements, and no others.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 4 Edward I, No. 30.

Agnes, the wife of Henry de Candever.

Inquisition made at Fitelton on Friday in the vigil of St. Thomas the Apostle, 4 Edward I [1275], before Hildebrand de London, sheriff of Wilts and escheator, of the value of the land which was of Agnes who was the wife of Henry de Candever, by the oath of Simon de Littecote, Thomas Trenchefoil, Roger de Quercu, John de Fifhide, Edmund de Tormailles, John de Estcote, William Maleweyn, Eustace son of John, William Dicuns, Peter Crollebois, Richard de Rikingehale, John Laurens, and John de Bello Monte, who say that

The said Agnes held of the King in chief in her demesne as of fee on the day that she died one carucate of land in Fitelton, paying therefor yearly to the hand of the bailiff of the King at Clarendon 6*d.* at the feast of St. Michael.

There is there one messuage which is worth per annum 5*s.* There are in the said carucate of land 191 acres of arable land altogether which are worth per annum 63*s.* 8*d.*, price of the acre 4*d.* Of the said acres of land only the moiety can be sown by the

Richard de la Rokele.

Writ directed to the Sheriff of Wilts and dated at Bamtone 1st January, 5 Edward I [1277].

Edward, by the grace of God, etc.

Whereas we lately commanded you to restore to John de Fyfhyde the custody of certain lands in Lavynton which he had of the gift and grant of Richard de la Rokele, deceased, and which you at the command of Ralph de Sandwyco, our steward, by reason of the death of the said Richard, took into our hand as it is said, to have according to the grant aforesaid; and you declared that you would not execute our command unless you received likewise the command of the said Ralph, at which we marvel: We now command you that without waiting for the mandate of the said Ralph you restore that custody to the said John without delay, according to the tenure of our first command.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 5 Edward I, No. 50.

Richard de la Rokele.

Writ directed to the Sheriff of Wilts, dated at Cirencester 28th December, 5 Edward I [1276].

Edward, by the grace of God, etc.

John de Fyfide showed that whereas Richard de Rupella, lately deceased, who held of us in chief, gave to the said John the wardship of the lands and tenements in Lavinton, which were of Emeline de Lascy, formerly Countess of Ulton' (Ulster), which came to the hands of the said Richard after the death of the said Emeline because she held the same of the said Richard by knight's service, and the said John in the lifetime of the said Richard and afterwards was in full seisin of the said custody—you lately took the said custody into our hands and detain it unjustly from the said John, to his no small damage: if this is so, we command you to restore the said custody to him without delay: to hold according to the gift of the said Richard.

Richard de la Rokele.

Inquisition made at Foxle on the day of SS. Fabian and Sebastian, 5 Edward I [1277], by Gilbert de Aula, Nicholas de Cruk, William Gole, Richard le Blund, Adam 'Carpentar, John de Wodebrigge, Richard de Wyke, Richard Dunelye, John de Stokes, William Frankelayn, Bartholomew de Hechelhamton, William Bachelor, and Richard Ennok, concerning the lands and tenements which were of Richard de la Rokele in Stupelavinton of the seisin and gift which he made to John de Fyfide, they say that Brunig, the said John's man, came to Stapellavinton on Friday before the day of St. Lucy the Virgin, 5 Edward I [1276], and took seisin of the said lands in the name of his lord by Humphrey, bailiff of the said Richard de la Rokele, and by letters patent of the said Richard, and took fealty of the villeins and nothing of the free tenants, and the villeins pledged him 4s. and held seisin until the morrow of St. Thomas the Apostle next following, and then came the sheriff and seised the said land into the hand of the King.

Walterus de Wilton.

Writ directed to Salomon de Roff and Thomas de Sudynton, an dated at Westminster 28th April, 5 Edward I [1277].

Edward, by the grace of God, etc.

On behalf of Walter de Wylton, who holds a certain mill under our Castle of Sarum next our mill there in fee farm of the Prior and Convent of St. Dennis without Southampton, it is shown to us that whereas the said Prior and Convent had the said mill of the gift of Patrick, sometime Earl of Sarum, then true lord and possessor of those mills, in this form, that they and their successors for ever should have only the multure of malt of all the men of the vills thereabouts adjacent to that mill. And the said Earl reserved the multure of all other corn of all the men of those vills at his other mill, and the said Prior and Convent from the time of the said gift and before that the remaining mill came to the hands of our predecessors had the multure of the said malt in the form aforesaid, and likewise the said Walter from the time when he was enfeoffed until Walter de Sturhcheslegh, late sheriff of our said county, to whom we committed the custody of our Castle of Sarum together with our said mill, caused as well the multure of such malt as of other corn of the men of the said vills to be brought to our said mill: Hyldebrand de London, now sheriff of the said county, by reason of the bringing thereof made by the said Walter de Sturhcheleg, does not permit the said Walter de Wylton to have such multure as he ought to have, and which he and the said Prior and Convent in times past were wont to have, to the no small damage of the said Walter: Now we, willing to be certified as to the premises and that full justice may be done to the said Walter, assign you to be our justices to enquire into the truth of the premises.

Walterus de Wilton.

Falke, Bartholomew Aufrey, Saveric de Bunertone, Peter Cray, Hamo de la Mare, Geoffrey Warin, Roger Swoting, Richard de Stapelford, William Malewan, Henry de Montsorel, and Geoffrey de Chaucumbe, who say that

To the mill under the Castle of Old Sarum which Walter de Wilton holds of the Prior and Convent of St. Dennis beyond Southampton, at fee farm, belongs and was wont to belong the multure of the malt of the men of Old Sarum, so that he shall find to them carriage at his own costs, and shall take of each brewing one barrel of ale for the carriage; and of all the men of the other vills thereabouts adjacent who freely and of good will wished to come to the said mill, and not otherwise. And because the said Walter de Wilton made there a fulling mill joined to his said mill for malt in the same course where in times past neither he nor his predecessors were wont to have there any such mill but only for malt, to the damage of the mill and fishery of the lord the King: Walter de Sterkeslye, then sheriff of Wilts and keeper of the castle of Sarum and the said mill, not permitting this to be done, caused the multure of the said malt to be brought to the King's mill.

Nicholas de Hebersham.

Writ dated at Wodestoke 24th June, 5 Edward I [1277].

Inquisition made before the Sheriff of Wilts by John le Knyth, Simon le Franceys, Geoffrey Cof, Robert Peyteuyn, Gilbert le Taillur, Geoffrey de Stanton, Robert Geraud, Roger de Aula, William Bartelot, Walter le Frie, Edmund le Jouge, and James Lucy, who say that

In the 26th year of King Henry, son of King John, it was agreed between Nicholas de Haversham, senior, and Geoffrey Daniel de Winterburne that the said Geoffrey should demise and to farm let to the said Nicholas and his heirs 3 virgates of land in Winterburne, Hugemanton, and Burton for the term of 10 years, so that the said Nicholas and his heirs shall hold them of the chief lords of the fee and shall do to them all the services belonging to the said 3 virgates, and that at the end of the said term the said Geoffrey or his heirs shall pay to the said Nicholas or his heirs 50 marks of silver, and if they shall not do this the said Nicholas shall hold the said 3 virgates until they have been paid the said amount.

By this demise the said Nicholas held the said land for his whole life, and after his death Nicholas de Haversham, son and heir of the said Nicholas, held the same, and dowered his mother, Emma, therewith. After the death of the said Emma the said Nicholas again entered the same, and held it as long as he lived. He held 2 virgates of the fee of Joan de Bohun by the service of 6*d.*, and doing suit at the court of the said Joan every 3 weeks, and that service is worth per annum 1*s.*; and those 2 virgates beyond the service to the chief lady are worth 37*s.* 6*d.* He held the third virgate of the fee of Henry de Bovile, paying therefor yearly 10*s.* for all services saving royalties, and that virgate is worth beyond the service due to the lord of the fee 4*s.* The said 3 virgates of land were never taken by the escheator into the hand of the King, but all the lands which the said Nicholas had in the vill of Cumpton were taken into the King's hand by the sub-escheator.

Henry de Albiniaco.

Inquisition made of the lands and tenements which were of Henry Daubeny, on Friday next after the Assumption of the Blessed Mary the Virgin, 6 Edward I [1278], by the oath of John de Merdene, Gilbert Giffard, Richard Pelcuin, Edmund Falke, John le Hoy, Geoffrey Warin, Saveric de Bumerton, Herbert de Chilhamton, Edmund Fillol, John de Wyh, Robert Sireman, Richard Semberd, John Richer, Edmund Cler, Richard de Bernirs, Richard de Stawolle, Richard le Eyr, Alan de Langeford, and John Claris, who say that

The said Henry held no tenement of the King in chief on the day that he died, but he held the manor of Wicford of Sir Pagan de Chawrcis, and it is worth per annum £25 by the service of half a knight's fee. The said Henry held one half-virgate of land of Bartholomew de Wicford in the said vill, paying 4*s.* per annum, and it is worth half a mark. The said Henry held one carucate of land in Berewik of Sir Patrick de Chawrcis, paying by the year one mark, and it is worth per annum 100*s.*; also 2 virgates of land in Orcheston St. George of Edith (?), daughter of John Cook, paying therefor by the year one rose, and they are worth per annum 20*s.*; also one virgate and 5 acres of land of Gilbert Giffard in Madinton, paying by the year 3*d.* and one pair of gloves, and they are worth one mark; also 2 virgates of land in Wodebore of Adam de la Rivire, paying 1 lb. of pepper by the year, and they are worth 20s.; also one virgate of land of Richard Gole in the same vill, paying 1d., and it is worth 10s. He also held of the same Adam one half-virgate of land, paying 6d., and it is worth half a mark.

Clarice, sister of the said Henry, and Maurice de Bonham, who was the son of the son of Juliana de Albinaco, sister of the said Clarice, are the heirs of the said Henry: the said Clarice is aged 36 years and the said Maurice 25 years at the least.

Adam la Knolle.

Writ dated 8th November, 6 Edward I [1278].

Inquisition made at Claryndon before Master W. Scamel, Dean of Sarum, and R. de Sandwyco, steward of the lord the King, on Monday next after the feast of St. Scolastica the Virgin,

8 Edward I [1280], by the oath of Alan de Langeford, Edmund Folke, John Chamberleing, Richard de Stapelford, Warin de Wycheford, Richard of the same, Herbert de Childhamton, Saveric de Bymmerton, Henry Dun, Martin le Cumener, Hamo Lysewys, Walter Louel, Robert Isinbert, John de Babynton, and James de Stapelford, who say that Adam de la Cnolle and Emma, his wife, sister and heir of Master Adam de Tyleneve, are bound to Robert Walerand in 40s. yearly at Fisshelton in co. Wilts, to be paid for the life of the said Robert only, because the said Robert by his charter granted to Master Adam de Tyleneve, whose heir the said Emma is, one messuage and a certain perch of land and meadow in Fisshelton, he paying to the said Robert 40s. by the year; and that immediately after the death of the said Robert the said Adam de Tyleneve and his heirs will be quit of the payment of the said 40s. for ever.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 6 Edward I, No. 86.

Abbess de Romesey.

Inquisition made at Troubrigge before Roger de Clifford in the forest of Selewode in co. Wilts, by foresters, verderers, and others, viz., Walter Morice, Robert le Forester, Robert le Warinner, Adam le Forester, and John Bray, foresters, Eustace de Hulle, John de Aungers, and Lawrence de Bosco, verderers, William Molendinariius, Peter Testewod, Thomas le Theyn, Robert de Burtone, Hugh Beuseruise, Simon Horkedale, William Blaunchard, Walter de Aune, Robert Juwet, Richard Forestar, William Simon, Robert de Honebrigge, John le Leche, John de Brokoure, and Roger le Paumer, as to what sum and in what places the Abbess and nuns of Romesey, by the licence of the King for the relief of their house and the acquittance of their debt, they may sell wood and underwood in the said forest, to the least damage and hurt of the said forest. They all say that

The said Abbess and nuns have the woods of Haywode, Kayred, and Slograve in the said forest, and are in the regard in the which they may sell of wood and underwood to the sum of 20 marks, and there is there large cover and no access of beasts except occasionally by accident. They have also in the said forest the woods of Brokoure and Coningehay, and are outside the regard in the which they may sell high wood to the sum of 100s., without any damage or hurt of the King's forest.

Robert Pypard.

Writ dated 28th October, 7 Edward I [1278].

Inquisition made at Claryndon before Ralph de Sandwyco on Monday next after the feast of St. Scolastica the Virgin, 8 Edward I [1280], by the oath of Richard de Cumbe, Simon de Lillecote, John de Escote, William Maleweyn, John le Frankelein, William son of Dionisius, John Mandeward, John de Andoure, Richard son of John, John Beamund, Peter de la Hulle, Stephen de Brighmerston, John le Saucer, Bartholomew de Cumkstone, and Simon le Frye, who say that Robert Pypard held nothing of the King in chief on the day that he died, but King Henry, father of King Edward, gave to Adam Cok 10 librates of land in Flytelton: to hold to him and his heirs, paying therefor to the King at Clarydone 6d. of rent: and the said Adam had an heir Agnes by name, who married Robert Pypard, and afterwards the said Robert died without heir of his body. Afterwards King Henry granted to Henry de Candeuere the marriage of the said Agnes, whom the said Henry married, and afterwards the said Agnes died without heir of her body; and then King Edward granted to the said Henry de Candeuere the said 10 librates of land as his escheat for his life: and now the said librates of land are in the hand of the King as his escheats, and in the custody of the sheriff of Wilts.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 3.

Henry de Pennebrigge.

Inquisition made at the Castle of Sarum on Thursday in the Feast of the Holy Innocents, 8 Edward I [1279], before Hildebrand de London, sheriff of Wilts, by the oath of Stephen de Bristmerston, Simon de Lillecote, John Le Saucer, Richard Petit, Richard le Heyr, John Le Lung, Roger Heldeman, Thomas Frankeleyn, Bartholomew de Compton, John le Irreys, Adam Dionisius, Richard son of John, and Peter Huppehull, who say that

Henry de Pennebrigge did not hold the manor of Tudeworth in co. Wilts of the King in chief on the day that he died, but Roger la Suche, who held that manor of John Biset, gave it to Gilbert de

Sanford with Lora, his daughter, in free marriage, and the said Gilbert being dead, the said Lora gave the said manor to Arrabilia, who was the wife of the said Henry de Pennebrigge, and to Fulk, son of the said Henry and Arrabilia, by the service of 1*d.* by the year.

The jurors do not know whether the said Henry de Pennebrigge held the other manors named in the writ [missing] of the King in chief or of others.

The manor of Tudeworth is now in the hand of the King.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 12.

Henry de Penebrigge.

Inquisition made at the Castle of Sarum on Friday next after the Feast of the Invention of Holy Cross, 7 Edward I [1279], before Hildebrand de London, sheriff of Wilts, as to how much land Henry de Penbrigge held on the day that he died of the King in chief and how much of others, etc., by John le Yrussche, Richard le Eyr, Richard le Forester, Simon le Frye, Richard Petit, Walter Kytewyne, William le Noble, William Elys, Thomas Colle, John le Hayward, Peter le Blake, and Alexander Denys, who say that

The said Henry did not hold anything of the King in chief in co. Wilts, but he held of Lora de Saunford at Northtudeworth 4 virgates of land in demesne which are worth £7 by the year, with pasture for 2 horses, 6 oxen, and 250 sheep.

There are there 9 virgates of land in villeinage, which are worth per annum, clear, 9 marks.

Fulk de Penbrigge, son of the said Henry, is his next heir, but they do not know his age because he does not live in co. Wilts, nor has he ever lived there.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 12.

Paganus de Cadurcis.

Inquisition made by the oath of William Spyleman, Henry Sturmy, Richard Sturmy, etc., etc., as to how much land Paganus de Cadurcis held of the King in chief in co. Southampton on the day that he died, and how much of others, who say that

He held the manor of Kyngesumburn and Langestoke of the King in chief and nothing of others in the said county, and he held the said manors together with 2 manors which he held in co. Wilts, viz. Marthone and Burbach, for 2 knight's fees.

Patricius de Cadurcis, brother of the said Paganus, is his next heir, and is aged 25 years and more.

Walter Giffard, Archbishop of York.

Writ dated 27th April, 7 Edward I [1279].

Extent made before Sir H. de London, sheriff of Wilts, on Wednesday in the vigil of the Ascension of our Lord [no year given], of the lands and tenements of Sir Walter Giffard, Archbishop of York, of his manor of Boyton, by the oath of William de Witeklive, Hugh Coquun, John de Babinton, John de Dopeford, William Luddok, John Strug, Robert Thurstayn, Adam Brunman, William Pistor, Robert Vigerus, Adam de Dopeford, Robert le Aule (?), who say that

The manor of Boyton is held for one fee of Sir John Giffard, and is worth in lands, rents, meadows, feedings, etc., £30 of silver.

The said Sir Walter Giffard held nothing of the King in chief in co. Wilts.

Sir Godfrey Giffard, Bishop of Worcester, is the next heir of the said Sir Walter, and is of full age.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 22.

John le Bretun.

Inquisition made of the lands which were of John le Bretun, by the oath of William de Okeburn, Nicholas de Insula, Thomas le Byeys, Robert de la Wyke, John de Chylton, Adam de Colecote, Robert Styne, John Elys, Philip de Molendino, John de la Rochele, William Ekeroyd, and John Styne, who say that

The said John held on the day that he died one messuage and 6 bovates of land in Nethercote, in the hundred of Blakegrave, in co. Wilts, but he held nothing of the King in chief there or elsewhere in the said county, but he held those tenements of Roger Bygot, Earl of Norfolk and Marshal of England, by reason of Alyne, his wife, daughter and heir of Philip Basset, by the service of the fourth part of a knight's fee and 1*d.* of yearly rent in chief, and they are worth per annum, clear, 60*s.*

John le Bretun, son of the said John, is his next heir, and is aged 21 years and more.

The said John paid out of the said tenements to the said Roger le Bygot by reason of his said wife one mark yearly, and the said Roger paid thereof to Robert le Grey, lord of Coges, 10s., and the said Robert answers thereof to the heirs of Manser Arfyl, and the same heirs pay the said mark for the said tenements towards the guard of Dover.

Matthew Turpin.

Edward, by the grace of God King of England, etc., to Ralph de Sandwico, his steward. Because we understand by inquisition which we caused to be made by you that Matthew Turpin, deceased, who held of us in chief, enfeoffed Matthew Turpin, his son, and Matilda, his wife, of 100 solidates of land in Estwinterslawe: to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies: which said lands by reason of the death of the said Matthew son of Matthew are taken into our hand: We, at the request of Stephen de Brighmerston and the said Matilda his daughter, command you to deliver up the said land to the said Stephen and Matilda, to be tilled and sown up to our next Parliament, together with the issues thereof, from the time of the taking of that land into our hand, taking from them sufficient security for those issues then to be restored to us if we wish to have them.

Dated at Wodestoke 7th February, 7 Edward I [1279].

Matthew Turpin.

Inquisition made at the Castle of Sarum on Sunday next before the Purification of the Blessed Mary, 7 Edward I [1279], before Hildebrand de London, sheriff of Wilts, by the oath of John Aucher, John le Saucer, William de Putton, Jordan de Laverkestoke, Walter Lovel, Walter Kytewyne, Philip de Nyweton, Geoffrey le Frie of Bultiford, Adam Denys, Ervisius de Durinton, Adam le Frankelayn, and Ralph de Bereghton, whether Matthew Turpin enfeoffed Matthew, his son, and Matilda, who was the wife of the said Matthew, of 100 solidates of land, and whether King Henry, father of the now King, or the now King, had the relief thereof or not, who say that Matthew Turpin, who held of the King in chief, enfeoffed Matthew his son and Matilda who was the wife of the said Matthew his son, jointly, of 100 solidates of land in Est Winterslawe in the time of King Henry, father of the now King: to have to them and the heirs of their bodies, but neither the said King Henry, nor the now King, have ever had the relief thereof.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 36.

Matthew Turpin.

Inquisition made at Estwynterslewe on Sunday in the Octaves of Easter, 7 Edward I [1279], before Hildebrand de London, sheriff of Wilts, of the value of the wardship of the land of Matthew Turpyn, deceased, and Matilda, his wife, in Estwynterslewe by the year, together with the marriage of their heir, by John le Saucer, Jordan de Lauerkestoke, Walter Lovel, Thomas Chalkere, Adam Frankelayn, Stephen de Ewyas, Nicholas de Watelye, Richard Petit, William le Noble, Thomas Hardy, Hugh le Frie, and William Swening, who say that

The garden with the easement of the court is worth by the year 16s., and the dovecote 4s.

There are there in the demesne 200 acres, and the acre is worth 4d. There is there pasture for 400 sheep, which is worth per annum 16s. 8d., viz. $\frac{1}{2}d.$ per head. Also of rent of assize by the year 43s. 11 $\frac{1}{2}d.$ The works of the customars are worth per annum 43s. 11 $\frac{1}{2}d.$ The rent of hens is worth per annum 4s. 4d. Also there is there pasture for 16 beasts which is worth per annum 5s. 4d. The pannage of the pigs is worth per annum 2s. The profit of the wood scarcely suffices to support the house, the fuel, and the hedges of the court. Of pleas and perquisites by the year 5s.

Sum, £10 7s. 11d.

The marriage of the heir of the said Matthew and Matilda is worth 100s., and is not worth more to be sold because the said Matilda is enfeoffed jointly with the said Matthew her husband, deceased, and therefore the marriage of the heir with the wardship of the said land is of less value.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 36.

John de Hanekinton.

Extent made on the day of St. Margaret the Virgin, 7 Edward I [1279], of all the lands and tenements of John de Hanekynton in co. John de Hanekynton had in demesne of arable land 116 acres, each acre whereof is worth by the year 6d.: sum 58s. He had also one free man who pays by the year 3s. Also 15 acres of meadow, price of the acre by the year 2s. 6d.: sum 37s. 6d. He has also 5 villeins, each of whom holds 12 acres of land and pays by the year 2s. of rent: sum 10s. And each of them shall work for 2 days in the week by the year, and the work of each of them is worth 4s. by the year: sum 20s. Also each of them pays for cherechsectum 5 hens, price of the hen 5d.: sum 2s. 1d. He had a garden, and it is worth as in fruits and herbage 5s. The easement of the court as in houses, herbage, and curtilage, 6s. 8d. Sum of the sums in the whole, £7 3s. 3d.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 7 Edward I, No. 65.

Geoffrey de Echelhampton.

Inquisition made by Ralph de Sandwyco 18th June, 8 Edward I [1280], of the lands and tenements of Geoffrey le Blund [sic], by the oath of Robert le Heyr, Bartholomew de Echelhampton, Walter Maleweyn, Robert de Wyke, William Morin, William Edmund, John Beyuin, Philip de Caning, John de Escote, Richard de Codeford, Richard Bruton, Michael le Esperuir, who say that

Geoffrey de Echelmeton on the day that he died held no land of the King in chief, but he held in the vill of Echelhampton one carucate of land of Sir Ralph de Wyleton in chief by knight's service for half a fee, and it is worth per annum £7 10s. The said Geoffrey was wont to pay to the castle of Devisis for the said Ralph de Wyleton 10s. in the time of peace for the ward of the said castle, and in the time of war he found one servant for 40 days at the said castle for the said Ralph for the said land of Echelhampton. He held in the said vill of William Maleweyn $1\frac{1}{2}$ virgates of land, paying by the year $4\frac{1}{2}d.$ to the said William, and it is worth per annum $15s.$; also in the said vill of the fee of Roger Bussel one virgate of land, paying to the said Roger by the year $4d.$, and it is worth per annum $15s.$; also in the said vill of Roger Luvel one cottage and one croft, paying to the same by the year $2s.$, and it is worth per annum $3s.$ The said Geoffrey held of the Bishop of Sarum in the manor of Poterna, half a knight's fee and 2 virgates of land by knight's service, and it is worth per annum, clear, $\text{£}9\ 12s.$

Richard, son of the said Geoffrey, is his next heir, and is aged 8 years, and is entering his 9th year.

The Abbess of Romeseye.

Inquisition made before Salomon de Roff' and William de Braybef, at Wylton on Thursday next after the feast of Low Sunday, 9 Edward I [1281], by Philip Estrug, Stephen Druveys, John de Cheverel, Richard Estormy, John de Perham, James de Trowe, Reginald Burel de Comerwell, Richard Cotele, knights, Walter de Leweston, Roger Wykyng, Roger de Burton, William de Molyn, Peter de Lavynnton, Roger Cleymund, Hugh de Ashgore, and John de Celterne, who say that

From time immemorial the woods of the Abbess of Romesye of Ashton and Ethendon were without the forest and without the regard of the forest until the coming of Alan de Nevyll, justice assigned for the pleas of the forest in the time of King John, who by his will afforested the said woods. And the Abbess, feeling herself much injured, after the death of King John, in the time of King Henry [III], obtained from the said King a perambulation to be made by William de Lungespee, Earl of Sarum, and his fellows, then justices for the pleas of the forest; by the which perambulation the said woods were disafforested, and so remained without the forest and without the regard of the forest for a long time until the time of Robert Passelewe, then justice for the pleas of the said forest, who, going through those parts of his own will, afforested the said woods.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 9 Edward I, No. 42.

Richard Fugeram.

Writ dated 29th March, 9 Edward I [1281].

Inquisition made by the oath of Walter Pipard, William de Wykes, John de Forstebur', William de Elenche, Thomas de Foxcote, Robert de Glaunwill, foresters of the forest of Savernake, William Malewain, Geoffrey Drois, Richard de Suthcote, verderers of the same forest, William de Columbar', Herbert de Stocke, Hugh de Combrewell, Robert de Harindene, John de Holme, Peter Oliver, and John Pusard, whether it be to the damage of the King and to the injury of the said forest if Richard Fugram, junior, may cut down and cultivate all his wood of Holme which is within the metes of the said forest and turn it to his own profit or not, etc., etc., who say that

It would not be to the damage of the King or to the hurt of the said forest if the said Richard should cut down, cultivate, and turn to his own profit his said wood, because that wood is 3 leagues away from the adjoining woods of the lord the King in the same forest; and that that wood contains in itself 40 acres by the perch of the forest, which the said Richard may cultivate without damage to the King or hurt to the said forest, and that in the same wood there was not wont to be repair of wild beasts.

This inquisition was returned at Deneford near Hungerford in the morrow of Palm Sunday without the writ.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 9 Edward I, No. 75.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 10 Edward I, No. 16.

Robert de Kaynes.

Extent of the lands and tenements formerly of Robert de Kaynes.

Somerford is worth in all things £34 16s. 3¼d., and because the manor is whole let it be put without increase for one part to whomsoever it shall happen, and the sum of the third part will be £25 5s. 2d., and there is wanting of the said manor the sum of 8s. 11d., but it will not be such a part because the manor is whole and free.

Chelewurthe is worth in all things £8 8s. 5¼d.

Aystone is worth in all things £6 18s. 2d.

Tarente is worth in all things £13 16s. 1¼d.

Cumbe is worth in all things £9 3s. 6½d.

Sum of the sums, £38 6s. 3d.

And these 4 manors are very remote from each other, and are worth very little, neither are they whole, and there is put of the rent of Cumbe 52s. to Doddeford and Perytone to make up the third part, and the sum remaining will be £35 13s. 3d., and so there will be 8s. of surplus, and specially because they are small and remote parts, and there is only a deficit in the first part, which is Somerford, because it is whole and good.

Dodeford is worth in all things £24 14s. 8½d.

Perytone is worth in all things £7 18s. 6d.

Sum of the sums, £32 13s. 2½d., and with 52s. from Cumbe the sum will be £35 5s. 2½d., and so the 2 parts will be equal in value.

They say that Tarente is the chief manor, and without Ayston the bailiwick of the forestry cannot well be kept [custodiri].

William de Mohun.

Inquisition made on Thursday next before the feast of St. Dionisius, 10 Edward I [1282], of the lands and tenements which were of William de Mohun in co. Wilts, before J. de Wotton, sheriff and escheator, by Reginald Waz, John de Bosco, William de Cardenil, Everard de la Dene, Richard Tebant, Walter de la Hamstall, John de Dunnesford, Nicholas de Bosco, Philip de Bosco, John de Barstrop, and John de la More, who say that

The said William died seised in his demesne as of fee of the manor of Myldehal, and held the same of the heirs of the Earl de Ferariis for one knight's fee, the heirs of the Earl of the heirs of the Marshall, the heirs of the Marshall of the heirs of the Earl de Lungesspeie, the heirs of Lung' of the Abbot of Glaston', and the Abbot of Glaston' of the King.

The rents of the free tenants are worth by the year 50s. 3d.; the rents of the customars, 106s. 8½d.; the works of the customars, 60s. 11½d. The casements of the houses, with the issues of the garden, are worth per annum 10s. The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth per annum 18s. There are in the said manor of arable land 200 acres by the perch, and each acre is worth by itself 4d., and the sum is 66s. 8d.; also 24 acres of meadow, and each acre is worth by itself 2s., and the sum is 48s. The profit of the wood is worth by the year 3s. The pannage and herbage and pasture are worth to be sold by the year 7s. 5d. They also say that 4 horses, 24 oxen, 4 cows, and 8 steers can be sustained there, and each is worth by itself by the year 6d., and the sum is 20s. In the said manor 400 sheep can be sustained in pasture, and it is worth by the year 16s. The cherchettum and rent of the eggs are worth per annum 4s. 6d.

The next heir of the said William is Reginald de Mohum, his son and heir, who will be aged 6 years in the quindene before the feast of the Nativity of Our Lord next coming.

Sum of the sums, £20 11s. 5d.

Inquisition made at Newbury on Sunday next after the feast of St. John ante Portam Latinam, 12 Edward I [1284], by the oath of Geoffrey de Wancy, knight, Geoffrey de Thorberville, Andrew de Hancoc, Richard de Elfinton, Roger Beornard, John de Ildesleye, Thomas Bocun, Peter de Uffinton, Richard de Westwode, Robert Dryn, Ralph de Elfinton, and William de Euerinton, as to how much the serjeanty of the chapel of the lord the King which Richard de Turberville, who held of the King in chief [held], is worth clear by the year, who say that

The third part of the said serjeanty which the said Richard de Turberville held for the term of his life of the demise of Sir Oliver de Stanford, is worth per annum, clear, 24 marks.

Isabella de Stanford and Amicia her sister are the next heirs of the said serjeanty, and are of full age.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 12 Edward I, No. 12.

Richard de Turbervill.

Henry, by the grace of God, etc., to the Archbishops, etc.

We have inspected the charter which Oliver de Stanford made to Richard de Turbervill of the serjeanty and his office as well of our chapel as of our seal, in these words:—Know all men that I, Oliver de Stanford, have given and confirmed to Richard de Turbervill for his service my serjeanty and office as well of the King's chapel as of his seal: to hold to him all the days of his life of me and my heirs, with all the liberties and emoluments thereto belonging, saving to me and my heirs the lordship of the rod to the said serjeanty belonging, paying yearly to me and my heirs one mark of silver. And I and my heirs will warrant the said serjeanty and office to the said Richard de Turbervill as long as he shall live, against all men and women.

These being witnesses : Sir Walter de Ripper, Sir William Huscarl, Sir Richard Martel, Sir Philip le Moygne, John de Seynzlyr, Henry de la Huse, William le Cortier, Reginald de Irdesle, Robert de Turbervill, William de Pavely, William de la Grave, and many others [unnamed]. We, being agreeable to the same, hereby confirm it, these being witnesses: Hugh le Bygod, our justiciar, John de Crakehal, our treasurer, Giles de Argentem, Imberto Pugeys, Simon Passelewe, Hugh de Dyne, Imberto de Muntferant. Given by our hand at Westminster, 8 October, 43 Henry III [1259]. And for the said confirmation he gave to the King one mark of silver, which he paid into the wardrobe of the King, and is quit.

Richard Sterre.

Inquisition made on Wednesday next before the Purification of the Blessed Mary, 13 Edward I [1285], before Sir J. de Wotton, sheriff of Wilts, as to what lands and tenements Richard Sterre holds in the manor of Marleberg, and the value of them, by the oath of Roger de Stutescumbe, Thomas de Kenete, John de Berewik, William Crespin, John de la Mere, Hamon Virgil, German le Chaundeler, John de Bosco, John de Evesbur', Nicholas le Bolde, William Ruffy, and Robert de Chadindon, who say that

The said Richard holds in the barton within the manor of Marleberg one messuage and half a virgate of land freely for 4s. by the year and suit at court, and for carriage of hay with his cart for one day, and for one day to carry the corn in the Autumn, and the carriage is worth by the year 6d. The said Richard holds in the said barton half a virgate of land like the other customars, and he ought for the said land to work from the feast of St. Michael up to the Nativity of St. John the Baptist each week for 3 days up to the third hour, unless a feast shall intervene, and he shall take nothing, and that work is worth for the said time 4s. 1d. And he ought to work from the said feast of St. John up to the feast of St. Michael each week for 5 days up to the third hour, unless a feast shall intervene, and the work is worth for the said time 2s. 8d. And he ought to take in the Autumn the twentieth sheaf, therefore he is put for the higher price. And he shall give by the year 3 hens and one cock for cherchetum, and they are worth 4d. Sum of the value of this half-virgate of land containing everything, 7s. 1d.

Sum of the whole value of both [utriusque] half-virgates of land by the year to the use of the King as in rents and all other services, 11s. 7d.

Henry Lacy, Earl of Lincoln.

Inquisition made at Honynton on Thursday in the vigil of the Purification of the Blessed Mary, 13 Edward I [1285], before the Sheriff, whether it be to the damage of the King if he should grant to Henry de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, that he may give and assign to Nicholas de St. Quinton, for the Church of St. Edmund of Sarum and the chaplains serving God there, one message and one carucate of land in Honynton, to hold to them and their successors or not, by the oath of Thomas le Chamberleng, Walter atte Brigh, John Martin, Elias de Gildeford, Peter le Fol, Alexander de Remesbury, John ate More, Walter Maryot, John Thomas, Roger Gille, Ralph de Bosco, and Geoffrey Cancepey, who say that

Two free tenants of the said Earl owe suit at the King's hundred of Cauden every three weeks, and that the villeins of the same owe suit at the sheriff's tourn twice in the year, and they give at the sheriff's tourn by the year 12d. The assize of bread and ale broken is worth 12d. That message and land are worth per annum, clear, 100s., and are of the fee of the Earl of Lincoln, and are held of the same for half a knight's fee, making to the said Earl scutage, as much as belongs to half a knight's fee.

The Abbot of Malmesbury.

Inquisition made at Chippeham on Saturday next before the feast of the Nativity of the Lord, 14 Edward I [1285], before Sir John de Wotton, sheriff of Wilts, by the oath of Robert

Kaynes, Robert de Thurleby, John de Burle, Adam Harding, Joh^{re} Kaylewuy, John de Bampton, Jordan del Ewe, Henry Vigorus, Roger de Pekynghull, Richard de Sterkele, Alexander de Somerford, and Richard de la Lee, to enquire if it would be to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to Geoffrey de Fynemore that he may give one virgate of land in la Blakelond, and to Richard de Kemel, clerk, that he may give 2 virgates of land in Kemel, to John de Eston that he may give one virgate of land in Wynckeworth, and to Richard Pinnok of Boruhton [Bourton? now Burton Hill] that he may give 20 acres of land in Coufaud, to Roger de Evesham that he may give 16 acres of land in Alynton, and to John de Slahtrford that he may give 8 acres of land in Alynton to the Abbot and Convent of Malmesbur', who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the said King should grant to Geoffrey de Fynemore that he may give one virgate of land in la Blakelond to the said Abbot and Convent, because the said virgate is held of the said Abbot without mesne by the service of one mark, to be paid yearly to the said Abbot, and beyond the said rent the said virgate is worth, clear, 2s.; and to Richard de Kemel, clerk, that he may give the said 2 virgates of land in Kemel, because he holds them of the said Abbot without mesne, by the service of 7s., and they are worth, clear, besides the said rent, 4s.; and to John de Eston that he may give one virgate of land in Wynckeworth, because it is held of the said Abbot without mesne by the service of 12d., and it is worth, clear, besides the said rent, one mark; and to Richard Pinnok, of Boruhton, that he may give 20 acres of land in Coufaud, because he holds the same of the said Abbot without mesne, by the service of 18d., and they are worth, clear, besides the said rent, 3s.; and to Roger de Evesham that he may give 16 acres of land in Alynton, because he holds the same of the said Abbot without mesne, by the service of 1½d., and they are worth, clear, besides the said rent, 2s.; and to John de Slahtrford that he may give 8 acres of land in Alynton, because he holds the same of the said Abbot without mesne, by the service of 3½d., and they are worth, clear, besides the said rent, 12d. The said Abbot holds all the said lands and tenements of the King in chief.

Abbot of Stanlegh.

Inquisition made at Stodlegh, in the forest of Chippeham, on Monday next before the feast of the Holy Virgins Perpetua and Felicitatis, 13 Edward I [1285], before Roger Extraneo, justice of the forest, by Walter Horn, constable of the castle of Devises, Geoffrey de Middelton, forester on horseback of the said forest, Geoffrey de la Berse, Philip de Kingeswod, William de Clenche, Alexander de Woluemere, William le Sage, and Robert de la Coufaude, foresters on foot, Richard Horn, Adam Harding, and Peter de Baldenham, verderers of both the forests of Melkesham and Chyppeham, Robert Kaynd [Kaynel], John Kaylewey, Roger Bubbe, Geoffrey de Finemore, Walter de Aula, Nicholas le Blund, Roger le Gras, Roger de Schawe, William Osseward, and Roger de Lileshulle, regarders of the same forests, with Walter de Snape and Robert le Blund, of Nattone, joined with them, Gilbert de la Roche, agister, Laurence de Stondlegh, William Norman of the same, William de Calne, William Weylond of the same, Richard le Felawe, John de Burle of Chippeham, Geoffrey de Cocham [Cosham] of the same, Hugh Pig of the same, Henry Andren of the same, John Selse of Sende, Thomas Self of the same, Robert le Blund of Bromham, if it be to the damage of the King, or of his forest of Chippeham, or of others, if he should grant to the Abbot of Stanlegh and the Convent that they may enclose a certain wood of theirs near their abbey which is called la More, and is within the metes of the said forest, with a small ditch and a low hedge, so that his wild beasts may freely enter and leave the said wood, and may hold that wood so enclosed to him and his successors for ever or not.

All the jurors say that it is not to the damage of the King, or to the hurt of his forest of Chippeham, if he should grant to the said Abbot and Convent of Stanlegh that they may enclose their said wood with a small ditch and a low hedge, so that his wild beasts may freely enter and leave the said wood, and may hold the same so enclosed, but it will be to the greater commodity of the King and his forest, because if it be enclosed in the manner aforesaid the pasture that now is fed upon by their beasts will be better kept, and will be worth more for the wild beasts of the King. Nevertheless, it is to the damage of others, to wit, the men of the manor of Chippeham, who have common for their beasts in the said wood.

William Fraunceys.

Dominus Rex.

Edward by the grace of God, etc., to his beloved John de Wotton, Robert de Vernun, Peter de Skidenor, and Richard Pig, greeting. We, willing to be certified of the state of our castle and manor of Devizes, and of our park there, and of our forests of Chippenham and Melkesham, to wit, in what state Ralph de Sandwico, late constable of our said castle, delivered up the said castle and manor as in munitions and other dead furniture [in armatur' et alia mortua garnestura], and the said park and forests as in vert and venison, to Matthew son of John, to whom we granted the said manor, park, and forests, for his whole life, and in what state the said Matthew received the same, have assigned you to look fully into the matter, etc., etc.

Witness Edmund Earl of Cornwall, our kinsman, at Westminster, 4th July, in the 15th year of our reign [1287].

On Saturday in the vigil of St. Margaret the Virgin, 15 Edward I [1287], view was had of the Castle of Devizes, with the parks, the manor of Roudes, and with the forests of Melkesham and Chippeham belonging to the said castle, by John de Wotton, then sheriff of Wilts, Robert de Vernon, Peter de Eskydemor, knights, and Richard Pyg, and also by the view of the verderers, foresters, and other ministers of the said forests, who witness that the said castle with the houses therein, and the park with the said forests, and with the said manor, and also the wild beasts in the said park and forests, with the vert and venison, were well kept on the day of St. Petronilla the Virgin, viz., in the vigil of Holy Trinity in the said year, on which day the said Ralph delivered all the same to Sir Matthew, son of John. Moreover, the said Matthew received the things underwritten from the said Ralph in the said castle, viz., 22 balists with the whole tackle, and with 3 baldreds, 100 quarels, 5 chains of iron, one pair of manicles which is called "gym," 3 large cords, one brazier (?) [cynera] bound with iron, one iron which is called Cornaylle, 36 keys for divers doors of the castle, one lock for the door of the prison of the outer gate, 2 buckets bound with iron to draw the water, 2 verms, 6 ladders, and one vestment worn and old, and with one bell from the old chapel of the King, and with one pile of chalk in which is contained 200 quarters of chalk.

In witness whereof as well the said John de Wotton and his fellows, as the verderers of the said forest, viz., Peter de Baldenham, Peter Horn, Adam Hardyng, and Roger le Gras, have put to their seals.

Thomas Syward.

Pleas before Salom' de Roff' and his fellows, justices in eyre at Wilton, in co. Wilts, in the morrow of St. Hilary, 17 Edward I [1289].

The jurors of the hundred of Aumbrebery present that Robert Herberd, who is dead, held half a virgate of land in Wyntereslowe, which is worth by the year 20s., in chief of the King. And Agatha and Agnes, daughters and heirs of the said Robert, were within age in the time of Hildebrond de London, formerly sheriff, and are now married to William Syward and Thomas Syward, by what warrant they do not know. Therefore it is commanded to the sheriff to cause the said William and Thomas to come, but afterwards they did not come, and the sheriff witnesses that the said William was attached by John Nesse and Walter Hardy, therefore he is in mercy. And the said Thomas was attached by Richard Todwyne and John Nesse, therefore he is in mercy. Afterwards the said William and Thomas Syward came and acknowledged that the said Agnes and Agatha were married to them. And because they do not show any licence of the King for the said marriage, let the said tenement be taken into the hand of the King, so that the sheriff may answer for the issues until, etc.

The heir of Wygan de Chereburgh.

Edward, by the grace of God, etc., to John de Haverynge.

Whereas we took into our hands the lands and tenements which were of Wygan de Chereburg, who held of us in chief after the death of the said Wygan, now John, son of the said Wygan, whom he had by Ellen, daughter of Philip de la Leye, and who was married at Effingham, in co. Surrey, as it is said, comes and prays that the said lands and tenements may be given to him as the son and next heir of the said Wygan; and also a certain John, son of the said Wigan, whom he had by Cristiana de Cheddeworth, who was married at Cheddeworth, in co. Gloucester, as it is said, afterwards came into our said court before us, and prayed that the said lands and tenements might be given to him as son and next heir of the said Wygan. As it is not clear to us which of them is the next heir, and not wishing to injure them in this behalf, we command you by the oath of lawful men of the view of Shende diligently to inquire who is the next heir of the said Wygan.

Witness R. de Hengham, at Carnarvon, 6th May, 12 Edward I [1284].

Roger de Karentham.

Extent of the lands and tenements in co. Wilts which were of Roger de Karentham, made on Friday next before the feast of Holy Trinity, 17 Edward I [1289], by the oath of Alan de Langeford, Robert Gurald, William Lamberd, Robert Fot, Walter Gileberd, William le Venur, John Burdayn, Laurence Chanterel, Robert Cole, William Cole, John Botermere, and Nicholas Serle, who say that

The said Roger held in the vill of Bereford one messuage and 80 acres of arable land of the King in chief by the service of the serjeanty of keeping the moiety of the forest of Gravele, and the said messuage is worth by the year 3s. 4d., and each acre of arable land is worth by the year 4d.: sum 26s. 8d. He held in the said vill 3½ acres of meadow of the King in chief by the said service, price of the acre 18d.: sum 5s. 3d. The profit of the bailiwick of keeping the said moiety of the forest of Gravel is worth by the year, clear, 3s. 4d., because he paid per annum at the King's Exchequer 9s., and to the Cathedral Church of Sarum 12d. The pasture for oxen and sheep is not estimated, because it is in common.

The said Roger held in the vill of Bereford 22 acres of arable land of the Prioress of Ambresbury in chief by the service of 8s. per annum, and each acre is worth by the year 2d.: sum 5s. 4d.

The said Roger held in the vill of Hurdecote 5 acres of arable land of John de la Mare, and each acre is worth by the year 6d.: sum 2s. 6d.

The said Roger held in the vill of Dalwode one messuage, one mill, and one piece of meadow of the Abbess of Wilton by the service of 20s. by the year, and the said messuage, mill, and meadow are worth by the year besides the service 2s.

The said Roger held 6 cottages in the vill of Bereford of the King in chief by the said service, and they are worth by the year 6s.

Sum of the whole of the true value of the extent, 54s. 5d.

John de Karentham, son of the said Roger, is his next heir, and is aged 13 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 17 Edward I, No. 81.

Matilda de Haversham.

*Edward by the grace of God to Ralph de Hengham and

We assign you to inquire, by the oaths as well of knights as of others, good and lawful men, of the view of Compton next Sarum, if Matilda de Haversham, daughter and heir of Nicholas de Haversham, who was born at Compton next Sarum, and was baptized in the Church of the said vill, and by reason of her minority is in our wardship, is of full age or not, and therefore we command you to make that inquisition and to send it to us without delay.

Witness Edmund Earl of Cornwall, at Westminster, 10th April, 17 Edward I [1289].

John de Stondon says that at the feast of St. Laurence last past Matilda de la Plank was aged 16 years. Asked how he knew that, he said that he was born in Cump-ton, where she was born, and he was then with her father, and he well knows that she was born at the said feast of St. Laurence before the feast of St. Edmund.

Geoffrey Cof says that he was born in the said vill, and that he inquired about her age of those of the same age.

John de Hortleye knows it by the chaplain of the said vill, who baptized her.

Robert le Fenere says that he was born and baptized in the same vill, and the same year the said Matilda was born his brother was killed, and his said brother had a son of the same age.

William Primerolt was present when Ranulphus the chaplain baptized the said Matilda, and for all his time he served the father of the said A. [sic].

William le Hunte knows of the age of the said Matilda through his neighbours of the said vill, and he inquired diligently about it after the summons.

Walter Gilbert agrees with the above, and adds that he inquired about this of Robert de Cump-ton, who carried her from the water.

Robert atte Crozz knows about her age by the relation of Ranulphus the chaplain who baptized her, and because they expected for two days a certain person who should carry her.

Walter Erneuy knows about it from the neighbours, and it more particularly appears because he diligently inquired after he was summoned.

Thomas de Lucy knows it by the relation of the whole country, and also from Robert de Cump-ton, who carried her.

William de Wilton said that her nurse was with him in the year that the said King was crowned.

Richard Lewis and Robert de Everton have heard it from the said chaplain.

William Dwyntyn.

Inquisition made at Berewyk on Friday next before the feast of St. Margaret the Virgin, 18 Edward I [1290], of the lands and tenements which were of William Quintyn, who held of the King in chief, by the oath of Alan de Langeford, Edmund Falk, Hugh Sireman, John Richer, Thomas Daubeny, Nicholas Serle, Walter Mabeli, William Pydewyne, Geoffrey Warin, William le Forester, Roger le Dun, and John Waylaund, who say that

The said William Quintyn held of the King in chief on the day that he died one messuage in Magna Wycheford with a certain small garden, which is worth per annum, clear, 2s. He held 2 virgates of land which contain in themselves 72 acres of land in the said vill, which are worth by the year, clear, 15s., viz., price of the acre 2½d. Also 5 acres of meadow in the said vill, and it is worth, clear, 7s. 6d., price of the acre 18d. by the year. He held a pasture without number of animals, which is not extended because it is in common. The said William had 4 tenants, who pay by the year 9s. 3d. at the feast of St. Michael by the service of the serjeanty of keeping the moiety of the forest of Gravelynge in the north part, which serjeanty is worth by the year, clear, half a mark, and by the service of paying to the King by the year at the feast of St. Michael 2s. at the Castle of Sarum, and paying to the Prior of Bradele by the year 21s. at the said feast. The said William held of Edmund Spigornel and Maurice de Bonham one virgate of land in the said vill, which contains in itself 36 acres of land, and is worth by the year, clear, 7s. 6d., price of the acre 2½d. And that he held of the same lords one rod of meadow, which is worth by the year 4d., by the service of paying to the said Edmund and Maurice at the feast of St. Michael in the first year 2s., and in the second year 18d.

William, son of the said William Quintyn, is his next heir, and is aged 4 years.

Sum of the whole value, 48s. 3d.

Sum of the value, the services being deducted, 25s. 3d.

Henry Hussee.

Inquisition made at Tudeworth on Sunday next before the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Mary, 18 Edward I [1290], of the lands and tenements which were of Henry Huseye, who held of the King in chief, by the oath of Peter Croilleboys, Berenger de Welfhall, Henry Duce, Ivo de Kepehull, John Ingolf, Richard Gerveys, Richard de Mildeston, Thomas Toller, Richard le Heyr, Roger Fraunceis, Adam Denis, and Hugh le Irreis, who say that

The said Henry Huseye did not hold any lands or tenements of the King in chief in co. Wilts as they understand, but he held the manor of Standene Huse of the Earl de Ferrariis for one knight's fee by knight's service. And the capital messuage, with the garden, is worth by the year half a mark. The dovecote is worth per annum 4s. : sum 10s. 8d. There are there 300 acres of arable land, and each acre is worth by itself by the year 4d. : sum 100s. Also 10 acres of meadow, and each acre is worth by itself by the year 18d. : sum 15s. There is there a certain several pasture for oxen, which is worth by the year 10s. There are there three free tenants, who pay by the year 16s. 4d. at two terms of the year, viz. at Easter and the feast of St. Michael, by equal portions. Also one free tenant, who pays by the year 1 lb. of pepper, viz. at the feast of St. Michael. There are there 15 customars, who pay by the year 38s. 6d. at three terms of the year, viz., at Easter, at the Gule of August, and at the feast of St. Michael, by equal portions. There are there two cottars, who pay by the year 3s. at the said terms. The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth by the year half a mark. Sum, £9 19s. 2d. and 1 lb. of pepper.

The said Henry Huseye held the manor of Tudeworth of the Earl Marshall for the third part of one knight's fee by knight's service. The capital messuage, with the garden, is worth by the year 4s. There are there 210 acres of arable land, and each acre is worth by itself 3d. : sum 52s. 6d. There is there a several pasture, which is worth by the year 3s. There is there a certain free tenant, who pays by the year 8s. at the four principal terms of the year. There are there 5 customars, who pay by the year 40s. at the said terms. Also 3 customars, who pay by the year 12s. at the said terms. The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth per annum 4s. There is there a certain windmill, which is worth by the year 20s. Sum, £7 3s. 6d.

Henry, son of the said Henry Huseye, is his next heir, and is aged 25 years and more.

Edith de Homyngton.

Inquisition made at Wylton on Tuesday next before the feast of St. Gregory, 18 Edward I [1290], of the lands and tenements of Edith, daughter of Robert de Homyngton, by Alan de Langeford, Edmund Falk, William Quintyn, Nicholas Serle, John Martyn, Walter Thomas, Walter Attebrigge, Thomas le Ryde, Elias de Guldeford, Walter Warde, Henry le Frye, and Richard le Yonge, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the said Edith may give to the Prior and Convent of Meydenbradelyg one messuage and 6 bovates of land in Homynton, because the said Edith holds the said messuage and land of the said Prior and Convent by the service of 20s. by the year, doing suit at the court of the said Prior every 3 weeks. And the said messuage and land are worth by the year 50s., and are not charged with any other service except only as is aforesaid.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 18 Edward I, No. 74.

Walter de Brocweye.

Inquisition made at Wereministre on Saturday next before the feast of St. Gregory, 18 Edward I [1290], before Sir Richard de Cumbe, then sheriff of Wilts, by John de Lye, Nicholas Malemayns, Walter de Parco, Roger Marmyon, Roger de Lye, William Colsweyn, Arnulphus de Hewode, Simon Colston, William de Gruyny, John Loece, Thomas Lung, and Richard Destokes, who say that Walter de Brocweye holds one messuage and 30 acres of land and 19 acres of meadow in Brocweye and Westbury of the Prior of Farle Monacorum and the convent of the same place, paying to the said Prior 12s. by the year. And they say that the said Walter may well give and assign the said messuage, land, and meadow without damage to the King, but it is to the damage of Sir Walter de Pavely, lord of the hundred of Westbury, of one suit every 3 weeks by the year. They do not know any other mesne between the King and Walter de Brocweye, except the Prior of Farle Monacorum and his convent. The said messuage, land, and meadow are worth per annum 40s.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 18 Edward I, No. 87.

Richard de Manneston.

Inquisition made before R. de Cumbe, sheriff of Wilts, at Tissebury, on Sunday next before the feast of St. Margaret the Virgin, 18 Edward I [1290], by the oath of John de Nipred, Hugh de Fernhulle, William de Briddesherd, Walter de Oclegh, Thomas de Sualeweclive, Roger de Colingborne, John Petit, Reginald de Eresgrave, Thomas Vincent, Robert Tallard, John Berebac, and Thomas de Wyteclive, if it be to the damage of the King or others if we shall grant to Richard de Maneston that he may give and assign to the Abbess and Convent of Shaftesbury 2 messuages and 2 carucates of land in Dunhevede and Tissebury, to hold to them and their successors for ever, or not, etc., who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the said Richard gives the said messuages and lands to the said Abbess and Convent and their successors for ever, because the said Richard holds the said messuages and lands immediately of the said Abbess by the service of 40s. by the year, and doing suits of the court of the said Abbess in Dunheved every 3 weeks, and at the view of frankpledge to be made in the same, and he does not owe any rents or services to anyone else for the said premises except to the said Abbess in her court. The said messuages and lands are worth per annum, clear, £6. There do not remain to the said Richard any tenements in the said county of Wilts [besides the said gift]. [The said Richard may be put] on assizes, juries, and recognizances as he and his predecessors were wont to be put before.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 18 Edward 1, No. 88.

Hugh Lovel.

Inquisition made at Sturton of the true value of the knight's fees and advowsons of Churches which were of Hugh Lovel, deceased, who held of the King in chief, to wit, in co. Wilts, by the oath of Robert de Horsynton, Walter Wymund, John de Immere, Henry de Pimperlegh, John de Burton, Robert atte Hache, Adam Reynold, Robert Artur, Godfrey de Kynete, Robert atte Lyghe, Walter le Monir, and John Toppe, who say that Ralph de Sturton held of the said Hugh Lovel one knight's fee in Sturton with the advowson of the Church, and it is worth per annum, clear, £30, and the said Church is worth per annum to the use of the parson £13 6s. 8d.

Dated at Sturton in co. Wilts, on Wednesday next before the Purification of the Blessed Mary the Virgin, 20 Edward I [1292].

Chan. Inq. p.m., 19 Edward I, No. 11.

John de Bathonia.

Inquisition of the lands and tenements which were of John de Bathonia, made at Bradeford, on Tuesday in the feast of St. Dionisius, 19 Edward I [1291], by John de Alynton, Robert Gale, Walter Wyllame, Godwin atte Cherethe, John le Wylte, Henry le Cuhurde, Geoffrey Baldewynne, Henry Wyllame, Roger de Cudele, Richard de Cumerewelle, Robert de Hatte, and William le Wylte, who say that Walter de Scudemor holds in the vill of Hardenehywich, of the fee of John de Bathonia, half a carucate of land, and paid therefor to the said John de Bathonia 20s. by the year.

The said John de Bathonia holds the said solidates of land in chief of the heirs of Patrick de Chaurthiis [Cadurcis], who are in the wardship of the King.

Joan de Boun, daughter of John de Bathonia, is his next heir, and is aged 27 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 19 Edward I, No. 13.

John Drokenesford, clerk.

Inquisition made at Devyses on Thursday the vigil of St. Matthew the Apostle, 19 Edward I [1291], before Roger Extraneus, justice of the forest on this side the Trent, by John de Insula, keeper of the forest of Chuet, Peter Crouleboys, forester of the fee of the same forest, Robert Durdent, Humphrey de Dunsterre, verderers of the same forest, and by John de Cormaylles, Edmund de Cormaylles, John le Dun, Oliver de Punchardun, Giles de Punchardun, Robert de Lynkenholte, John de Wymeldon, William de Mucheldevere, Roger de Clatford, William de Cundy, Michael Crok, and John le Blound, if it be to the preservation of the King's wild beasts in his forest of Chuet, and to the advantage of the said forest, if the King should grant to John de Drokenesford, clerk, that he may enclose his wood of Horsley with certain of his land contiguous to the said wood, containing 80 acres by the perch of the forest, with hedge and ditch, and may make a park thereof at his will, and may hold the same to him and his heirs for ever, or not.

All the said jurors, except the said John de Insula, say that it is to the preservation of the King's wild beasts, and to the advantage of his said forest, if he should grant to the said John de Drokenesford that he may enclose with ditch and hedge his said wood of Horseley, in the manor of the said John of Eston Crok, which is within the metes of the said forest, with his land thereto contiguous, and may make a park thereof at his will, and may hold the same so enclosed and made to him and his heirs for ever, in so much as the liberty of the Bishop and Prior of Winchester is between the forest and the said wood of Horselegh, and when the wild beasts of the lord the King enter the said wood, coming and returning, they are taken in the said liberty, to the great diminution of the said wild beasts.

And the said John de Insula cavils [calumpniat], and says that it is to the damage of the King, in so much that the King will lose the attachments of vert and venison in the said wood, if of that wood a park be made.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 19 Edward I, No. 41.

Emelina Longespeye.

Inquisition made in the morrow of St. Clement, 20 Edward I [1291], by the oath of John de Berewyk, John de la Mere, Henry de Ockeburn, clerk, Jordan Quyntyn, William Sennior, Thomas Bernard, John de Horeputte, William de Dodesford, junior, John de Bremel, Robert de Erdescote, John de Molendino, and Richard Stive, who say that

To those 10 librates of land which Emelina Lungespeye wishes to give to the Warden of the Chapel of St. Katharine of Wamberch belong three holders of virgates [virgarii] who hold 3 virgates of land in Est Wamberch, which are worth per annum 40s.; also two holders of virgates who hold 2 virgates of land in West Wamberg, which are worth per annum 20s.; also four tenants who hold 4 half-virgates of land in West Wamberg, and they are worth per annum 20s.; also one tenant who holds one croft, and it is worth per annum 2s.

To the said 10 librates of land belong 21 acres of meadow, and they are worth per annum 26s. 2d.; also 54½ acres of arable land, and they are worth per annum 58s. 5d.; also 24 acres of arable land, and they are worth per annum 8s.; also pleas and perquisites, and they are worth per annum 10s.; also pasture for 12 oxen or other animals, and it is worth per annum 12s.; also pasture for 100 sheep, and it is worth per annum 3s. 6d. The said 10 librates of land are held of the Earl of Lincoln and Margery his wife, by the sixth part of one knight's fee, and the said Earl and Margery of the King in chief, so that the King may have damage in the time of wardship, as from ward to ward. And the said Earl shall have damage as in wards, marriages, reliefs, heriots, fines of lands, redemptions of natives, and other like things. The said Earl shall have damage of the mowing of 5 men for two days, mowing in the meadow of the said Earl, whose works are worth per annum 2s. 6d., to wit, for the said 2 days. Also the works of 4 men making [dispergentium] the hay in the meadow for 2 days are worth per annum 8d. Also the work of one man carrying an acre to the use of the mowers for 2 days are worth 1d. The said Earl will have the damages aforesaid unless the said Emelina will satisfy him in some other way.

The lands and tenements remaining in the hand of the said Emelina, in Wamberg, are worth per annum, clear, £20, but they do not know that the said £20 of land may suffice for the aids, tallages, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other things as although 20 librates and 10 librates of land jointly suffice [?], but nevertheless they say that the tenements remaining in the hand of the said Emelina, besides the said 10 librates of land which she wishes to give, suffice to sustain all customs.

Proof of age of Philip Paynel.

Inquisition concerning the age of Philip Paynel, brother and heir of John Paynel, taken at Malmesbury on Sunday in the feast of St. Silvester the Confessor, 19 Edward I [1290].

John de Cantebrige says that the said Philip was born at Pyriton, in the hundred of Stapel, in co. Wilts, on the day of the Assumption of the Blessed Mary, about the first hour, 53 Henry III [1269], and was baptized in the Church of St. Mary of Pyriton, and Richard, then vicar of the said Church, baptized him on the morrow of the feast of the said Assumption in the morning. Asked as to who were his godfathers and godmothers, he says that Philip Basset, uncle of the mother of the said Philip Paynel, being then at la FASTERNE, his manor, and being asked to carry the said Philip from the font and to give him his name, sent Hugh de Curtenevy and John de Pyriton, his servants, to Pyriton, to carry the said Philip from the font and to give him the name of Philip Basset. And Agnes, then the wife of Roger de Writel, held him, and was his godmother. Asked as to his knowledge, and in what way it appears to him concerning the lapse of time, says that a certain John le Frie, of Pyriton, married a certain Emma by name, at the term of Hokeday, before the nativity of the said Philip next previous, and the said John now sworn then met the said John le Frie with a great company conducting his said wife, and struck a certain William Champenyces, who was loudly calling out at him, on the head with a stick, on account of which he was afterwards brought in plea in the hundred of Wor[th] . . . by the said William, and was gravely amerced, and made amends to the said William in large sums of money.

Thomas le Teyeis says that on the Friday of Pentecost, 50 Henry III [1266], he married Hugina de Chanu [Cheney ?], and in the second year following there was born to him a daughter called Joan, who is now aged 22 years and a half. The said Philip Paynel was born in the year next following the nativity of the said Joan.

Thomas Malreward does not recollect the hour at which the said Philip was born, but says that on the day of St. Andrew the Apostle, in the 53rd year of Henry III, there was born to him a son named Andrew, who is now of the age of 22 years and more.

William de Neville says that at Pentecost, in the said 53rd year, there was born to him a daughter named Margery, who in the 15th year of her age married a certain Henry de Stoke, and in the following year gave birth to a daughter named Alice, who is now of the age of 6 years and more.

John le Frie says that in the 50th year of Henry III, on the morrow of Hokeday, he married Emma his wife, and in the following year she gave birth to a daughter called Alice, who still lives and is married; and the said Philip was born at the Assumption of the Blessed Mary next following the said marriage.

Geoffrey de Marisco says that Robert his son was born at the feast of St. Peter Advincula in the said 53rd year, and the said Philip Paynel was born at the Assumption of the Blessed Mary.

William Crups says that a certain John Balle married Justan his kinswoman in the 53rd year of Henry III, and the said William then ministered at the said nuptials, and at the Assumption of the Blessed Mary next following the said Philip was born.

Philip de Ford was born at Cirencester a certain Jordan de Quermakare (?), his special friend, married a certain Emma de Havedon at Pentecost in the said 53rd year, and on the feast of the Assumption next following the said Philip was born.

John de la Rochel says that the said Jordan de Quermakyre (?), his next neighbour, married his said wife

Elias de Mandevil . . . let to farm to a certain Henry de Writel one acre of land in the . . . year from the feast of St. Michael for the term of 20 years, which at the feast of St. Michael . . . according to the form of the writing, reverted to the said Elias because his father is deceased . . .

Abbot de Stanlegh.

Inquisition taken before Matthew son of John, keeper of the forest of Chyppesham, in co. Wilts, on Friday next before the feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Mary, 22 Edward I [1294], by the oath of Alexander de Bokyngham, Geoffrey Reed, Robert Daly, foresters, Laurence de Stodleye, Thomas le Theyn, William le Escryuayn, and Nicholas le Eyr, verderers, Roger Babbe, Adam le Chamberleyn,

William de Chelfurste, Robert del Ebrigge, Alan de Lacham, Adam Hardyng, and Nicholas le Blund, who say that

It is not to the damage or hurt of the King or of his forest of Chyppham nor of any other whomsoever if the Abbot of Stanleye and the Convent of the same place, in their demesne lands within the metes of the said forest outside the cover, may dig iron-ore and make iron thereof, and take and carry it away thence whither they will.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 22 Edward I, No. 73.

Edmund, Earl of Cornwall.

Inquisition made before T. de St. Emero, sheriff of Wilts, by writ of the lord the King, on Monday in the feast of St. Peter in Cathedra, 22 Edward I [1294], concerning one garden and one croft in the vill of Mere, by the oath of Philip Strug, Roger de Canesford, John de Immere, John Cleymond, Roger Cleymond, John de Hampstede, John son of Peter de Burthon, Edward Boddeg, Walter Trenchesent, Reginald le Tannere, Walter Rodd, and Walter Attemullie, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of others if the King shall grant to Edmund, Earl of Cornwall that he may give and assign to the Dean and Chapter of Sarum and their successors for ever the said garden and croft, except to the damage of the King, for that the said garden and croft are held of the King: they are worth per annum, clear, 13s. 4d.

There remains to the said Earl in the said vill of Mere 40 librates of yearly land, which suffice in all things for the customs and all other charges as they were wont to sustain.

The country by the said grants will not be charged with a larger payment.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 22 Edward I, No. 122.

Philip le Fraunceys.

Writ dated 12th July, 22 Edward I [1294].

The King to Malcolm de Harleye, his escheator on this side the Trent, greeting. Whereas you lately took into our hand one messuage and 40 acres of land in Lokerigge, which Philip le Fraunceys gave to the Prior of the house of St. Margaret outside Marleberg and to the brethren of the said house, and one message in the same vill which Richard le Eyr gave to the said Prior and brethren because the said Prior and brethren, without our licence, entered into the said tenements after our statute published concerning lands and tenements not to be put to mortmain, and held the same until at our parliament last past you at our command repledged [replegiassetis] the said Prior and brethren: we, wishing to show the said Prior and brethren our abundant grace in this behalf, command you that if the said Prior shall find sufficient security to answer to us in our parliament next coming for the issues thereof forthcoming in the meantime, if we shall wish to have them, you shall cause the said tenements to be repledged to the said Prior and brethren by the said security, and by the oath of good and lawful men of your bailiwick you shall diligently enquire if it be to the damage of ourselves and others if we shall grant the said tenements to the said Prior and brethren, etc., etc.

Inquisition made at Marleberg, in co. Wilts, 19th August, 22 Edward I [1294], of the lands and tenements which were of Philip Franceys and Richard le Heer in Lokerygg, whereof the Prior and brethren of St. Margarets are enfeoffed, by the oath of Reginald Waz, John de Hardynton, William Crespyn, Philip de Stanburn, Peter de Lavynnton, Walter Blake, Walter del Hampstall, Gilbert de Bosco, Walter Syward, Richard le Wyte, Roger Page, and John de la Mere, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King, because the Prior does the services to the King thereof due and accustomed, and it is not to the prejudice of others, because the Earl of Herdford [sic], of whom they hold in chief, confirmed their feoffment for 2s. to be paid every year.

The said tenements are worth per annum, clear, 2s.

The residue of the land of the said Philip which remains in the possession of the heir of the said Philip is worth per annum 6os.

The said Prior and brethren hold the house with a curtilage and small croft of the gift of Richard le Eyr, and they are worth per annum 2s.

The lands which remain in the possession of the said Philip and his heirs and Richard fully suffice for all the other charges and services which before were wont to be done.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 22 Edward I, No. 139.

Thomas de St. Vigore.

Henry son of Auger.

Writ dated at Aberconewey, 4th April, 23 Edward I [1295].

Edward, etc., to the sheriff of Wilts. We command you by the oath of good and lawful men of your county diligently to enquire whether it be to the damage of us or others if we grant to Henry son of Auger that he may give and assign to the Prior and Convent of the brethren of the order of the Preachers of Sarum 1½ acres of meadow in Fyssherton towards the enlargement of the place [placie] of the said brethren in Sarum, to hold to them and their successors for ever, or not; and if so, to what damage, etc., etc.

Inquisition made at Fissertone on Friday next before the feast of the Apostles Philip and James, 23 Edward I [1295], before Thomas de St. Omer, then sheriff of Wilts, by Edmund Falke, John Chamberleyn, Hugh Schyreman, Geoffrey Waryn, Peter Crey, Peter de Wodeford, William Oydenot, Adam Wilybend (?), John Richer, William le Schonnerre, William le Hattere, and Richard le Rinter, who say that Henry son of Auger is the chief lord and can give that acre and a half of meadow to whomsoever he will, and the said Henry holds the same of the fee of the Earl of Lincoln, and owes scutage for all the tenement which he holds in the said vill when it shall happen.

And if the said Henry shall happen to die the heir of the said Henry ought to remain in the wardship of the Earl of Lincoln, and then the said Earl will lose the value of 2s. by the year for the same meadow, and it is not to the damage of the King, neither do they know what damage it is to any other, nor in what way any damage can occur.

The lands and tenements remaining to the said Henry suffice for the service due, because the lands remaining are worth beyond the said gift 20 marks yearly, and all other charges, to wit, customs, services as well for the said meadow given as for the said lands retained, which they sustained or were wont to sustain as in suits, views of frankpledge, aids, tallages, vigils, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever. And that he may be put on assizes, juries, and other recognizances whatsoever, as was wont to be done before the said gift. Neither is the country hurt by the gift of the said Henry.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 23 Edward I, No. 96.

Hugh Peverel.

Writ dated at St. Edmunds, 12th November, 24 Edward I [1296].

Edward, etc., to Malcolm de Harley, escheator on this side the Trent.

By the plaint of Margery, who was the wife of Hugh Peverel, we understand that whereas the said Hugh and Margery held on the day of the death of the said Hugh one messuage and one carucate of land in Parva Domberham of the inheritance of the said Margery, and were in full and peaceful seisin thereof on that day, yet nevertheless you took the said messuage and land, together with other lands and tenements whereof the said Hugh was seised in his demesne as of fee, into our hand by the death of the said Hugh, and unjustly detain them from the said Margery, to her no small hurt. We therefore command you, as we wish to be fully certified thereof and to do what is just to the said Margery, diligently to enquire whether the said premises are of the inheritance of the said Margery, as she says, and if the said Hugh and Margery were thereof seised when the said Hugh died, etc., etc.

Margaret, wife of John Giffard.

Inquisition taken at Scherentone before the King's escheator, 5th August, 27 Edward I [1299], by Ralph Daungers, Nicholas le Hordener, Richard de Langeford, John de Bacham, William Bytlynnebury, Waller le Scout, John Elys, Peter de Wodeford, Robert le Bor, Adam Welyband, Richard Petevyn, and Philip le Cok, to enquire if Margaret, who was the wife of John Giffard, of Brumeffeld, who held of the King in chief together with the said John, formerly her husband, was jointly enfeoffed of certain lands and tenements in Orcheston St. George, and if she continued her seisin thereof up to the death of the said John or not, etc., etc., who say that

The said Margaret was jointly enfeoffed together with the said John of one messuage and one carucate of land in Orchestone St. George, and that she continued her seisin thereof until the death of the said John, and that 3 years past before the death of the said John she was enfeoffed of the said premises by John le Bret, who enfeoffed thereof the said John and Margaret and their heirs for ever.

The said land and tenement are held of the King in chief by the barony of making to the King for the said manor, together with other manors in other counties, the service of 3 knights' fees in his Army, and are worth per annum, clear, 64s. 10d.

Gilbert Chynne and others for the Prioress, etc., of Ambresbury.

Inquisition made at New Sarum on Monday next before the feast of the Apostles Simon and Jude, 27 Edward I [1299], by the oath of Thomas de Beauviere, Richard de la Chambre, John de Neyvill, John Michel, Henry le Templer, John Louuer, Henry de Mundayne, Robert le Cumyner, Peter de Andeuere, Hugh le Nhug, John Bishop, Elias le Wympler, Stephen Regat, and John de Brytford, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King if he should grant to the Prioress and nuns of Ambresbyr that they may hold to them and their successors according to the form of the enfeoffments for ever one messuage in New Sarum, which they acquired to themselves in the said city by the enfeoffment of Gilbert Chynne, and one messuage in the same city which they acquired by the feoffment of Peter, formerly Bishop of Exeter, except in this only, that in the time of a vacancy the King has the custody of the said city because the Bishop holds the said city of the King in chief; and if there shall happen an escheat of the said messuages in the time of the vacancy, which rarely or never happens, because the tenants of the said messuages hold the same to them and their heirs, and may, according to the custom of the said liberty, alienate those messuages to whomsoever they shall wish, saving nevertheless to the said Prioress and nuns certain rents coming therefrom yearly, and to the Bishop, the chief lord of the said city, the rents and all other services due therefor; neither from henceforth can it be to the prejudice of the Bishop of Sarum, the chief lord, as the said Prioress and nuns have peacefully held the said messuage which they acquired from Gilbert Chynne for the last 16 years and more, and the messuage which they have of the feoffment of Peter, Bishop of Exeter, for the last 25 years and more; nor to the damage of the city, because the said tenants are geldable with the other citizens in all manner of tallages and aids to the King, the Bishop, or the commonalty of the said city in what way soever emerging. The said Gilbert Chynne and Peter the Bishop had no other lands as they recollect which may happen to their heirs. The said tenements are held of the Bishop of Sarum for 6s. 8d., and in 2 suits at 2 law days by the year. The said messuage that was of Gilbert Chynne is bound in 20s. of silver of yearly pension to the church of Mellebyr, and is worth per annum, clear, 40s. The messuage that was of Peter, formerly Bishop of Exeter, is worth per annum, clear, one mark of silver.

The Prioress of Ambresbury.

Writ dated at Westminster, 2nd August, 27 Edward I [1299].

The King to the sheriff of Wilts, commanding him to enquire whether it be to the damage of the King or others if he (the King) should grant to the Prioress and nuns of Ambresbury that they may hold to themselves and their successors, according to the form of the feoffments for ever, one messuage and one virgate of land in Duryngton, which they acquired by the feoffment of Robert Goion, and one messuage and the moiety of one virgate of land in Induryngton by the feoffment of Ernesius de Durynton, after the statute published concerning lands and tenements not put to mortmain, or not, etc., etc.

Inquisition made before the sheriff of Wilts at Ambum (?), on Monday next after the feast of St. Michael, 27 Edward I [1299], by the oath of John Mychel, Henry le Templer, Robert le Frankeleyn, William Beyschyn, John Lower, Richard de Middleston, William Sylle, Henry Trussehare, Robert Mychel, Richard Bertholomeu, Henry le Yreys, and John de Bottokesham, who say that

One messuage and one virgate of land in Duryngton, which the said Prioress has of the gift of Robert Goion, is held in chief of John de Nevylle by the service of 5s., and moreover is worth per annum 10s. It is not to the damage of the country, because the residue demised to the heirs of the said Robert Goion suffices to do the customs and services which the said Robert was wont to do. One messuage and the moiety of one virgate of land in Hynduryngton, which the said Prioress and nuns have of the feoffment of Ernesius de Duryngton, are of the fee of the said Prioress, and held of the same by the service of 5s. by the year, and moreover it is worth yearly 5s. The heir of the said Ernesius has sufficient to do the customs and services, so that there is no damage of any other.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 27 Edward I, No. 128.

John Abbadam.

Inquisition made at Lutegereshale on Sunday next after the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, 27 Edward I [1299], whether the wardship and presentation of the house of St. Mark of Bylleswyke next Bristol belong to the King by reason of the manor of Wynterburne Gonnore, which Brother Robert de Radynges, late Master of the said house, and the brethren of the said house, held of the King in chief, or to John Abbadam and Elizabeth his wife, and whether the brethren of the said house, when vacancies occurred among them, were wont to seek licence to choose from the King or his progenitors, or from the said John and Elizabeth, and the ancestors of the said Elizabeth, and to present the elect when chosen, and by what service the said manor is held of the King, by the oath of Thomas Bucher, Peter de Fortesbury, Peter Olyver, Richard Gerveys, William de Hugthe, Robert de Hareffeld, William Warde, John Kuttewyne, Adam le Frangeleyn, John Michel, William de Boscombe, and William Sylle, who say that

The wardship of the said house in the time of a vacancy does not belong to the King by reason of the manor of Wynterburne Gonnore, which the said brother Robert de Radynes and the brethren of the said house hold of the King, but to the said John Abbadam and Elizabeth his wife, because the said house is of the inheritance of the said Elizabeth.

The brethren of the said house in the time of a vacancy ought to seek licence to elect from the said John and Elizabeth, and to present their clerk to them when they have chosen him, by reason that the said brethren and their predecessors from the time of the foundation of the said house were wont to seek such licence from the ancestors of the said Elizabeth, and to present their chosen clerk to them.

The said Master and brethren of the said house hold one carucate of land in the said manor of Wynterbourne Gonnore of the King by small serjeanty, by the service of paying per annum 12s. at the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, by the hands of the sheriff of Wiltshire, to the use of the King.

The Prioress and Nuns of Ambresbury.

Inquisition made at Wynterburnestoke of the lands and tenements which were of William Bakun in the vill of Bereford, and of one mark of rent of John de Littelecote, on Sunday next after the Invention of Holy Cross, 29 Edward I [1301], by the oath of Simon de Monte Alto, Alan de Langeford, William de Ralveston, Robert Bide, Nicholas de Wyly, Robert le Savage, John le Crokkere, William Wyppe, Richard Peyteyn, Adam Berthelot, John Burel, Hugh Syreman, Robert le Frenshe, and Ralph de la Sale, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to the Prioress and Nuns of Ambresbiry one messuage, 36 acres of land, 3 acres of meadow, and pasture for 100 sheep, which they had of the feoffment of William Bakun in the vill of Bereford for ever, because the said tenements are held of the said Prioress in chief by the service of 6s. per annum, doing also suit at 2 "Laghedayes" per annum, and all other services to the said Prioress and to no other, saving nevertheless juries, assizes, recognizances and inquisitions, with which that tenement was wont to be charged, and it is worth per annum in all things besides the said rent 6s. 8d.

He has tenements and lands whereby he may sufficiently do the services in assizes and juries, as is abovesaid, so that the country may not be wronged or charged.

The said Prioress has of the gift and grant of William de Estdene one mark of rent yearly of one messuage and 2 virgates of land, which John de Littelecote holds in Combe and Littelecote, and likewise of one meadow which the said John holds in the parish of Eneford, and that meadow is called Northmede, for the soul of Lady A. Queen of England, mother of the now King. The said messuage, 2 virgates of land, and the meadow are not charged with any other service towards anyone.

The Brethren and Sisters of the Hospital of St. Giles of Wylton.

Inquisition made before the escheator at Wylton on Thursday in the Morrow of St. Peter in Cathedra, 29 Edward I [1301], by the oath of Peter Beleiambe, Robert Beede, Hugh Coterel, Hugh Syreman, Richard Maddok, Robert Maddok, Laurence Coleman; John le Mons, William le Escriveyn, Thomas le Proute, John Wolverich, and Nicholas Ragenel, whether the brethren and sisters of the Hospital of St. Giles of Wylton were wont to take 6 marks of the borough of Wylton for the support of a certain chaplain celebrating divine service in the said hospital every day, or not, who say that

The said brethren and sisters of the said hospital had and took of the gift and grant of the progenitors of King Edward who now is 6 marks of yearly rent of the vill of Wylton, but they do not know who was the first donor, because so much time has elapsed that there is no memory of it, and the brethren and sisters who are there now have no title of the said gift, but they believe that King Henry the Old first assigned and gave the said 6 marks to be paid to the said Hospital. The reason of the gift of those 6 marks was for the support of one chaplain whom the said brethren and sisters ought to find and do find, celebrating every day in the said hospital for the soul of the said King, his progenitors, and his heirs. The said brethren and sisters took the said 6 marks from the first gift made to them of certain rents and issues of the said vill of Wylton by the hands of the bailiffs of the said vill at the 4 principal terms of the year, to wit, at each term 20s., as well in the time when the said vill was in the hands of the progenitors of the now King as in the time when it was in the hands of the lord Richard, formerly King of Germany, and of the lord Edmund, formerly Earl of Cornwall, without any interruption of time up to the feast of the Nativity of the Lord last past, when the said vill came to the hands of the now King by the death of the said Earl of Cornwall.

John de Havering.

Inquisition made at Grafton on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Dionisius, 30 Edward I [1302], before John de Herterigge, sheriff of Wilts, by the oath of Henry Lesturmi, Roger de Harden, Philip Lesturmi, William Warin, Robert le Droys, John de Kepehull, William Hoppegresse, Geoffrey Sauvage, John Fraunkelayn, Eustace Sauvage, Robert Deverle, Thomas Bonkelene, Thomas de Hurle, John de Fostebury, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or of others if the King should grant to John de Haveringge that he may give and assign to a certain chaplain celebrating divine service every day in the chapel of the Blessed Mary of Est Grafton, one virgate of land and 4 marks of rent in Walton and West Grafton, to hold to the said chaplain and his successors celebrating divine service every day in the said chapel for ever. The said virgate of land is held of the Earl of Gloucester by knight's service, to wit, by the service of 6d. when 40s. are taken of scutage [de scuto], and it is worth per annum, clear, 6s. 8d. The tenement from the which the said 4 marks of rent come is held of Henry Lesturmi by the service of 10s. per annum. The lands and tenements remaining to the said John de Haveringge, besides the said gift and assignment, are worth per annum £30, which said lands and tenements suffice for the customs and services duly to be made, as well for the said land and rent given as for those retained, and for other charges which he sustained and was wont to sustain, as in suits, views of frankpledge, aids, tallages, vigils, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever emerging to be sustained. And that the said John may be put on assizes, juries, and recognizances whatsoever, as he was wont to be put before the said gift and assignment, so that the country by the said gift by default of the said John may not be charged or wronged with a larger payment.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 29 Edward I, No. 113.

Robert de Bardeney.

Inquisition taken at Devizes on Sunday next after the feast of St. Lawrence, 31 Edward I [1303], before John de Hertrigge, sheriff of Wilts, by Adam Hardyng, Roger Bubbe, William Percehay, John de Bourle, John Caynel, William de Caynes, Richard de Comerwelle, Thomas Roily, Robert le Whyte, Walter Willam, Henry Willam, and Alan Bruton, if it be to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to Robert de Bardeneye that he may give and assign to the Abbess and nuns of Lacok 2 messuages and 2½ virgates of land in Nactone next Lacok, to hold to them and their successors for ever, or not, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others.

The said message and land are held in chief of the said Abbess by the service of 7s. of yearly rent, and are worth per annum, clear, 15s.

There remains to the said Robert de Bardeneye 100 shillings of land and tenement, besides the said gift, which suffice for the customs and services duly to be done as well for the said message and land given as for those remaining to the said Robert, and for all other charges which he sustained, and was wont to sustain, as in suits, views of frankpledge, aids, tallages, vigils, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever. The said Robert may be put on assizes, juries, and other recognizances whatsoever, as before the said gift he was wont to be put. The country by the said assignment through the default of the said Robert will not be charged with a larger payment.

William de Hardene.

Inquisition made before the escheator at Marlborough, 9th September, 31 Edward I [1303], by the oath of Henry Stormy, John de la Ryvere, Philip Stormy, William de Stockes, Peter de Forsteburi, Geoffrey le Savage, John de Wolfhale, John Chauuin, William le Parler, John de Kepehull, Roger Bacon, and William de Somerset, if it be to the damage of the King or others if it be granted to William de Hardene that he may retain and have to him and his heirs one carucate of land in Shaldebourn: which said land the said William has of the demise and grant of Matilda, who was the wife of Richard de Hardene, who held it in dower of the inheritance of Roger de Hardene, and which the said Roger, to whom the said land ought to revert after the death of the said Matilda, remised and quitclaimed to the said William and his heirs, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to the said William that he may retain and have the said land as is aforesaid.

The said land is held of the King in chief by the service of the moiety of one serjeanty in the King's army, to wit, finding the moiety of one man armed with a habergeon, lance, and helmet of iron for 40 days at the charges of the said William. The said land is not held of any other or of the King, and is worth per annum, clear, 40s.

The said Roger de Harden, besides the said lands, holds in Harden $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land by serjeanty of the King in chief, by the service of keeping one part of the forest of Savernaks which is called Broyl de Bedewinde, and the said land with the said custody is worth per annum, clear, 20s.

The said Roger holds in the vill of Harden of William de Harden one messuage and 2 carucates of land, by homage and the service of making suit at the court of the said William in Shaldebourn from 3 weeks to 3 weeks, and the said land is worth per annum, clear, 100s.

Chan. Inq. a.q.d., 31 Edward I, File 42, No. 11.

Geoffrey de Pulham.

Inquisition taken at Crikkelade on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Matthew the Apostle, 31 Edward I [1303], by the oath of James de Grondwell, John Ace, William Brian, Henry Eylmer, John de Canntebrugg, Richard de Cone, John de Neuill, Adam Fraunceys, John Wronge, Richard Costard, Thomas White, and Richard Brian, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to Geoffrey de Pulham that he may give and assign one messuage and 2 virgates of land in Latton to the Abbot and convent of Cyrencestre, to hold to them and their successors for ever.

The said messuage and land are held of the said Abbot and convent by the service of 12s. per annum, and are worth per annum, clear, saving the said services therefor due, 6s. 8d.

No lands or tenements remain to the said Geoffrey besides the said gift. The country by his default will not be charged with a larger payment, because the said Geoffrey, by his very small tenure, could not be put, neither was wont to be put, on any assizes, juries, or recognizances, neither did he sustain any charges for the said tenements as in suits, views of frankpledges, or any other things whatsoever, except only rendering to the said Abbot and convent the service aforesaid.

Chan. Inq. a.q.d., 31 Edward I, File 42, No. 1.

John de Puyllle and Mabel his wife.

Inquisition taken at Exeter before the Mayor and bailiffs, 7th May, 31 Edward I [1303], by the oath of Waller Tauntefer and others, who say that DEVON.

It is not to the prejudice of the King or others, saving only the diminution of the value of the tenement to John de Puyllle and Mabel his wife and their heirs, if the King should grant that the said John and Mabel may give one messuage in Exeter to the Abbot and convent of Tavistock

WILTS.

There remains to the said John and Mabel at Domerham, in co. Wilts, 15 librates of land and more besides the said gift and assignment, which suffice for the customs and services duly to be made as well for the said messuage as for the tenements retained, and for all other charges to be sustained, because the said messuage owes no service to the King. The heirs of the said John and Mabel by reason of the said messuage ought not to be put on assizes, juries, or recognizances, because the city of Exeter, by the charters of the now King and his progenitors, is quit of such juries, assizes, and recognizances to be taken outside the City. The said messuage ought to be taxed as the said city shall be taxed, and so it will owe nothing to the King.

William son of Hugh de Ippelle.

Inquisition taken at New Sarum feast of St. Lawrence, 31 Edward I [1303], before John de Hertrugg, sheriff of Wilts, by the oath of Robert Bede, Edmund Falbe, William de Wyly, William le Maresschall, Hugh Sireman, John le Proute, Peter de Wodef Welylond, John le Frye, John Chaunteclere, Geoffrey Waryn, and Nicholas le Hordere, whether it be to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to William son of Hugh de Ippelle that he may give and assign one acre of land in Bymerton to William de Ippelle, parson of the church of Fugheleston, to hold to him and his successors, parsons of the said church, for ever, or not, who say that

It is not to the damage of anyone except only of William le Espicer, of New Sarum, of whom the said acre is held for one penny of silver of yearly rent for all service, by which penny escheats, wards, and marriages might happen to the said William. The said acre is worth pef annum, clear, 2s. There remains to the said William 100s. of land per annum in the county of Southampton, which he holds of the King in socage.

Adam de Stratton.

Inquisition taken before Henry de Cobeham, sheriff of Wilts, on Friday in the feast of St. Vincent, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of John Ace, James de Grundwell, William de Maundeville, Robert Chann, Elias de Maundeville, Robert de Lusteshull,

Robert de Wykes, Robert Avenel, Walrand de Wydyhulle, William Bryan, Peter de Waldecote, and Adam Fraunceys, who say that Adam de Stratton, who was disinherited for felony which he had committed, held 9 messuages and 10 virgates of land in Overstratton next High Swyndon of John Walraund, father of Adam Walraund, for the term of the life of the said Adam, by the service of 5s., which Margaret the Queen of England now holds. The said messuage and land were in the King's hand for one year and one day, and Richard de Combe, then sheriff of Wilts, took the explees of the year and the day, and ought to answer for the same.

To the King and his Council shows Adam Walrand that whereas Adam de Stratton held of the said Adam Walrand 9 messuages and 10 virgates of land in the vill of Overstratton for the term of his life, paying per annum 5s., of the which services he was seised as by the mean his true tenant until the felony done by him for the which he was attainted, whereby the King seised into his hands the lands and tenements of the said Adam de Stratton, so that after that the King had the year and the waste of the premises, the said Adam approached the King's Council in the last Parliament and prosecuted his bill concerning the said matter, whereto it was answered that he should go to the King's Chancery and sue out a writ to the sheriff of Wilts, and the said sheriff should cause to come before him 12 good and lawful men by whom the truth might be the better enquired into whether the said 9 messuages and 10 virgates of land in Overstratton, of the which he was disinherited, and whether the said Adam de Stratton was tenant, and of whom he held them, and who now holds them, and whether the tenements remained in the King's hand for a year and a day or not, and who had the year and the waste thereof after he was attainted, and that the sheriff should return into the Chancery according to that which was found by the said inquisition. The said Adam Walrand has come to the Chancery, and has often requested that he might have a writ according to the form of the inquisition returned as the one who is the right heir, and to whom it ought to descend as his escheat after the year and the waste, and the said Adam Walrand is answered by the Chancellor that for that the lady the Queen is in seisin of the said tenements as by the gift of the King that the said Adam should approach the King's Council for; because the Queen has the said tenements by livery of the King he dare do nothing without the King's commandment, whereupon the said Adam Walrand prays for remedy for the salvation of his soul.

Adam Wyking.

Inquisition taken at Mere before the King's escheator, 14th November, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of Walter de Horsington, John de Pimperlegh, Robert de la Legh, Eustace de Borthon, John de Immere, Eudo de Storton, Roger de Lokynton, John le Palmere, Roger Cleymound, Richard de Borthon, Edward Loddok, and Walter Pinnok, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to Adam Wyking, of Mere, that he may give and grant one messuage and 1½ carucates of land in Mere to Hugh de Denford and John de Fayreford: to hold to them and their heirs for ever, by the same services by which the said Adam holds them at present. The said messuage and land are held of the King in chief, as of his manor of Mere, by the service of 22s. for all service, to be paid yearly to the bailiffs of the said manor at the 4 principal terms of the year by equal portions, and paying 10s. yearly to the Abbess of Schefston, by the assignment of Richard formerly Earl of Cornwall and lord of Mere, and are worth per annum, clear, 60s., besides the said service. No lands or tenements remain to the said Adam beyond the said grant in co. Wilts or elsewhere.

John le Stut.

Inquisition taken before Henry de Cobeham, sheriff of Wilts, at New Sarum on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Peter which is called in Cathedra [no year given]: writ dated 26th January, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of John de Cowel, Stephen de Harpedene, John de Braundeston, John de Langeford, Walter le Bolde, Richard de Long, William le Hattere, Robert Chese, Robert de Laverkestoke, John Bisshop, Richard Sturmy, and John le Rede, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to John le Stut that he may give and assign 57s. 4d. of rent in New Sarum to a certain chaplain to celebrate divine service every day for the souls of the said John and Cecilia his wife, and Matilda, formerly the wife of the said John, and his ancestors, in the church of St. Thomas the Martyr of New Sarum: to hold to the said chaplain and his successors for ever. The said rent is held of the Bishop of Sarum by the service of 1d. per annum for all services. There is no mean for the said rent between the King and the said John except the said Bishop. The lands and tenements remaining to the said John le Stut beyond the said gift and assignment suffice for the customs and services duly to be done, as well for the said rent as for the rents and tenements retained, and for all other charges which he sustained and was wont to sustain as in suits, views of frankpledge, tallages, vigils, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever. The said John may be put on assizes, juries, and recognizances whatsoever, as was wont to be done before the said gift. The county by the default of the said John will not be charged with a larger payment.

Chan. Inq. a.q.d., 33 Edward I, Folio 53, No. 1.

Henry de Bluntesdon.

Inquisition taken before Henry de Cobeham, sheriff of Wilts, at Latton on Friday in the feast of St. Vincent, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of Adam Walraund, Robert de Lusteshulle, Robert Avenel, Walrand Perys, William Bryan, John de Nevylle, Simon Was, William de Mordene, Peter de Wahtacre (?), John de Grauntebrigg, John Thyldulf, and James de Grundwell, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King if the King should grant to Henry de Bluntesdon that he may give and assign one messuage, one carucate of land, 9 acres of meadow, and 7s. 4d. rent in Bluntesdon St. Andrew, Bluntesdon Gay, North Wydyhull, and West Wydyhull, and the advowson of the Church of Bluntesdon St. Andrew to 3 chaplains celebrating divine service every day in the Church of St. Andrew of Bluntesdon for the souls of the said Henry and all the faithful deceased, to hold to them and their successors chaplains there; nor to the damage of any others except only the lords of that fee who for that reason will lose their relief or escheats.

The said tenements are held of Sir John de la Mare together with the advowson of the said church, by the service of one mark, and are worth per annum, clear, 10s., except the said service, and the said church is worth per annum, clear, 100s. There is no mean between the King and the said Henry de Bluntesdon except John de la Mare, who holds the same of the King in chief. There still remain to the said Henry lands and tenements to the value of 10s., besides the said gift, which suffice for the customs and services duly to be done as well for the said premises so given as for those retained, and for all other charges to be sustained as in suits, views of frankpledge, aids, tallages, vigils, fines, redemptions, amercements, contributions, and other charges whatsoever. The heirs of the said Henry may be put on assizes, juries, and other recognizances, as they were wont to be put before the said gift. The country by the said gift, through the default of the said Henry, will not be charged with a larger payment.

John de Maundevill.

Inquisition taken before the escheator at Dorchester, 3rd May, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of John de Mulebourne, Ralph de Rochesford, and others, if it be to the prejudice of the King or others if he should grant to John de Maundevill that he may enfeoff Robert le Fiz Payn and Isabella his wife of his manor of Merschswode [in co. Dorset], which is held of the King in chief as it is said, to hold to the said Robert and Isabella and the heirs of the said Robert by the King by the services therefor due and accustomed for ever, or not, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to the said John de Maundevill that he may enfeoff the said Robert le Fiz Payn and Isabella his wife and the heirs of the said Robert of his said manor of Merschswode, which said manor is held of the King in chief by barony, together with the lands and tenement underwritten. The messuages within the said manor, with the close, are worth per annum half a mark. There are there 120 acres of arable land, which are worth per annum 40s., price of the acre 4*d.*; also 20 acres of meadow, worth per annum 30s., price of the acre 18*d.* There is there a certain several pasture, which is worth per annum 20s. Also a certain wood, the profit whereof is worth per annum half a mark. Also a pool, worth per annum 12*d.* There is there a certain rent of assize of the free tenants per annum, viz.

50s. The rent of the customars per annum is 20s. The services of the same are worth per annum 10s. The hundred of la Whitechurche belonging to the said manor is worth per annum 30s. There remains to the said John, besides the said manor, the manor of Coker, in co. Somerset, which is worth per annum £30, but by whom or by what service it is held the jurors know not. The hundred of Coker, belonging to the said manor, remains to the said John, and is worth per annum half a mark. The manor of Suttone Maundevill, in co. Wilts, remains to the said John: it is held of the King in chief, but by what service is not known; it is worth per annum £15.

Sum of the whole value of the manor of Merschwode per annum, £10 14s. 4d.

Sum of the whole value of the lands and tenements remaining beyond the said manor, £45 6s. 8d.

Thomas de Chaucombe.

Inquisition taken at Sarum before the King's escheator, 24th March, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of Alan de Langeford, Edmund Falke, Robert Bede, Hugh Ereman, Robert de Brudecombe, William Kedenet, Nicholas Serle, Ralph Danger, Robert Geraud, William Cole, Peter Whippe, and Robert le Font, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if the King should grant to Thomas de Chaucombe, knight, that he may retain to him and his heirs for ever of the King and his heirs, by the same services by the which the said John first held them of the King, one messuage, 100 acres of arable land, and 4 acres of meadow in Bereford St. Martin, and the bailiwick of the forestry of Gravelei in co. Wilts, which he acquired to himself in fee without the King's licence of John de Carentam, who held them of the King in chief. The said messuage, land, and bailiwick are held of the King in chief by the service of 9s., to be paid yearly by the hands of the said Thomas to the sheriff of Wilts at the feast of St. Michael, and paying to the church of St. Mary of Sarum 12d. yearly for all service, and are worth per annum, clear, to wit, the said messuage and land, 26s. 8d., and the said bailiwick 18s. besides the said service. There belong to the said bailiwick all the dead wood, ferns [fugera], housebote and haybote, and pasture for all the oxen, plough-horses, pigs, and sheep, as many as the forester of the said bailiwick had at all times of the year, without contradiction of any, save the forbidden month, together with fuel for the oven which belongs to the said bailiwick in the said forest. The said John Carentam and his ancestors were wont to have and take yearly all the dead wood and fern in the said forest, housebote, haybote, and pasture for all oxen, horses, pigs, and sheep, and all other animals except goats, at all times of the year except the forbidden month, at all times past, together with fuel for the said oven. No lands or tenements in the said county remain to the said John besides the said enfeoffment.

Amicia de la Riviere.

Inquisition made before John Gireberd, sheriff of Wilts, at Merleberg, on Sunday next after the feast of the Exaltation of Holy Cross, 33 Edward I [1305], by the oath of John Ace, Robert de Lusteshulle, Richard Styne, William Grandyn, John de Chilton, Simon Was, John de Hardynton, Nicholas le Archer, James le Blak, Peter de Walecote, John le Frie, John de Colemede, Robert Rossel, and Roger Busshope, to enquire if it be to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to Amicia de la Riviere that she may give and grant the manor of Hampton Turvile, which is held of the King in chief as it is said, to Richard de la Riviere: to hold to him and his heirs of the King and his heirs by the services thereof due and accustomed for ever, or not, who say that

It is not to the damage of the King or others if he should grant to Amicia de la Riviere that she may give the manor of Hampton Turvile to Richard de la Riviere: to hold to him and his heirs of the King and his heirs by the said services, because the said Amicia held the said manor in fee of the King: which said manor she demised to Richard de la Riviere for the term of his life, so that after the deaths of the said Richard and Amicia it ought to descend to John de la Riviere, as son and heir of the said Amicia, after whose death the King will lose the custody and marriage of the heir of the said John, being within age: which said John holds lands and tenements of other lords, and not of the King, to the value of £100. The said manor is held in chief of the King, and not of any other, by the service of half a knight's fee, and is worth per annum, clear, £10. No lands or tenements remain to the said Amicia besides the said gift and grant.

The Abbot and Convent of Hide next Winton.

Inquisition taken before the escheator at Chiseldene, 18th July, 34 Edward I [1306], by the oath of John Jonkin, John son of William, William de la More, John de Ponte, Henry le Saucer, Elias Bide, Thomas Digon, Walter le Jonge, Nicholas Parfet, Walter Styve, William Godard, and Roger de Thornhull, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King should grant to the Abbot and Convent of Hide next Winton that they may have again and hold to them and their successors for ever one messuage, 2 virgates of land, one acre of wood, and 2s. of rent in Chiseldene, which they acquired to themselves in fee of Agnes de Cardeville, without the licence of the King, after the statute published concerning lands and tenements not to be put to mortmain.

The said messuage, land, wood, and rent are held of the Abbot of Hide by the service of 15s. 10d. per annum, and are worth per annum, clear, 31s. There is no other mean between the King and the said Agnes except the said Abbot. No lands or tenements remain to the said Agnes besides the said gift and assignment.

The Abbot of Tewkesbury and John de Sancto Amando.

Pleas at Westminster before R. de Hengham and his fellows, justices of the Bench, of the term of Holy Trinity, 34 Edward I [1306].

The jury come to recognize whether one messuage and 2 carucates of land in Asshton next Cryckelade are free alms belonging to the church of Asshton next Cryckelade, whereof the Abbot of Tewkesbury is parson, or the lay fee of John de Sancto Amando, whom Alianora, wife of Robert de Keynes, who elsewhere by default of the said Robert de Keynes was admitted to defend her right of the said tenements, called to warranty, and who warranted her, and thereupon says that a certain Gerard, sometime Abbot, predecessor, etc., was seised of the said tenements as of the right of his said church in the time of peace, in the time of the lord King Richard, kinsman of the now King, who in the same time alienated those tenements, etc. And John by his attorney comes, and elsewhere calls thereof to warranty the said Robert de Kaynes, who now comes by his attorney and warrants him, and says nothing why the jury should remain to be taken, except only because the said tenements are not free alms, etc., but a lay fee, etc., therefore let the jury be taken, but it is respited until the day of St. Martin in 15 days, unless Peter Malorr first, etc., for default of the jury because none came. Therefore the sheriff shall have their bodies, etc. Afterwards, the process being continued up to the day of St. Martin in 15 days, 34 Edward I [1305], the parties came by their attorneys, and Peter Malorr, before whom, etc., and he sent the record of the verdict of the said jury here in these words. Afterwards, before P. Malorr, at Devizes, there being associated with him William Harden, knight, on Monday next before the feast of St. Bartholomew the Apostle, in the 24th year of the now King, came the said Abbot and the said Robert by their attorneys, and likewise the jury chosen by consent of the parties, who say that

The said message and 2 carucates of land are free alms belonging to the church of Asshton next Cryckelade, whereof the said Abbot is parson, and not the lay fee of Robert de Keynes, and that Gerard, formerly Abbot of Tewkesbury, predecessor of the now Abbot, was seised of the said tenements as in right of his church of Asshton next Cryckelade, in the time of King Richard, who at that time alienated those tenements to a certain Walter de Wyke and Idonia his wife. And because there is presumption of collusion before arranged against the statute of the King, etc., for that the said Robert in pleading said nothing why the jury should remain, it is asked of the jury if there be any collusion prearranged between the said now Abbot and the said Robert, or any of the other tenants of the said tenements against the statutes of the King, lest the lands or tenements, etc. They say no. Therefore it is considered that the said Abbot shall recover his seisin thereof against the said Robert and Alianora, and the said Alianora shall have of the land of the said John to the value of the said tenements, and the said John shall have of the land of the said Robert de Keynes to the value of the said tenements. And the said Robert in mercy.

The Abbess of Shafton.

Inquisition taken at Marloberg before the King's escheator, 28 June, 35, Edward I [1307], to inquire if it be to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to the Abbess of Shafton that she may have again and hold to her and her successors 2 virgates of land in Medebirn of his fee which she acquired to herself and her house of William Giffard, after the publication of our statute concerning lands and tenements not to be put to mortmain, without having obtained our licence thereupon, or not, etc., etc., by the oath of John de Chilton, John Russel, John son of William, John Attebrigg, Roger de Thornhulle, William Pluk, Elias Pride (?), Henry Saucer, Thomas Digon, John Attemulle, John Toky, and John Willok, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to the Abbess of Shafton that she may have again and hold to herself and her house for ever those 2 virgates of land in Medeborne which she acquired to herself and her house after the publication of the said statute; which 2 virgates are held of the said Abbess in chief by the service of 8s. per annum, by the service of carrying the hay for one day to the court of the said Abbess in the town of Ludynton, and by the service of carrying the hay for one day to the court of the said Abbess in the said town, and by the service of carrying the corn for 2 days to the court of the said Abbess in the said town, and by the service of ploughing 4 acres at the winter sowing in the said town. Each day's work of carrying is worth 4*d.*, and the ploughing of one acre is worth 4*d.* The said 2 virgates are worth per annum beyond the said rents and service 10s. 4*d.* clear. The said Abbess is the mean between the said William and the lord the King, and no other. No lands or tenements remain to the said William beyond the said 2 virgates of land which the said Abbess acquired. The said William during the time that he held the said land did suit for that land to the King's hundred of Tornhulle, and when he did so he gave to be released from that suit 12*d.* per annum. The county by reason of the acquisition of the said land through the default of the said William, will not be charged with a larger payment, because the said William was never wont to be put on assizes, juries, or recognizances when he held the said 2 virgates.

William Paynel and Margaret his wife.

Inquisition taken before the King's escheator at Lyttleton Paynel, 3rd May, 35 Edward I [1307], to inquire if it be to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to William Paynel that he may enfeoff John de Hegham, parson of the church of Helpstone, and John Loveday, of his manor of Lyttleton, which is held of the King in chief, as it is said, to hold to them and their heirs of the King and his heirs, by the services therefor due and accustomed for ever, so that the said John and John, having full and peaceable seisin thereof, may re-enfeoff the said William and Margaret his wife of the said manor, to hold to them and the heirs of the said King and his heirs by the said services for ever, or not, etc., etc., by the oath of Richard Enok, Geoffrey le Clerk, William de Perham, John de Perham, William

Gule, Richard le Eyr, Geoffrey Moryz, Ralph de la Berne, Richard le Chaundelyr, William le Clerk, William Carpenter, and John le Fogheler, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to William Paynel that he may enfeoff the said John de Heggham and John Loveday of his said manor of Lyttletone, to hold to them and their heirs for ever, so that they, having full seisin thereof, may re-enfeoff the said William and Margaret his wife of the said manor, to hold to them and the heirs of the said William for ever. The said manor is held of the King in chief by the service of one knight's fee, making yearly for himself and his tenants of the said manor the ward of the castle of Dyvyses for the service of the said knight's fee, or paying every year for himself and his said tenants 20s. at the feast of St. Michael, and it is worth per annum, clear, £15. There remains to the said William, beyond the said gift and grant, one carucate of land at Knyghtetone in co. Wilts, which is held of Henry Husee by the service of the fourth part of one knight's fee, and is worth per annum, clear, £10.

Chan. Inq. a.q.d., 35 Edward I, File 64, No. 20.

Edmund Basset.

Inquisition taken before the King's escheator at Wylton, 17th January, 35 Edward I [1307], to inquire if it be to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to Edmund Basset that he may retain and have to him and his heirs of the King and his heirs, by the services therefor due and accustomed for ever, the manor of Berewyk St. James, in co. Wilts, which is held of the King in chief, as it is said, and which he acquired to himself in the fee of Henry de Lancaster without the licence of the lord the King, or not, etc., etc., by the oath of Ralph Atte Halle, Adam Bertelot, John de Bakham, John de Lye, Thomas Daubeneye, Hugh Hendyman, John de Harleston, Walter Perfet, John Kyngman, John de Brademere, jun., Robert Symme, and John Codyn, who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to the said Edmund that he may retain and have to him and his heirs of the King and his heirs by the said services the manor aforesaid. The said manor is held of the King in chief as a member of the barony of Kynenaesford, which said barony the said Henry de Lancaster holds of the King in chief of the inheritance of his wife, but by what service the jurors know not.

There is there a certain capital messuage with a garden, which are worth per annum 2s.; also a dovecote, which is worth per annum 5s. There are there 24 acres of land, which are worth per annum 8s., price of each acre 4d.; also 100 acres of superior [prioris] land, which are worth per annum 16s. 8d., price of each acre 2d.; also 8 acres of meadow, which are worth per annum 12s., price of each acre 18d. There is there a certain pasture several between Easter and the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, which is worth for the said time 6s. 8d. Sum of the said demesnes, 50s. 4d.

There is there a certain Alan de Shadewell, who holds freely 3½ virgates of land, and pays per annum 13s. 4d., viz. at the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, for all services. The said Alan and Laurencia his wife hold there one windmill for the term of their lives, and they pay per annum 30s. at the 4 principal terms of the year by equal portions. There are there 18 half-virgators, who pay per annum 72s. at the said terms. And each of the said virgators shall give at the feast of St. Martin one cock and 3 hens, or 4d. for the same. There are there 2 cottars, who pay per annum 4s. at the said terms.

Sum, £6 5s. 4d., and so the said manor is worth per annum, clear, £8 15s. 8d.

Chan. Inq. a.q.d., 35 Edward I, File 65, No. 1.

Robert, son of Robert Russel.

Inquisition taken before Master John Gerberd, sheriff of Wilts, at Kingbr', on Thursday next after the feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul, 35 Edward I [1307], by the oath of William de Wadeford, William Grandyn, Richard Styve, John Edmund, John Brian, John atte Brigge, William atte Nende, Nicholas Parfay, John Molendinar', Nicholas Rochel, John Whytloc, and Nicholas Opehull, to inquire if it be to the damage or prejudice of the lord the King or others if the King shall grant to Robert, son of Robert Russel, that he may give and assign to the Prior and convent of Bradnestok one messuage and one carucate of land in Westocham in exchange for one messuage and one carucate of land in Lydyerd Mylycent, to hold to them and their successors for ever, or not, etc., etc., who say that

It is not to the damage or prejudice of the King or others if the King shall grant to Robert, son of Robert Russel, that he may give and assign to the Prior and convent of Bradenestoke one messuage and one carucate of land in Westocham in exchange for one messuage and one carucate of land in Lydyerd Mylycent, to hold to them and their successors for ever.

The said messuage and land in Westocham are held of the said Prior and convent of Bradenestoke by the service of 2*d.* per annum, and are worth per annum, clear, 18*s.* 6*d.* There are two means between the King and the said Robert of the said messuage and land, viz., the said Prior of Bradenestoke and Edmund de Mortuo Mari, and the said Edmund [holds] of the King in chief. The messuages and lands which remain to the said Robert Russel, beyond the said gift and assignment, are worth per annum 33*s.* 4*d.*, and they suffice to do the customs and services as well for the said premises in Westocham so given as for the other lands retained, and for all other charges which he sustained or was wont to sustain as in suits, views of frankpledge, aids, tallage, vigils, fines, redemptions, contributions, and other charges whatsoever. The said Robert may be put on assizes, juries, and other recognisances whatsoever as he was wont to be put before the said gift. The county by the said gift, by the default of the said Robert, will not be charged with a larger payment.

Inquisition taken at Kerewardeston before the King's escheator, 21st March, 2 Edward II [1309], by the oath of William Waryn, Richard Geruays, John Kepenhull, Thomas Boneclyve, John Homb, Geoffrey Hoppegras, John Grigg, John Chanyn, Geoffrey Savage, Stephen de Perham, Walter Giffard, and Walter Dun, who say that John de Forstebury held of the King in chief on the day that he died one messuage and 4 virgates of land in Westgrafstone by the service of 10s., to be paid yearly at the castle of Marlborough, viz. at the feasts of Pentecost and St. Michael, by equal portions, and keeping a certain grove of the lord the King, which is called Suthgrove, in the forest of Savernake, and the said messuage and land are worth per annum, clear, 23s. 4d., and are in the King's hand by reason of the minority of Peter, son of the said John de Forstebury, and for no other cause.

The said Peter is the next heir of the said John de Forstebury, and on the feast of St. Kalixtus last past was aged 22 years.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 2 Edward II, No. 44.

John de Forstebury.

PROOF of age of Peter, son and heir of John de Forstebury, deceased, who held of the lord King Edward, father of the now King, in chief, taken at Forstebury before the King's escheator, 22nd December, 2 Edward II [1308], by the oaths underwritten.

William de Lyllebon, knight, aged 50 years, being sworn and diligently examined as to the age of the said Peter, says that he was aged 22 years in the feast of St. Laurence the Martyr last past, and he knows that he was born at Forstebury in the said feast in the 14th year of the reign of the lord King E., father of the now King, and was baptized in the church of St. Michael at Schaldeborne on the morrow of the said feast, and this he knows because in the said feast the said John de Forstebury came to Middelton to the house of the said William, and asked him to be godfather to the said Peter, and this he did not agree to because of the solemnization of the nuptials to be celebrated on the morrow of the said feast between the mother of the said William and Stephen de Briimerestone at Middelton; and the said John de Forstebury asked him to bear witness of the day and year of the birth of the said heir, and the said William immediately caused to be written on the wall of his hall the day and year of the birth of the said heir, and by this he knows that such time has elapsed.

John le Dun, knight, aged 57 years, Nicholas de la Mare, aged 60 years, William le Chamberleyn, aged 46, Adam de Remmesbury, aged 60 years, John Homedieu, aged 67, William Waryn, aged 40, Peter Olyver, aged 50, William Bacon, aged 48, John Frankelayn, aged 60, Stephen de Perham, aged 46, and John Grygge, aged 60, say that the said heir was aged 22 years on the feast of St. Laurence the Martyr last past, and was born at Forstebury in the said feast, 14 Edward I [1286], and baptized at Shaldeborne on the morrow of the said feast; and this they know because the said John de Forstebury after the month of the said feast held a certain feast [convivium] at Westforstebury for the purification of the mother of the said heir, on which day the said John, Nicholas, and others were present, together with other neighbours, and were asked to bear witness to the day and year of the birth of the said heir when he should come to his full age.

And it was made known by Peter Olyver and John Kerenhulle at Burstach cum Bedewynde to Joan, who was the wife of Robert Homedieu, Nicholas de Caperygg, Stephen de Waleran, and John Homedieu, executors of the will of Robert Homedieu, that they should be present at this proof of age to show if they had heard or had anything to say why the lands and tenements which were of his inheritance should not be given to the said heir, which said Joan, Nicholas de Caperygg, and Stephen de Waleran came, but the said John Homedieu was not at the said proof, but said that he knew nothing against the said heir, why the lands and tenements which were of his inheritance should not be given to him.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 2 Edward II, No. 44.

Robert de la Mare.

Inquisition of the lands and tenements which were of Robert de la Mare made before the King's escheator at Stupellavyngton, 6th November, 2 Edward II [1308], by the oath of Geoffrey Clericus, John le Frend, John Hervy, Robert Gilbert, Richard le Eyr, Ralph de la Berne, Geoffrey Moriz, William Clerik, John de Berham, John de Littelton, Richard Simok, and William Carpenter, who say that

Robert de la Mare on the day that he died held in his demesne as of fee the manor of Stupellavynton of the King in chief by the service of half a knight's fee and being in the fortification of the castle of Devizes for 40 days at his own costs in the time of war: which said service at the castle is arrented at 20s. yearly, to be paid at the said castle. There is there one messuage with a curtilage, and they are worth per annum 4s.; also one garden which contains $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land, and is worth per annum, with the herbage and fruit, 3s. There are there 200 acres of arable land, whereof 60 acres are worth per annum 20s., price of the acre 4d., and 140 acres are worth per annum, with the pasture of the sheep, 35s., price of the acre 3d. There are there 5 acres of meadow which are worth per annum 12s. 6d., price of the acre 2s. 6d. There is here a certain pasture in common for 12 oxen, and it is worth per annum 2s.; also a wood in severalty containing 4 acres, and the pasture of that wood is worth per annum, with pannage, 2s. Sum, 78s. 6d.

There are there 8 free tenants who pay per annum 29s. 10d. at the 4 principal terms by equal portions, 2 of whom pay further at the feast of the Nativity of the Lord 2 lbs. of pepper, price 2s.; also 2 tenants who pay per annum at the term of Easter, 18d.; also 5 virgators, natives, each of whom holds 22 acres, and pays per annum in services and customs 8s. at the said terms; also 7 half-virgators, each of whom holds 11 acres, and pays per annum 4s. at the said terms. There is there one native who holds one cottage and one mill and pays per annum 12s. at the said terms. There are there 10 cottars, each of whom holds one cottage with a curtilage at the will of the lord, and pays per annum 18d. at the said terms; also 8 natives, each of whom pays at the Nativity of the Lord 4d. Sum £6 11s. with the pepper.

Sum-total, £10 9s. 6d., subtracting therefrom the reprise of 20s., to be paid at the said castle in the feast of St. Michael, and so the value is clear £9 9s. 6d.

Peter de la Mare, son of the said Robert, is his next heir, and was aged 14 years at the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Mary last past.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 2 Edward II, No. 68.

Robert de la Mare.

Inquisition of the lands and tenements which were of Robert de la Mare made before the King's escheator at Cnabwell, 7th November, 2 Edward II [1308], by the oath of John Huberd, John de Cerne, John le Marescal, Richard de Sterkele, Henry Vygger, William de Wyke, John Ace, William de Stokes, William le Here, Walter Bennyleyn, John Luddok, and John le Hammysch, who say that Robert de la Mare on the day that he died held certain tenements in Cnabwell of the Earl of Lincoln by the service of half a knight's fee, doing for the same common suit at the court of the said Earl in the manor of Troubrig. There is there a certain messuage with a curtilage, and one croft containing half an acre of land, which are worth per annum 4s. There are there 48 acres of arable land which are worth per annum 12s., price of the acre 3d. There is there 1 acre of meadow lying in common, and it is worth per annum 2s.; also the pasture in common for 4 oxen, which is worth per annum 2s. There are there 4 free tenants who pay per annum 5½d. at the feast of St. Augustine. Sum, 20s. 5½d.

The said Robert also held in the said manor 12 acres of arable land of John de Segre by the service of 12d. of yearly rent, to be paid at the 4 terms of the year by equal portions: the said 12 acres are worth per annum 3s., price of the acre 3d. Sum, 3s.

There are in the King's hand of the inheritance of John Walraund, lately deceased, tenements in Fyflyde Verdoyn next Stipellavyntone of the which Robert Walraund, uncle of the said John, was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day that he died: the said tenements are held of the Earl of Arundel by the service of half a knight's fee.

There is there a capital messuage with a curtilage which are worth per annum 5s.; also a dovecote, and it is worth per annum 5s: sum, 10s. There are there of arable land in the field which is called Westfelde, by the perch of 16½ feet, 148 acres, and in Estfelde 128½ acres; also in a certain croft which is called Nyweme 9 acres, and each acre is worth per annum 4d: sum, £4 13s. 6d. Also of meadow that can be mown 9 acres, and there is common pasture thereof after the hay is carried until the Purification of the Blessed Mary, and each acre is worth by the year 12d.: sum, 9s. There is there of pasture in the moor half an acre, and it is several and is worth per annum 6d. There is there a pasture which is called Fermbrech, in the which William de Peram shall have 5 oxen and one plough-horse, William de Stoke 6 oxen and one plough-horse, Reginald atte Putte 4 oxen and one plough-horse, and Thomas Albred one cow in the pasture with the lord's oxen. There is there a pasture which is called Smalemerh Thornes and on Rouchedon, in the which the said W. de Perham, William de Stoke, Reginald Atte putte, and Thomas Albred shall have their said beasts with the lord's oxen between Hockday until they are put into the stables, and they may maintain in the said pasture 16 of the lord's oxen, and the pasture of each is worth 5d., and besides the sustentation of the said beasts that pasture is worth per annum 10s. The said William de Peram shall have in the said pastures 62 sheep, William de Stoke 62 sheep, Roger atte Putte 31 sheep, and Thomas Albred 7 sheep.

All the customars of the manor shall have in the said pastures all the sheep which and when they shall be in the lord's fold, and they shall give the 10th sheep which they shall have in the lord's fold, and if they cannot fill the lord's fold with their own sheep the bailiff or reeve shall search for foreign ones, and then he shall take for each sheep at Hokeday ½d. And there were this year of sheep forthcoming of the tithe of the customars 27 at Hokeday, price of each 12d. There is there a certain pasture which is called La Heye which is arented to the customars of the vill for 2s. per annum in the feast of St. Michael. There may be maintained in the said pastures to fill the lord's fold 300 sheep. Sum of the said pastures and sheep, 46s. 2d. The manure of the beasts pasturing upon Rouchedon is worth one year with another 12d. The bracken [fugera] in the pastures in divers places is worth per annum 2s. There is there one wood containing almost one acre, in the which there is no herbage, the profit whereof is worth per annum 6d. Sum, 3s. 6d. There is there of rent of assize of free tenants 1 lb. of wax at the feast of Easter and 3 lbs. of wax at the feast of Pentecost, price of the pound 6d.; also 14s. of rent of assize to be paid at the Nativity of the Lord, the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and the feast of St. Michael by equal portions.

There are there 17 customars each of whom holds 10 acres of land and pays per annum 5s. at 4 terms of the year, viz., at Christmas 12d., at Easter 12d., at Midsummer 12d., and at Michaelmas 2s.; also 5 lesser [minores] customars and cottars who pay per annum 11s. at the said terms. Sum-total of the rents, 112s. Each of the said customars shall give at the feast of St. Martin 3 hens and one cock, price of each 1d., sum 5s. 8d., and shall do each week between the feast of St. Michael and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, if the lord shall wish, 6 works, except festival days on which they ought not to work, and they ought to do by the day one work or to thresh one bz. of wheat, or rye, or barley, or beans, or peas, or 2 bz. of oats of measure heaped up for one work, and for every 6 works which he shall do in the time aforesaid there ought to be allowed him 1d. of his rent. And if they shall not do the works, then he shall give nothing except only his rent, and so those works are not extended. Also each of them shall do each week between the Nativity of St. John the Baptist and the feast of St. Michael, if the lord will, 6 works. He shall mow 2 "swathz" in the meadow, which is called Suthemerh, for one work until all the meadow shall be mown; and he shall reap for 2 days in Radgaresmede for 2 works; and he ought to mow for one day in the meadow called Bischepessedich for one work allowed to him. And be it known that on the said 3 days they shall only mow from the rising of the sun until the third hour. And they ought to carry the hay for the works allowed them; and on the day that he shall carry he shall have of the lord his breakfast, viz. bread and ale, and at the ninth hour he shall have his food, so that he may have bread, and he with his fellows shall have one dish of meat or peas and half a gallon of ale; and when the meadow shall be mown he and his fellows shall have of the lord one sheep or 12d. and 2 bz. of wheat. And he shall lift, bind, and help over half an acre of whatsoever kind of grain it may be for one work, and for each half-acre which he shall lift he shall have the 20th sheaf. And after the Autumn is finished he shall do what he shall be commanded for one work for half a day, and for carrying the corn until it shall all be carried, and in the Autumn in taking of food as above, and each day that he shall carry he shall have of the lord instead of his supper one sheaf of corn which he shall have carried, and for every 6 works which he shall do there shall be allowed him 1*d.* of his rent; and if he shall not do those works, he shall give nothing for the same, therefore they are not extended. Each of the said 17 customars ought to wash the sheep for one day, price of the work $\frac{1}{2}$ d., and to shear the sheep for one day, and that work is worth $\frac{1}{2}$ d., and he ought to carry 2 hurdles of the lord's fold from one field to another whenever it shall be necessary, and that custom is worth of each customar per annum 1*d.*

There are there 2 cottars, one of whom ought to scatter the grass of the whole meadow of the manor with the help of the servants of the court, and it is estimated that that custom can be made every year within 8 days, and he shall have his food once each day, and the work is worth by the day $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; and the other cottar ought to put the hay into cocks in the barton for one day, price of the work $\frac{1}{2}$ d.: sum, 3*s.* 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Each of the said 17 customars shall be reeve or farm bailiff if the lord will, and then he shall be quit of his rent and all customs, or shepherd, and then he shall be quit of his rent and customs, and shall have of the lord in the feast of St. Martin one ewe or 6*d.*; and if the lord shall have his own sheep, then he shall have one fleece of wool and one lamb going to the lord's fold upon his land for 15 days about the feast of St. Martin, and shall have one acre of the lord's land which is called Wexkyngakur and a certain piece of land which is called Hundhalve and 3 "lynches," and the said acre of land ought to be ploughed twice in the year with the lord's plough to be held or driven, and then he shall be quit of his rent and all his customs. And he ought to have the ploughing of 5 acres of the lord's land in the time of Winter and Lent, and 5 acres in the Summer lying fallow. And after his death the lord shall have the best beast that he shall have for a heriot; and he shall not marry his son or daughter out of the manor without license, neither shall he sell his horse or his ox without license. Each of the said 7 customars and cottars shall give of custom to the lord's larder at the feast of St. Martin 10*s.*: sum, 10*s.* And each of them shall give for each pig over one year which he shall have 1*d.*, and for each pig of half a year $\frac{1}{2}$ d., and the pannage was worth this year 4*d.* The pleas and perquisites of the court with fines for lands, reliefs, and heriots per annum, half a mark. Isabella Walrond.

Inquisition of the lands and tenements which were of Isabella, mother of John Walrond, made before the King's escheator 3rd April, 2 Edward II [1309], by the oath of Robert Gerberd, Philip Goion, Thomas Aucher, John Kutwyne, Thomas Weylond, Gilbert de Berwyk, Walter Chaumberlayn, Robert Alfrych, William de Wyty, John de Bacham, Hugh Sirman, and John de Lucy, who say that Isabella Walraund on the day that she died held in her demesne as of fee the manor of Yatesbury of the King in chief by the service of the moiety of a knight's fee. There is there a messuage with a curtilage and the herbage of the garden, and they are worth per annum 5s. There are there of arable land in the field which is called Estfelde 121½ acres, and in the field of [sic] Suthfelde 95½ acres, and they are worth per annum 54s. 3d., price of the acre 3d., also of meadow that can be mown 9½d., and the pasture thereof is common after the carrying of the hay until the Sunday next after the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Mary, and they are worth per annum 19s., price of the acre 2s. There is there a certain pasture which is called Northfeld, in the which John de Tavy, Robert de Barvyle, John de Somerford, Hugh de Craswell, Robert Alfrych, Richard de Gatesterste, and John de Colcestre ought to have common with all their beasts and to have ingress and egress with the beasts of the lord of this manor, and besides the maintenance of the said beasts. There may be pastured in the same one year with another 32 beasts, and the pasture of each beast between Hockday and the feast of St. Martin is worth 5d., whereof nevertheless the said John de Tavy and the others above-said may take the moiety against the lord of this manor, be it more or less. They may also maintain in the same pasture 16 of the lord's oxen, and the pasture of each is worth 5*d.* for the said time. And between the feast of St. Martin and the Purification of the Blessed Mary the said pasture is common for the sheep of the men of that manor. Also there is there pasture on Coulesko eruth (?), and it is several throughout the whole year, and it is worth per annum 12*d.* The tenants of the "succentors" of Sarum give of ancient custom to have common on Norylose at Hockday 3*s.* Whoever shall be common shepherd of the beasts pasturing on Norylose shall give for having his office per annum in the feast of St. Michael 2*s.* Sum of the pastures to the use of the lord, clear, 19*s.* 4*d.* There is there one windmill, and it is worth per annum one mark: sum, 13*s.* 4*d.* There is there of rent of assize of free tenants, viz., of John Tavey, per annum 20*s.* at the terms of the Nativity of the Lord, Easter, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael by equal portions; also the rent of Robert de Barvyle in the feast of St. Michael one pair of gilt spurs, price 6*d.*; also of the rent of Hugh de Garwell for a certain ditch at the Nativity of the Lord 4 capons, price 8*d.* Also of rent of customars and cottars per annum 41*s.* 2*d.* to be paid at the said 4 principal terms. Sum, 62*s.* 4*d.* And of the custom of customars in the feast of St. Martin of chersete 10 cocks, 30 hens, price per head 1*d.*: sum, 3*s.* 4*d.* There are there 8 customars, one of whom holds 21 acres of land and ought to mow the lord's meadow with one man for 3 days at the food of the lord twice in the day, and each one of 3 customars holds 10 acres of land, and each one of 4 customars holds one cottage, one acre of land, and shall mow the lord's meadow for one day at the food of the lord twice in the day, price of the work 1*d.* The said 8 customars ought to carry all the hay with the aid of 4 cottars, so that one of the said 8 customars shall find each day 3 men, and each of the 7 customars and 4 customars shall find one man to carry the hay until all shall be carried. And it is estimated that one year with another it may be carried in 3 days, price of the work $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Also 3 of the said cottars ought to scatter all the grass of $9\frac{1}{2}$ acres so that they may have for one day their food twice in the day of the lord, and that custom is worth $4\frac{3}{4}$ d. Also one of the said 8 customars ought to put the hay into cocks in the barton for one day with 3 men, and each of the 7 customars shall find one man for one day, and each of the 4 cottars shall find one man for one day to cock the hay in the barton with 2 repasts, price of the work $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Also one of the 8 customars shall carry 6 hurdles of the fold from one field to another once in the year, and each of the said 7 customars and 3 cottars shall carry 2 hurdles, and one cottar shall carry one hurdle from one field to another, and the carrying of two hurdles is worth $\frac{1}{4}d$. Each of the 9 cottars shall find one man from the ninth hour up to vespers each day to weed the lord's corn until all the corn of the manor shall be weeded, and it is estimated that it may be weeded in 3 half-days, price of the work $\frac{1}{4}d$. One of the said 8 customars ought to carry goods in a waggon [averare], so that he shall seek his victuals from the lord or the steward at 3 markets or more with his horse, and for each carrying that he shall do he shall have his food and hay for his horse while he shall be at his meal [commestum]. Each of the 3 customars ought to carry in the same way for the moiety, nevertheless each of them shall carry as often as it shall be necessary. Unless the lord shall be there or shall come or his steward they shall carry nothing, and none of them shall give anything for the same, so the works are not extended. Also each of the said 7 cottars ought to carry on foot, so that he shall carry the letters where he shall be commanded, so that he may return home that day, and if it shall happen to him to be benighted (or spend the night there), then he shall have of his lord his charges, and he need not do any other carrying, therefore it is put at one carrying, price $\frac{1}{2}d$. Sum, 4s. 8 $\frac{1}{4}d$.

Sum-total, £10 1s. 3 $\frac{1}{4}d$.

Proof of age of Thomas, son and heir of Warin Maudut.

Proof of age of Thomas, son and heir of Warin Maudut, deceased, who held of the King Edward, father of the now King in chief, taken at Wermenstre before the King's escheator 17th November, 2 Edward II [1308], by the oath of the under-written.

Peter son of Warin, knight, sexagenarian, sworn and examined as to the age of the said Thomas son of Warin, says that the said heir was aged 21 years on the feast of St. Kalixtus last past, and this he knows because the said heir was born at Mount Gomeri in the feast of St. Kalixtus, 15 Edward I [1287], and was baptized in the church there on the morrow of the said feast, and the said Warin, the father of the said heir, came to Wermenstre on the 15th day after the birth of the said heir, on which day he gave a banquet, at which the said Peter was present, and the said Warin asked the said Peter to bear witness to the day and year of the birth of the said heir when he should come to his full age, and by this he knows that so long a time has elapsed.

Robert de Lucy, knight, aged 60, Nicholas . . . aged 50, Nicholas Malmeyns, aged 70, William . . . aged 50, Robert Plukenet, of the same age, John de Bracton, aged 60, Reginald le Theyn, aged 60, Roger Marmion, of the same age, Elias Deverel, aged 50, Robert de Whiteclyve, aged 60, and Reginald Sewale, aged 70, say as above as to the age of the said heir. It was made known by John Botiler and Robert Maudut at Wermenistre to Robert son of Pagan, who has the custody of the lands and tenements of the said heir, that he should be present to show if he had or knew anything to say for himself why he should not deliver to the said heir the lands and tenements which are of his inheritance : which said Robert on the day given to him did not come.

The Abbot of St. George de Baskerville.

Edward, by the grace of God, etc., to John Walewayn, his escheator on this side the Trent.

We wishing to be certified as to the reason for taking the lands and tenements which were of the Abbot of St. George de Baskerville of Normandy in Wynterburne Daundeseye into our hands by you as it is said: We command you that you certify us without delay as to the said reason and true value of the said lands and tenements, returning to us this writ.

Witness ourself at Westminster 13th May, in the 9th year of our reign.

John Abel, late the escheator of the lord the King on this side the Trent, has certified me that he finds by inquisition made by virtue of his office that the Abbot of St. George de Baskerville in Normandy has a certain priory called Avesbury in co. Wilts, to which said priory there belong the manor of Avesbury and divers other lands, which are worth per annum about £20, and are held of the King in chief: which said abbey has been many times vacant, and the lord at the times of the vacancies did not have the custody thereof, on account of which I took those tenements into the hand of the King in the name of distress without taking anything thereof until anything else shall be entrusted to me therein.

Inquisition taken before the King's escheator at Chippeham, 20th August, 14 Edward II [1320], by the oath of John de Wroxhal, John de la Mare, John Kaylewey, Adam Harding, John le Clerk of Chippeham, Nicholas de Budeston, Nicholas Bubbe, Walter Willam, William Poyntz, Thomas Bulhide, John de Hulkebere, and Edward le Smyth, who say that Richard Crok held nothing of the King in chief on the day that he died, but he held in Haselbury in his demesne as of fee one messuage, the moiety of one carucate of land, 6s. of yearly rent, and 3 acres of wood of Sir Peter de Gavaston, then Earl of Cornwall, as of the honor of Walingford by the service of the twelfth part of a knight's fee; which said messuage, land, rent, and wood are worth per annum, clear, according to the true value thereof, 40s.

Richard Crok died 21st June, 3 Edward II [1309]. Reginald Crok is his son and next heir, and was then aged 16 years and 20 weeks, on account of whose minority the said Earl took the custody of the said premises into his hand, and that custody with the marriage of the said heir he sold to Isolda, who was the wife of the said Richard; but afterwards and after the death of the said Sir Peter de Gavaston a certain Alexander le Peyntour made known to the King that the said custody with the marriage ought to belong to him, suggesting that the said tenements were held of the King in chief, and the King gave that custody and marriage to the said Alexander by his letters patent, which said Alexander, coming to the parts of Haselbury, found that custody and marriage sold to the said Isolda in the form aforesaid, and he took nothing either of the said custody or marriage. Nevertheless, whereas it was commanded to the escheator on this side the Trent, by an extract out of the Chancery, to retake into the King's hand divers particulars given against the form of the ordinances, and the said custody with the marriage was contained in those extracts by reason of the grant made to Alexander le Peyntour by the King as is aforesaid, the said messuage, land, rent, and wood were taken into the King's hand and have remained in his hand up to this time.

The said Reginald Crok, son and heir of the said Richard, was aged 26 years and 28 weeks on the day that this inquisition was made.

Extent of the manor of Cuuele (Coubele), Wilts.

Extent of the manor of Cuuele, which belonged to Edmund late Earl of Arundel, made at Cuuele before Thomas de Luda [?], assigned by the King's writ to extend the said manor, on the morrow of the Epiphany, 20 Edward II [1327], by the oath of Roger de Coterygg', Thomas le Clerc, Walter de Edyndon, Elyas de Kyngeston, Roger Michel, Roger le Theyn, John le Frankelayn, Richard Michel, John Cotyn, William le Yonge, John Cunok [?], and John Oysel, who say that

There is there one chief messuage sufficiently built, which is not extended because it is of greater reprise than profit; the houses necessary for the Court there are ruinous, but the easements of the same are worth 3*s.* 4*d.* yearly. There are 2 gardens, the fruit and herbage of which are worth yearly 6*s.* 8*d.*; one dovecot worth 2*s.* yearly; 2 water-mills, which are ruinous, worth 5 marks yearly.

There are in demesne 217 acres of arable land, of which 126 acres are worth 12*d.* per acre yearly, and the rest 8*d.* per acre; total, £9 6*s.* 11*d.* There are 41 acres of meadow, which all the tenants of the manor have in common for their cattle after the hay has been carried away, each acre worth 2s.; total value thereof £4 2s. There are also two pieces of pasture, one called Oxenlese and the other Cowenlese, in which the lord has pasture for 60 of his own great cattle besides the cattle of other people, who have common there for a certain number, viz., in Oxenlese, 30 cattle, and the pasture of each is worth 12d., total 30s.; and in Cowenlese 30 cattle, and the pasture of each is worth 8d., total 20s. There is an outwood there, in which there is no underwood, nor any profit that can be valued, because the pasture and mast thereof are not sufficient for the cattle and pigs of the customary tenants, for which pasture, etc., the said tenants pay a certain rent, as appears below. And there is a certain small wood called "le Park," in which there is no profit but the underwood, which is worth yearly 3s. 4d. The windfalls of the whole wood are worth yearly 12d. Total, £20 os. 23d.

FREE TENANTS.

John de Wylynton holds the manor of Thormerton in co. Gloucester, and certain other tenements in Hechelhampton, Calston, and Paulesholte in co. Gloucester by the service of one knight's fee. William Kaynel holds certain tenements in Yatton by the service of one knight's fee, and owes suit. Adam Walraund holds certain tenements in Blountesdon by the service of half a knight's fee. William Musard holds in that manor one carucate of land by the service of $\frac{1}{4}$ and $\frac{1}{8}$ of a knight's fee. Total of the fees, $6\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{1}{4}$, and $\frac{1}{8}$. Roger de Bulkynton holds one carucate of land in the same manor by knight service, and pays 20s. yearly at Michaelmas, and 12d. to the scutage of 40s. when it runs. Thomas de Langeford holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate of land by knight's service, viz. 6d. to the scutage, and he owes suit. John Beneyl holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate in the same way. Roger Wyger holds two virgates by knight service, paying 12d. to the scutage; he owes suit. John de Kenele holds certain tenements freely, and pays 10s. yearly for all services. Roger le Harpour holds one virgate, and pays 5s. for all services, and owes suit. Simon Burel holds a certain tenement, and pays 3s. 4d. yearly for all services. John North, ditto. John de Bulkynton holds $\frac{1}{8}$ of $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate, and pays 3s. 4d. as above. Stephen de Okebourne holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate for his life, and pays 5s. for all services. Total of the rents of the free tenants, 50s.

CUSTOMARY TENANTS.

And there are 3 customary tenants there, each of whom holds one virgate of land, and pays 10s. yearly; and, for certain works which at one time they were accustomed to do, and were afterwards fixed at a certain sum in money, 7s. 2d., and at Martinmas by a certain custom called "Larderseluer," 2s. 6d. Total of the rents, works, and customs of the said customary tenants, 59s.

And there are 32 customary tenants, each of whom holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate of land, and pays 5s. yearly; and for certain works, etc. (as above), 3s. 7d.; and at Martinmas for "Larderselver" 15d. Total of the above rents, works, and customs, £15 14s.

And there are 20 customary tenants there, each of whom holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate, and pays 3s. 4d. yearly, and for works (as above) 2s. 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ d., and for "Larderselver" (as above) 10d. Total of such rents, etc., £6 10s. 10d.

And there are 2 customary tenants, each of whom holds $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate of land, and pays yearly 2s. 6d.; and for works (as above) 21d., and for "Larderselver" (as above) 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Total of such rents, etc., 9s. 10d.

And there are 24 cottars, each holding one cottage with a curtilage, and paying 2s. yearly; and 2 other cottars, each holding one cottage with a curtilage, and paying 12d. yearly. And each of the said cottars pays 4d. "Larderselver" at Martinmas. Total of such rents, etc., 58s. 8d.

Each of the said customary tenants and cottagers ought to common with all his great cattle in the outwood aforesaid, and gives for each great beast overcharged 1d., for other animals $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; and such commons are worth yearly 6s. 3d. And each ought to have pannage for his pigs therein, and gives for pannage or mast ([whether] there be any or not) by custom for each pig over a year old 1d., and for other $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Total, 9s. 5d.

The pleas and requisites of courts there are worth yearly 6s. 8d.

Each of the aforesaid customary tenants will be reeve, if the lord wills; if a customary tenant holding a virgate of land be reeve, he shall have an allowance of one half of his rent and works; if a customary tenant holding $\frac{1}{2}$ virgate be reeve, he shall have an allowance of the whole of his rent and works; and whoever shall be reeve shall receive every day from the feast of St. Peter Advincula to Michaelmas, viz., for 59 days 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d., and he shall have in the pasture with the lord's cattle as many great cattle as he can keep in Winter.

Roger le Harpour is the lord's reaper and woodward for term of his life, and will receive for the same office in this manor for his life every week one bushel of corn and one gown [yearly?] worth 16s. [?].

The constable of Devizes castle receives every year from this manor 20s. in aid of the guard of that castle.

The sheriff of Wilts receives yearly in like manner 20s. 8d. for certain assarts rented in this manor.

Sum-total of this extent, £52 14d., from which must be subtracted 40s. 8d. paid to the aforesaid castles of Devizes and Old Sarum [sic], and so the net value is £49 19s. [sic].

This manor is held of the King in chief by the service of 1½ knight's fee.

John de Ingham.

Inquisition taken before the King's escheator this side of Trent, 22nd April, 3 Edward II [1310], by the oath of Sir Thomas de St. Omer, Sir John de Grimstede, and Sir Stephen de Bristmerston, knights, Thomas Aucher, Nicholas de Wyly, Richard de Camera, William Mounle, Robert le Bor, Robert de Mucheldeuere, John Dalewene, Richard le Warnèr, John Hulou, Stephen Beauueyr, William Bruton, and Robert Russel, who say that John de Ingham, on the day he died, held of the King in chief in the county of Wilts two parts of a moiety of Westdeene, a moiety of Estgrimstede, a moiety of the vill of Stupellangford, and the vill of Estcodeford, by the service of one knight's fee.

There is at Westdeene and Estgrimstede one court with a courtyard, worth per annum 40d.; 93 acres of arable land, worth 1d. per acre; 2½ acres of meadow, worth 12d. per acre; 16 acres of wood, the profit whereof is worth 20d., and not more because there is no underwood. There is rent of free tenants, viz. of six free tenants, one of whom is Stephen le Tot, who holds the moiety of one messuage and 10 acres of land by homage and fealty, paying therefor yearly 20d. at the two terms of the year, viz. at the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Michael, in equal portions. Andrew le Fiere holds the moiety of one messuage [and] 16 acres of land by fealty, paying 20d. at the said terms. John Henry holds half an acre, paying 1d. per year. Guy le Chapman holds the moiety of a messuage and half an acre of land, paying 2s. 6d. Stephen le Fiere holds 20 acres of land, paying $\frac{1}{2}d.$ yearly at the said terms. Thomas Sture holds one courtyard, paying $\frac{1}{2}d.$ yearly at the said terms. There is the rent of 6 virgators, who hold in villeinage, each of whom pays at the said two terms 6s. 10d. Their works are worth, and are valued at, 41s., payable at the underwritten [sic] terms by ancient custom. The pleas and perquisites are worth 2s. per annum. Total, 105s. 3d.

They say that the said John held of the King at Stupellangford the moiety of one messuage, of one courtyard, and of one water-mill, worth 6s. 8d. yearly. There are 100 acres of arable land there, worth per annum 2d. per acre; 7 acres of meadow, worth 12d. per acre; the rent of free tenants, viz., of Ralph of the Mill, who holds the moiety of one messuage, of one virgate of land, and of one water-mill by fealty, paying 3s. per annum at the said terms; John Free holds the moiety of one messuage and 5 acres of land by fealty, paying 2s. yearly at the said terms; John the Smith holds one messuage and 2 acres of arable land, paying 4s. yearly. There are 6 half-virgators there and 2 cottars, who pay 2 marks yearly at the said terms. Item, for works between the Gule of August and the feast of St. Michael, 10s. The pleas and perquisites are worth 20d. per annum. Total, 78s. 8d.

They say that the said John held of the King at Codeford one messuage, one courtyard, worth 40d. per annum; there are 200 acres of arable land, worth per annum 3d. per acre; 10 acres of meadow, worth 12d. per acre; there are 7 free tenants, viz., Philip le Cok, who hold one messuage, 2 virgates of land, by fealty, paying 4s. at the said terms; John son of Isabel holds one messuage and half a virgate of land by fealty, paying 12d. per annum; William Gilemy holds one messuage and half a virgate of land, paying 2s. yearly; Thomas de Forde holds one messuage and 8 acres of land by fealty, paying one clove gilliflower at Michaelmas; John, son of Robert de Engham, holds one messuage and 8 acres of land by fealty, rendering one rose at the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist; Adam Cook (Cocus) holds one messuage and 10 acres, paying 6d. yearly at the feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael; John le Preuer holds one acre of meadow, paying 12d. at the said feasts. There are 10 customary tenants there, who hold half-virgates, and pay 30s. yearly at the said terms. For works between the Gule of August and Michaelmas, 13s. 4d. The pleas and perquisites are worth 40d. per annum. Total, 118s. 6d.

The said John held of the Bishop of Winchester certain tenements in Hampteworth for one knight's fee, viz. one messuage with a courtyard, worth 3s. per annum; there are 40 acres of arable land, worth 2d. per acre; 6 acres of meadow, worth 6d. per acre; 5 acres of wood, the profit of which is worth 12d. per annum, and not more because there is no underwood. There are 2 free tenants, viz., John de Grimstede, who holds one-third of one knight's fee by knight's service; Elizabeth, who was wife of John Elys, holds one messuage and 20 acres of land by fealty, paying 1d. at Michaelmas. There are 10 customary tenants, each of whom holds one messuage and 5 acres, and they pay in common 20s. yearly at the said terms. For Autumn works, 2s. Pleas and perquisites, 12d. Total, 36s. 9d.

Oliver de Ingham, son and next heir of the said John de Ingham, is aged 24.

Chan. Inq. p.m., 3 Edward II, No. 57.

Alexander Cheuerel.

Inquisition taken before the King's escheator this side of Trent, 8th November, 4 Edward II [1310], by the oath of Peter Clerk, John Foghelere, Geoffrey Moryn, Ralph atte Berne, William Gule, William de Aula, Henry de Woluemere, John Heruy, John de Bacham, Alexander Giffard, Peter Robyn, and Richard le Eyr, who say that CHEUREL.

Alexander Cheuerel was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day he died of the manor of Little Cheuerel, which manor is held in chief of H. de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, by the service of one knight's fee.

There is there one capital messuage, the easements whereof, with the profit of the garden, are worth 20s. per annum; there are on the hill there 414 acres of arable land, worth 103s. 5d. (3d. per acre); and in the marsh and sand 134 acres of arable land, worth 44s. 8d. (4d. per acre) per annum; 12 acres of meadow worth 24s.; pasture for 40 oxen, worth 26s. 8d. (8d. per head); pasture for 400 sheep, worth 33s. 4d. (1d. per head). There is one free tenant, who holds one messuage and half a virgate of land, and pays 17s. yearly in equal portions at the four principal terms. There are 6 customary tenants, each of whom holds half a virgate of land, and pays 5s. yearly. And each of them will work from the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist to the feast of St. Michael, and the work of each one is worth 5s. There are 7 customary tenants there, each of whom holds a quarter of a virgate, paying 40*d.* Item, the rents of cottars at the said terms 20*s.* in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites are worth one mark per annum. Total, £19 5*s.* 10*d.*

WYNTERBORNE SHEIRETONE.

The said Alexander was seised (as above) of £6 10*s.* of the rent of assize from free tenants in Sheireuetoñ at the four principal terms of the year. It is held in chief of the said Earl of Lincoln by knight's service. Total, £6 10*s.*

HARDENHYWISCH.

The said Alexander was seised (as above) of the manor of Hardenhiwisch, which is held of H. de Lancaster of the fee of Chawarz, by the service of half a knight's fee. There is a capital messuage there, worth, with the profit and easements of the houses, 5*s.* per annum. There are 132 acres of arable land, worth 33*s.* per annum (3*d.* per acre); 10 acres of meadow, worth 20*s.*; the rent of 7 bond tenants at the four principal terms of the year, 28*s.* 3*d.* in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites 3*s.* per annum.

The said Alexander held no other lands or tenements in my bailiwick on the day he died, except the lands and tenements contained in these inquisitions.

Joan, wife of John de St. Lo, is daughter and next heir of the said Alexander, and is aged 28 and more.
